SMASH U.S. CRIME: ROOSEVELT

FOES IN BALKANS AGREE ON PEACE; WAR PERIL ENDS

Serbia and Hungary Bow to League.

GENEVA, Dec. 10.—(AP)—War threats in central Europe were dissipated tonight when Jugo-Slavia and Hungary bowed to the league of nations, whose council unanimously adopted a resolution "deploring" the crimes at Marseilles.

The action of the two opposing nations in accepting the resolution was viewed as a league victory in the interests of peace. Central Europe had been threatened by war as a direct result of the assassination Oct. 9 of the Jugo-Slav king, Alexander.

Hungary, in diplomatic terms, is requested to take "punitive action against any authorities whose culpabilities have been established" and "communicate to the council the measures which it takes to this effect." This action was sought by Jugo-Slavia.

Obtain Official Approval.

Until the very last the diplomats' interest in the Jugo-Slav-Hungarian dispute was breathlessly maintained.

The Hungarian government got the final draft of the resolution for settlement of the issue by telephone late tonight. The council then suspended its session until Budapest deliberated.

Relief was expressed on all sides when the Hungarian representative received his urgent instructions:

"Vote for the resolution."

The diplomats said the resolution indicates a distinct triumph for conciliation and proves that statesmen may make concessions to the league when they might find it difficult to make them directly to governments. In this instance Jugo-Slavia was seen as getting adequate satisfaction, while Hungary's honor remains unsullied.

Punishment Demanded.

The British regard the agreement, sponsored by Capt. Anthony Eden, as showing the constructive value of Anglo-French coöperation.

The resolution insisted that all responsible for the killing of Alexander and Foreign Minister Louis Barthou of France be punished, recalled that it is the duty of every state neither to encourage nor tolerate in its territory "any terrorist activity with a political purpose," and that all nations must repress acts of this nature "and lend assistance to governments which request it."

The council took the view that the rules of international law concerning the repression of terrorist activity were not sufficiently precise to guarantee international coöperation in the matter. It decided to set up a committee of experts to study the question, the committee to be composed of 11 members. The committee includes Hungary, but not Jugo-Slavia.

Text of Resolution.

Following is the text of the resolution:

"The council desires that a good understanding upon which peace depends should exist between members of the league and expresses its confidence that they would avoid anything which might of its nature compromise it,

"Nothing that as a result of discussions which have taken place before the council and the documents which have been communicated to it, in particular the diplomatic correspondence exchanged between the Jugo-Slav and Hungarian governments from 1931 to 1934, various questions relative to the existence or activities outside the Jugo-Slav territory of terrorist elements have not been settled in a manner which has given satisfaction to the Jugo-Slav government,

Requests Punishment.

"And being of the opinion that as a result of these discussions and documents certain Hungarian authorities may have assumed, at any rate through negligence, certain responsibilities relative to acts having connection with the preparation of the crime at Marseilles,

"Considering on the other hand that it is incumbent upon the Hungarian government, conscious of its international responsibilities, to take at once appropriate punitive action in the case of any of its authorities whose culpabilities have been established,

"Convinced of the good will of the Hungarian government to perform this duty,

"Requests it to communicate to the council the measures which it takes to this effect.

"The council, considering the rules

Doctor Tells New York City of Quintuplets

New York, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Dr. A. R. Dafoe, the country doctor who delivered the Dionne quintuplets, was acclaimed tonight in historic Carnegie hall.

A roar of applause met the physician from the backwoods of Ontario as he appeared on the platform and bowed.

A moment later and there was dead silence from orchestra pit to top gallery as the Canadian began a lecture, his first in this country, on the case histories of the five babies from the time of their birth.

Tells of Emotional Side.

After discussing the technical medical aspect of the babies' birth, he turned to a consideration of "the emotional side of their stories."

Every soothsayer, astrologer, and promoter in the world, he thought, must have sent him letters during the last five months.

"A beauty specialist," he said, "recommended her beauty cream for removing wrinkles from premature babies; an herb doctor wrote to prescribe calfskin for preventing whooping cough; a prohibitionist criticized the use of rum as a medicine, saying it might be the means of starting the girls on their downward paths."

Hundreds of Mothers There.

Seated in the orchestra pit were hundreds of mothers from Park avenue to 1st avenue, from the Bronx to Coney Island; in the tiers of boxes sat physicians, dietitians, nurses, obstetricians; in the gallery were medical students and more of the general public.

Almost as many men as women came to hear the doctor tell of his struggle to keep the five children living. Never in his life had he addressed such a large gathering.

But the Canadian doctor was unperturbed and told his story in a simple and direct manner.

He'd Never Leave Them.

His audience gasped as he told of the rigors of existence in the country he came from, of families having as many as twenty children, of women resuming housework five days after the birth of a baby.

"They are happy, good people, living close to the earth," said the doctor.

"No inducement could persuade me ever to leave them."

Intimate details revealed by Dr. Dafoe included:

When the fifth baby was born he said "Gosh."

The babies had their first soap and water bath when they were 2 months old; before that they were swathed in oils.

The first week was a nightmare.

Fearing the mother would die, he dropped everything, walked two miles after a priest.

BRITISH FLYER DIVES INTO THAMES; LEAPS ABOARD PASSING TUG

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 10. — Hundreds of residents returning home from work got a thrill tonight when a small two seater airplane suddenly appeared out of the fog. The plane glided low over Lambeth palace, the residence of the archbishop of Canterbury, and splashed into the Thames near a passing tug.

As the plane sank the pilot scrambled out of the cockpit, crawled along the fuselage and leaped aboard the tug without even getting his socks wet.

The airman was Bartholomew Tongue, 17. He is attached to the Broxbourne airdrome in Essex and was flying from Cambridge to Broxbourne when he ran into the fog and headed for Croydon. But the plane's gasoline gave out over Lambeth palace, and he was faced with the problem of landing on the enbankment with the possibility of killing or injuring pedestrians, or coming down in the river.

Second Cavein Buries Man as Rescue Nears

BY HUGH CURRAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Dec. 11.—[Tuesday.]—Hopes of rescuing Joseph O'Leary alive from a caved-in 45 foot well were revived early this morning when soldiers, who were digging a slanting trench from the ground level toward the imprisoned man, reported evidence of life.

Shortly after midnight it was said O'Leary responded to tugs on ropes connecting him with the top of the well shaft. Rescuers redoubled their efforts after an earth slide at 2 a. m. filled part of their trench.

Rescuers Caught.

O'Leary went into the well at Kilgrade, near Greystones, County Wicklow, Saturday night. Crumbling rocks and earth buried him up to his neck and crushed his ladder against him. Forty-two hours later, at 2 p. m. yesterday, a second cave-in covered him.

Kilgrade citizens, digging a tunnel, were within a foot of O'Leary when the second slide crumbled their workings, too, and they had to be dragged to safety. The tunneling is believed responsible for the slide.

It was stated last night that citizens, firemen, police, and finally the army all had different plans for the rescue and could not agree. The military ultimately took complete control and, under flares and motor car headlights, worked feverishly.

Given Absolution.

O'Leary, a 32 year old workman, went into the farmyard well to strengthen the sides. His first cries brought citizens who were able to free his arms, drop him a rope, food, and stimulants.

Instruments were lowered to O'Leary to enable him to amputate his own leg and assist the rescue, but he could not. The parish priest at the brink gave him conditional absolution.

Tired of the terrible struggle, O'Leary said he wanted to sleep. Doctors insisted that he keep awake, sending him brandy. At one time a photographer asked permission to take a picture. O'Leary called back, "Not yet old man—I must shave."

NRA TEST CASE ON OIL IS BEFORE SUPREME COURT

Justices Question Attorneys.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—The petroleum code and the National Recovery act as they relate to the oil industry came close to being laughed out of the United States Supreme court today. The nine justices smiled with obvious amusement at gibes from counsel for the oil men and subjected the government's attorney to a barrage of incisive questioning which left him confounded.

The case, in which two Texas companies are seeking an injunction against the petroleum code, is the first Supreme court test of the NRA or any New Deal legislation, and is regarded as the most important suit involving the law of commerce since John Marshall wrote his Gibbons vs. Ogden opinion 110 years ago.

Chamber Is Packed.

For these reasons the small chamber formerly occupied by the senate was packed with members of the Supreme court bar, congressmen, and other curious spectators, but there was nothing of the atmosphere of solemnity which prevailed when Marshall and his colleagues were shaping the destiny of constitutional government. Veteran members of the bar remarked, as they departed, that they had confidently expected the learned justices to announce their decision orally and leave the bench in disgust.

The outbursts of laughter precipitated by F. W. Wisher, jovial Texan, who represents the oil men, was only one of the unusual aspects of the day's proceeding. There had been much speculation as to whether Mr. Justice Brandeis, in view of statements made by Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, would disqualify himself when NRA legislation came up for argument. The justice, according to Johnson's claims, had discussed the NRA with him throughout its formative period. Mr. Brandeis, however, sat with his associates and asked just as many embarrassing questions as they did.

Section Dead for Time.

Another extraordinary circumstance, brought out by Mr. Justice Stone, was the fact that the section of the code under which this suit was instituted was nonexistent at the time and did not come into existence until a year later. Assistant Attorney General Harold Stephens, representing Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes, admitted that the section had disappeared in September, 1933, "presumably by an inadvertence," and was not reinstated until September of 1934.

This raised the question whether the court would have jurisdiction, since without the section in question there would be nothing to enjoin, but counsel pointed out that they were attacking the NRA as well and the arguments continued.

The questions of the justices and their observations from the bench would indicate that they regard this National Recovery act as a strange experiment in constitutional government. Justice Stone remarked that it gave the President the right to determine "whether and when" oil produced in excess of state quotas should be kept out of interstate commerce.

Repeated Several Times.

He repeated this "whether and when" many times, indicating a belief that such discretionary powers never were contemplated by the constitution.

Chief Justice Hughes remarked that under the terms of the NRA the President was not even required to make a finding of fact that excess production should be kept out of interstate commerce, but that he might decide to keep it out for any reason or without any reason.

Justice Brandeis also took exception to the failure to require a finding of fact, pointing out that in similar cases relied upon by the government, particularly the grain futures act, congress itself had conducted an elaborate hearing and found that a given condition obtained.

Justice McReynolds, inquiring about the criminal penalties of six months in jail and a $1,000 fine, asked whether a man accused of such a violation could be punished without a hearing to determine whether the executive order was promulgated in accordance with the policy of the act.

No Provision for Hearing.

"There is no provision for such a hearing," replied Mr. Stephens.

Justice Brandeis wanted to know whether there was any official publica-

A freak snowstorm, which was swept in off Lake Michigan by high north winds and covered a limited area centering in Chicago with a foot deep blanket of white yesterday, caused a sombre tragedy that was relieved by the heartfelt willingness of a hundred men to give their blood to aid one who had been stricken.

The victim of the accident born of the storm is Patrolman Herbert Eckel, 32 years old, 2615 East 73d street, who underwent the amputations of both legs, crushed when he was caught between two motor vehicles while helping to carry a Negro woman, about to give birth to a baby, to the county hospital. The hundred who volunteered blood to be transfused into his veins are policemen of south side stations. Thirty of them marched into the Woodlawn hospital and silently offered their services less than an hour after Eckel was injured.

Victim Expected to Live.

One, Frank Houlihan of the Wabash avenue station, was chosen as donor. A pint of his blood was given to Eckel, and Dr. R. K. Packard and Dr. L. J. Brody performed the amputation. It was announced that the condition of the injured man was "as good as could be expected" and that it was probable he would live.

Eckel was on duty with the Wabash avenue station's patrol wagon, when the call came for help in the childbirth case. The wagon was sent to 6139 South Michigan avenue to carry the colored woman to the hospital. The patrol became stalled in the drifts at the curb and a second wagon, from the Hyde Park station, was summoned to carry out the mission.

When it arrived Eckel and Policeman William Maas went to its rear door and were taking out a stretcher when an automobile driven by Henry Klug, 46 years old, 3242 Normal boulevard, skidded in the snow and crashed into them. Maas was slightly injured and Eckel was crushed against the back of the patrol wagon.

Mission Is Carried Out.

The Hyde Park wagon was used to transport the injured men to the hospital. It then returned to the scene and its crew took the expectant mother to her destination.

The radio message: "Volunteers to give blood for an officer injured in an accident," was sent out and the policemen immediately deluged the hospital with offers of their help. Only Houlihan's blood was needed, but two others were tested and will donate blood if more is needed to save the life of Patrolman Eckel.

FOOT OF SNOW FALLS

The snowstorm, which surprised Chicago and the weather forecasters also, began in parts of the city before noon and continued with unabated intensity until about 7:30 last night. At 6:30 a total of 10.3 inches had been recorded at the University of Chicago and it was estimated the additional fall through the evening carried the total above one foot.

During most of the afternoon the fall was confined to a territory bounded on the north by Glencoe, on the south by Whiting and on the west by Elmhurst. In most of the west and south suburbs the blanket was light. About dusk the area was extended to take in Waukegan on the north and the southern end of Cook

SEEKS TO UNITE NATION IN BIG DRIVE FOR LAW

Sees Public as Not Sufficiently Roused.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt tonight called upon every man, woman, and child in the country to back a sustained campaign against crime. He spoke in Constitution hall before 600 delegates to a four day conference summoned by Attorney General Homer S. Cummings.

He listed as the first essential of a sustained campaign the construction with scientific care of a constantly improving administrative structure. This structure the delegates were asked to plan so that every crime preventing, law enforcing agency of every branch of government—federal, state, county, town, and city—would be tied together to work in unison.

The second purpose of the conference, as laid down by the President, is to interpret the problem of crime to the people of the country. Unless this is done, he said, an administrative structure, however perfect, will be ineffective.

Must Build Public Opinion.

"It is your positive duty to keep before the country the facts in regard to crime as a whole—great crimes, lesser crimes, and little crimes—to build up a body of public opinion," he said, "which, I regret to be compelled to say, is not in this day and age sufficiently alive to the situation in which we find ourselves.

"I want the backing of every man, every woman, and every adolescent child in every state in the United States and in every county of every state—their backing for what you and the officers of law and order are trying to accomplish."

The President declared that the drive on crime has been carried on with increasing effectiveness by federal, state, and local authorities. He paid tribute to the relentless and uncompromising forward movement of the department of justice against the lawless and criminal elements.

He saw as a bar to effectiveness in the past and a sustained drive in the future inadequate organization, unscientific administration, and lack of public support and understanding.

Bandits Often Better Equipped.

"In many instances, we may as well frankly admit," he continued, "bandits have been better equipped and better organized than the officials who are supposed to keep them in check. This is particularly true because of the lack of coördination between local agencies within the states.

"It is also contributed to in a serious measure by the lack of facilities for training skilled men for the work of detection, apprehension, and prosecution of accused persons, and by similar lack of facilities for study and supervision of certain types of criminals capable of rehabilitation."

The increasing scope and complexity of the problem of criminal law must be recognized, he said. The regulation of drug trafic, commerce in stolen goods, and the interstate character of crime generally were cited as examples against which primitive forms of enforcement are powerless.

He also held that common action all along the line from crime prevention to prosecution and on to punishment is vital.

Parole Sometimes Dangerous.

"Effective detection of criminals may be rendered useless by ineffective prosecution or by unintelligent judicial disposition," the President said. "Beneficent and promising procedure, such as probation and parole, may become actually sources of danger if ignorantly or indifferently administered. So, too, reliance on mere repression cannot take the place of intelligent training and guidance of youth.

"We have come to a time when our need is to discover more fully and to direct more fully and more purposefully into useful channels that greatest of all natural resources, the genius of the younger generation. Crime is a symptom of social disorder. Widespread increase in capacity to substitute order for disorder is the remedy."

To this purpose he urged the marshaling of the assets of home, school, church, community, and other social agencies.

Need Up to Date Methods.

"We deceive ourselves when we fail to realize that it is an inter-related problem of immense difficulty," he added. "Scientific research, highly trained personnel, expert service are just as necessary here as in any field of human endeavor. To the extent that we provide, instead, unscientific methods, poorly trained personnel, and hit or miss procedure, we may expect bungling, heartbreaking results."

The conference was called to order by Patrick J. Hurley, secretary of war in the Hoover administration. Another Hoover cabinet member, former Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, made an address immediately before President Roosevelt. The presence of the former cabinet members emphasized the nonpolitical aspect of the sessions.

Mr. Stimson traced the crime problem to the mental attitude of the nation toward violent crime and violent criminals. Not alone is the criminal glorified, but prosecutors glorify themselves at his expense, he said in pleading for the adoption of British justice, which he held to be effective not only because it is prompt and certain but because it is undramatic.

He declared our legal machinery is ineffective because it is dilatory, cumbersome, and subject to politics. It also has fallen behind the times and behind the criminals, he said.

Would Make U. S. Center.

Mr. Stimson urged that the federal department of justice, without extending its jurisdiction, become, with the coöperation of the states, a leader and a clearing house to offset the present advantages of the criminal. As such, he concluded, it would become the constant energizing force to keep the war on crime constantly alive.

The third speaker of the evening was Attorney General Cummings. He said he had summoned the delegates to consider every phase of the crime problem for the purpose of effecting a thorough drive on racketeers and criminals.

"It is amazing," he said, "that such a situation as now exists is possible at this stage of our civilization. When officers of the law are forced to engage in drawn battles on public highways, in railroad stations, and elsewhere armed with the desperate implements of modern warfare, we realize the danger which is involved and the menacing character of those who thus boldly defy the powers of our government.

Skilled Men Needed.

"Innate courage, trained intelligence, and professional skill of the highest order are necessary to meet this intolerable affront. It is our resolve that we shall do our part in stimulating a public opinion that, steadily mounting in determination, shall effect such a sweeping change in public psychology that all our people will come to look upon these representatives of the government as friends and protectors and heroes."

The next three days of the conference have been divided into nine sessions before which leading authorities on crime and law enforcers will discuss every phase of the crime problem.

YOUTH CATCHES ROBBER AFTER 3 HOLD UP STORE

A robber who had assisted in the holdup of four employés and several customers of the Zuckerman grocery and market at 2701 South Ogden avenue yesterday afternoon was pursued, fired on and captured by Henry Barthelt, 21 years old, 2708 West 15th street. The loot of the gunman and his two companions, who escaped, was recovered.

The bandits, displaying their pistols, forced the clerks and patrons to line up in the store. They took $380 from Irving Zuckerman, one of the owners, and $9 from Barthelt, employed by the grocery as a truck driver.

Leaving the store, the robbers became alarmed when they saw West Park Policeman Carmen Defily approaching. All fled, with Defily and Barthelt, who had armed himself with a pistol, in pursuit. Despite the fire of the fugitives, Barthelt caught his man in an alley and made him give up. He is Brore Johnson, 721 North Clark street. The stolen money was in his pockets. Zuckerman also caught one of the robbers, but this man wrestled himself free after he had been disarmed. It was reported that this fugitive was wounded in the right leg.

Mrs. Charles H. Wacker's Home Looted by Burglars

Mrs. Charles H. Wacker, widow of the capitalist and philanthropist for whom Wacker drive was named, reported to the Hudson avenue police yesterday that burglars had looted her apartment at 2340 Commonwealth avenue. Clothing and jewels valued at $1,475 were taken some time Sunday night while she was visiting friends, Mrs. Wacker said. The thieves gained entrance by forcing the front door lock.

Dentist's Home Looted; Loses His Silverware

Dr. Arthur G. Lyle, 444 Surf street, a dentist, reported to the police last night that burglars had entered his home and stolen silverware valued at $300. The thieves had entered by forcing the front door of his apartment, Dr. Lyle said.

CHICAGO TO GET THIRD FEDERAL HOUSING UNIT

Total Cost of Projects to Be 32 Millions.

BY AL CHASE.

With the official announcement of Chicago's third federal housing project it was disclosed yesterday that this city is to get a total of 32 million dollars instead of the original 25 million dollars allocated. Chicago will get 21 1-3 per cent of the entire 150 million dollars the PWA has earmarked for slum clearance throughout the nation. This is by far the largest amount of federal cash for housing projects set aside for any American city.

The third of Chicago's federal projects, announced unofficially last month, will cost $12,500,000 and will occupy a 98 acre site on the north side. It will be bounded on the north by Blackhawk street, on the west by Ogden avenue and the alley between Burling street and Halsted street, on the south by Division street, and on the east by Hudson avenue and Sedgwick street. The Marshall Field Garden apartments will be just outside the area at its northeast corner.

May Affect Private Rents.

The north side federal project marks the first time one of the PWA projects has been located beside a private development. PWA officials said it is not their intention to compete with private enterprise, but to join in enhancing a "blighted area." They considered it possible, however, that the project may force lower rentals in the Marshall Field apartments.

Preference will be given to small homes, with only a portion of the area improved with two, three, and four story apartments. Accommodations for 2,500 families will be provided. The district now contains approximately 9,000 people, 50 per cent of whom are Italian, 25 per cent German, and 25 per cent Polish.

Condemnation proceedings were filed yesterday before Judge William H. Holly in the United States District court by Frederick Z. Marx, special attorney for the department of justice. Fifteen thousand defendants were named in nineteen suits.

Use 30 Per Cent of Land.

As in the west and south side federal housing projects only 30 per cent of the land will be occupied with the apartment buildings and single family dwellings, the balance to be used for parks and recreational space. The area already has Stanton park, a seven acre playground. Olivet institute occupies a four acre tract, which will not be included in the development.

Mr. Ickes, as he did in announcing the west and south side projects, yesterday sounded a warning that "if land prices should prove too high to permit erection of such housing, proceedings will be withdrawn and the project moved elsewhere."

"Every property owner involved will be given full opportunity voluntarily to sell his land to the government out of court, and a just and fair market price will be allowed for each parcel," said F. J. C. Dresser, Chicago administrator for the housing division of the PWA, and in charge of all three projects here.

How Site Will Be Acquired.

Procedure in securing the site will follow that used on the other Chicago federal housing projects. The steps will be:

1. Owners having property in the condemned area will be free to execute options for their property at a fair market value immediately.
2. Owners resisting sale may do so in court, where a fair price will be found by jury.
3. When sufficient options have been received, the government will file a "declaration of taking," vesting title to the site in the United States.
4. The government then will deposit funds with the court for payment of those parcels being taken by condemnation, and at the same time will exercise its voluntary options, paying in cash.
5. When a jury has determined fair value, and the decision is accepted, the court will arrange payment.
6. Final judgment will be entered by the court in every case whether a voluntary contract is signed or not.

Approximately 700 parcels are involved in the site for the north side project. It was incorrectly reported from Washington several weeks ago that the site was bounded on the north by North avenue and on the west by Halsted street.

With the two previously announced Chicago projects, the PWA program to date contemplates homes for 6,900 families. The first project, known as the southwest project, will provide for 3,000 families and the second, the south side project, will accommodate about 1,000 families.

The PWA estimated that the three projects will provide approximately 17,500,000 man-hours of direct and indirect employment. In addition to providing extensive work for building trades at the site, officials said, fabrication of materials will provide activity for supplying trades.

The north side site was chosen after "a careful study" by the PWA housing division of which Col. Horatio B. Hackett is director, said Ickes' statement. Condemnation proceedings were instituted to comply with the constitutional provision guaranteeing that no one shall be deprived of property without due process of law. Secretary Ickes, who has frequently publicly deplored this provision has assigned lawyers to study means of circumventing this guarantee or prepare an amendment to it.

The Marshall Field Garden apartments are just outside this area at its northeast corner. Olivet institute and the Manierre school, while inside the area, will continue as at present.

BRITISH HOUSE OPENS DEBATE ON REFORM MEASURE FOR INDIA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 10.—One of the most important debates on the future of the British empire began in the house of commons tonight when discussion opened on the government's resolution inviting members to accept a report of a joint select committee as a basis for the bill to revise the constitution of India.

Sir Samuel Hoare, secretary of state for India, demanded the bill's immediate passage. If no bill is passed in this session, he declared there would be no comprehensive measure for many years to come.

Hoare appealed for the coöperation of the Indians. He warned that differences between Great Britain and India, if not adjusted now, would drag the two countries further and further apart.

The chief criticisms of the government's policy were voiced by Maj. C. R. Attlee, Laborite, and Lord Wolmer, Tory. Attlee complained the scheme contained no mention of dominion status for India. Lord Wolmer took the exactly opposite view. He insisted the Indians had not yet reached a stage to be trusted with self-government.

SOVIET NABS 37 UKRAINIANS IN TERRORIST DRIVE

120 Arrested Since Kirov Murder.

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

MOSCOW, Dec. 10. — The government's drive against alleged terrorists struck in the Ukraine today. Thirty-seven have been arrested there on charges of plotting against the lives of soviet officials, it was announced here late tonight.

This brings to 120 the number whose arrests on these charges have been announced since the assassination of Sergei Kirov at Leningrad on Dec. 1. The disposition of the twelve arrested in White Russia is not yet known.

The thirty-seven imprisoned in the Ukraine, like the seventy-one rounded up in Moscow and Leningrad — of whom sixty-three were put to death recently—will be haled before the military tribunal of the Supreme court of the U. S. S. R.

Extend Period of Probe.

These 120 are in addition to Leonid Nikolaeff, who is still presumably being held for the assassination of Kirov. Nikolaeff's fate is still unknown. The ten day period within which he should have been disposed of under the recent decree ordering haste in such cases expired today.

Tonight it was announced that on the request of the commissariat of internal affairs, which has succeeded the old GPU [secret police] the central executive committee of U. S. S. R. had extended the period of investigation of the Kirov case to Dec. 20. The reason for the extension was not stated.

Meanwhile, no facts have been disclosed to show a connection between Kirov's murder and the alleged terrorists who have been arrested since. Nor is it stated against what individuals the alleged plots were aimed.

Charge 19 with Sabotage.

OMSK, U. S. S. R., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Nineteen employés of the Omsk railway were arrested today and will be tried soon on charges of counter-revolutionary sabotage. The men are charged with causing losses totaling a half million roubles through wrecks, carelessness, and inefficiency.

Beggar Declines a Meal; Now Eats at Bridewell

George Novak, 43 years old, 1919 West 19th street, was sent to Bridewell to work out a $50 fine for begging by Judge Justin F. McCarthy yesterday on the complaint of W. C. Erickson, 2015 Estes avenue, who said he offered Novak a meal, but the mendicant insisted on cash.

Nazis Arrest Housewife Who Bullied 12 Maids

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 10.—A housewife who made a habit of bullying her servants was arrested in Munich today. Twelve maids whom she had fired in rapid succession reported her to the police and testified that she slapped them and "treated them like dogs." Her name was kept secret because her husband is a "highly respected person" who should not be compromised by his wife's misdemeanor.

FIRST WIFE CALLS LIBBY HOLMAN'S MARRIAGE VOID

Anne Cannon Comes Into Reynolds Dispute.

Winston Salem., N. C., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Mrs. Anne Cannon Reynolds Smith, first wife of the late Smith Reynolds, young tobacco heir, today entered the litigation over division of his 25 million dollar estate with the charge that she is the dead youth's lawful widow.

She asserted that the divorce she obtained from Reynolds in Reno was illegal and void, and that Libby Holman, Broadway torch singer and mother of Reynolds' posthumous son, "being versed in law" knew the divorce to be illegal before she married the young heir.

Mrs. Smith, who divorced her second husband last spring, filed in Forsyth court a plea that the proposed settlement suggested by Reynold's brother and sisters be disallowed and that the estate be distributed according to law and fairness.

Proposed Settlement.

The settlement proposed by R. J. Reynolds Jr., Mrs. Charles Babcock, and Mrs. Henry W. Walker provides that Mrs. Smith's child, Anne Cannon Reynolds 2d, receive $9,000,000; Libby Holman, $750,000, and Miss Holman's child, Christopher Smith Reynolds, $6,000,000. The brother and sisters would use the residue for charitable purposes.

In connection with the claim that her divorce from Reynolds was illegal, Mrs. Smith contended that his marriage to Miss Holman consequently was void and therefore the former singer's son has no rights of inheritance. Mrs. Smith held that her daughter, Anne 2d, is the sole heir.

The Reno divorce, she said, was illegal and contrary to the laws of both North Carolina and decisions of the United States Supreme court because Smith Reynolds was a minor living in North Carolina when she obtained the decree in Nevada.

Attacks Banks' Status.

In her petition, which was the first time she had entered the complex court case, Mrs. Smith asserted that she has recently attained her majority and is the mother and natural guardian of Anne 2d.

She charged that the Cabarrus Bank and Trust company of Concord, which she accused of being the instigator of the proposed settlement, is not the actual co-guardian of her child, as it has claimed in the litigation, but was appointed merely to look after the accounts of the actual guardian, Mrs. J. F. Cannon, her mother.

KILLED BY AUTO GAS.

NEIGHBORS WIN $40,000 VERDICT AGAINST MORSE

A verdict of $40,111 was given against Col. Robert H. Morse, president of Fairbanks, Morse & Co., yesterday by Judge John T. Cummings of Kewanee, sitting in the Circuit court, at the conclusion of the trial of a suit brought by a group of residents of the coöperative apartment building at 1242 Lake Shore drive. The suit demanded payment of a $40,000 balance on $126,000 Morse contracted to pay for his home in the building, which occupies two floors, contains 22 rooms, and 12 baths.

Morse took the stand yesterday and testified he had decided against paying the balance because the elevator was too slow, the ventilation poor, and the floors not adequately sound proofed. He said also the managers had admitted tenants without the stockholders' approval, and declared that several "favored" tenants, including Samuel Insull Jr., were allowed to abrogate their agreements.

2 DRUGGISTS HELD AFTER ALCOHOL KILLS 22 PERSONS

Portland, Ore., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Two Portland druggists were formally charged with involuntary manslaughter today after four more deaths brought the poison drink death toll to twenty-two.

Solomon Miller, drug store proprietor, and Irving Schwartz, clerk of the same drug store, were accused of selling some of the victims denatured alcohol which caused their deaths. Bail of $10,000 each was set for Miller and Schwartz when they were arraigned in Municipal court.

Large quantities of wood alcohol were found in the stomachs of some of the victims.

"We're not through with the investigation," emphasized Capt. Jack Keegan of the Portland police detective department. More serious charges will be brought if the investigation warrants, he said.

Detectives discovered the source of one drum of the poisoned alcohol today. It came from a wholesale paint company, they said; contained 15 per cent wood alcohol, and was so deadly that a few ounces, mixed half and half with water, would kill a man in 12 hours. The wholesale company said it received an order from a drug store for five gallons of industrial alcohol and, not knowing to what use the product would be put, sent some of a double strength formula.

BREAK DISHES ON HUSBAND'S PATE? NEVER, SAYS WIFE

Frank Ussatt, 60 years old, who resides on Washington street, west of Waukegan, yesterday obtained a warrant charging his wife, Mrs. Emily Ussatt, 57 years old, with disorderly conduct.

"She breaks the dishes over my head and she is planning to take me for a one way ride," he declared. "I want her put under a peace bond."

Mrs. Ussatt's comment was caustic. "I have been married to Frank for thirty-five years," she averred, "and I never broke a dish on his head. We were getting along all right until he started going to a fortune teller in Kenosha. She's been filling him with funny ideas."

Seek 'No More Wageless Days than Police.'

Threats that several thousand city employés would vote on a strike proposal unless there be some modification of the present pay cut schedule were voiced yesterday before the city council finance committee.

Representatives of labor organizations whose members are on the city pay roll gave the warnings. Such a walkout as they envisioned might cripple the street lightning system, garbage disposal, operation of movable bridges, and other departments employing organized truck drivers, building trades men and maintenance workers.

One of the chief complaints made at the meeting was against inequalities in the number of payless days of police and firemen and those of other city workers. The union representatives also took the position that the present cut is "too drastic" to continue indefinitly. Their objective, therefore, was taken to be a readjustment of the present cut that would place all city workers on the same basis as police and firemen.

Number of Payless Days Differs.

Technically there has been no reduction in the basic pay scale of city employés. Since 1932, however, it has been the practice to deduct several days' pay yearly from city employés' checks. Last year the police and firemen took a fifty-two day reduction, while other city employés were docked seventy-eight days.

Rough calculations hastily made by the finance committee staf indicated that it would take approximately one million dollars in excess of the present budget to place all city employés on the basis of 52 payless days with the police and fire departments. The estimate for eliminating all pay cuts was $6,000,000.

Ald. J. M. Arvey [24th], chairman, told the labor representatives that the committee would take under advisement the request for wage modification and equalization. He added that immediately he would have the staf prepare authoritative estimates on how much additional revenue the proposal would require.

It was pointed out, however, that as the 1935 city budget now stands there will not be sufficient funds with which to meet an increased pay roll. City Controler Robert B. Upham has estimated the budget requirement for 1935 at $44,817,647, which is $57,614 more than was spent in 1934. The controler estimated that next year's revenue for budget purposes would be $44,923,341, or only $105,694 in excess of prospective expenditures.

Suggests Source of Cash.

Only one suggestion for procuring additional funds was made by the petioners. Irwin (Bosco) Knott, business agent for the electricians' union, local 9, after declaring his group would join in any strike vote agreed upon, suggested that the city declare a moratorium of a year on interest on its outstanding securities.

"This would save about $1,500,000," he said, "and the money could be applied toward restoration of the old wages."

Chief Justice Sonsteby of the Municipal court advanced a suggestion which, he said, would give the city a large additional revenue over the controler's estimate. The city, he asserted, could charge Cook county $15 for each felony case handled in the Municipal court, the only exceptions being cases where defendants were ordered to pay the costs. It was his opinion that from November, 1932, to November, 1934, the city could have collected under existing law $1,000,000 from the county.

Patrick Sullivan, president of the Building Trades council, informed the finance committee members that representatives of all organized city employé groups but three had expressed themselves in favor of a strike vote if the present pay schedules were maintained.

Certain Essential Workers Demur.

Charles Fry, member of the board of education, who spoke as representative of the machinists' union, announced that his union would participate in strike balloting.

The same promise of support was voiced by Michael Carrozo, speaking in behalf of several unions of city employés, including the garbage foremen, asphalt workers and street sweepers.

Nevertheless several representatives of employés' groups said they were not ready to take a strike vote, stating that they hesitate to go that far because of the nature of their public duties.

Among these were Philip Steele, representing pumping station engineers, who supply the city with water, and representatives of the dairy inspectors, who guard the city's milk supply against contamination.

After the employés' groups made their plea, Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, requested an increase of approximately $100,000 in appropriations for his department, mainly for use in work on contagious diseases, infant welfare, and milk inspection. His plea won the support of Mayor Kelly.

Health to Come First.

"I shall continue to exert every effort in the way of tax reduction," said the mayor. "At no time, however, must the health and safety of our citizens be jeopardized.

"Chicago's board of health is now considered by health authorities and the people of our country as the best in America. We in Chicago are proud of the record of this department. Today Chicago ranks as the healthiest large city in the world. We are determined to keep it so."

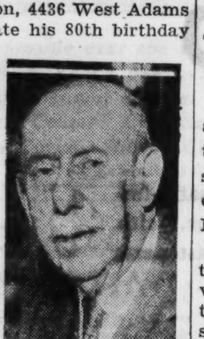
BUSY AT SAME JOB 61 YEARS, 'LOUIE' TO WORK ON HIS 80TH BIRTHDAY

Louis W. Pearson, 4436 West Adams street, will celebrate his 80th birthday today by continuing work at the post from which he has not missed a day for the last 61 years—that of cashier for Chapin & Gore, liquor dealers, 63 East Adams street.



LOUIS W. PEARSON.

As a boy of 19, he went to work in the Chapin & Gore saloon, located on Monroe street on the present site of the Majestic theater. This was a famous gathering place in the latter part of the 19th century.

Known as "Louie" to its many habitues, he came to know by name many of the most colorful characters of that era. Among them were "Buffalo Bill" Cody, Gen. Phil Sheridan, John W. [Bet a Million] Gates, and William Pinkerton, the original "eye that never sleeps."

Pearson proudly says that he never forgets a name or a face; has never refused a drink, but has never been intoxicated; is never without a long black cigar, but, most of all, that he has never missed a day from work.

NEW T. B. SERUM, PRISON TESTED, CALLED SUCCESS

2 Convicts Win Pledge of Freedom.

Denver, Colo., Dec. 10.—(AP)—The announcement of the success of a tuberculosis preventive, apparently as simple to administer as smallpox vaccine, is expected to be made soon by Denver tuberculosis experts.

Gov. Ed C. Johnson disclosed today that "human guinea pig" experiments with Colorado convicts, during which the tuberculosis serum was tested, seemingly are a success.

In medical circles there were reports the formal announcement of the results will be made public soon.

Make Tests at Prison.

Doctors of the National Jewish hospital here, who developed the serum during experiments which took 15 years, adhered to their policy of silence, but they indicated to officials at the Colorado prison, where tests were made, that they have no doubt of the success of the preventive.

Two convicts, who gambled their lives in the tests against a chance at freedom, probably will be granted pardons early in January, Gov. Johnson said.

These men, Carl Erickson and Mike Schmidt, were first given "shots" of the serum last April. Then millions of tuberculosis bacilli were injected into their blood.

Prison officials said both men were in good health today and that they had shown no signs of contracting the disease.

Discuss Serum's Results.

Denver tuberculosis experts said injections of the bacilli were sufficient to "impair the health of an ordinary person," and that if the two convicts had not contracted tuberculosis by this time the serum could be considered a success.

Physicians said announcement of the results of the tests are expected to be made through the Denver Medical society.

Gov. Johnson said in his agreement with the convicts who volunteered for the tests it was provided the men should gain their freedom when the physicians had completed the experiments. At the prison it was said the doctors plan one more examination of the two convicts before releasing them.

Schmidt, who is 55 years old, became ill after receiving the first injection of serum last spring. He recovered quickly and since then has been well. Erickson, 63 years old, showed very little reaction to the tests.

The men are serving life terms, Erickson on a charge of slaying his wife, and Schmidt for an offense against a young girl.

The serum and bacilli also are being given two other convicts, and later may be administered to other prisoners.

GALLERY OUSTS ARTIST; SAYS HE COPIED ANOTHER'S PAINTING

New York, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Charging him with copying the works of other artists and exhibiting them as his own, the National Academy of Design tonight announced the expulsion of Stephen Bansgrove from associate membership. This is the first expulsion since its founding in 1826, but it considers it a duty to itself and a warning to others to make this action public."

The specific charge on which the expulsion order was based was the following paragraph of a resolution adopted by the academy's council:

"Causing to be exhibited at the 1934 exhibition of National Academy of Design the painting entitled, 'Easy Heights'; at the same time falsely representing to the jury of selection that it was an original work of art created by himself, whereas, in truth and in fact, it was a copy of a painting entitled, 'On the Moors,' by one H. Septimus Power, and theretofore exhibited in the National Art gallery of New South Wales in Sydney, Australia."

LIEUT. J. J. HARDY GIVES UP IN U. S. INCOME TAX CASE

Lieut. John J. Hardy of Maxwell street police, indicted by the federal grand jury on Friday for income tax evasion in 1929, surrendered yesterday to United States Marshal William H. McDonnell. Lieut. Hardy was fingerprinted, and later signed a $10,000 surety bond which was approved by Federal Judge John P. Barnes. The police officer, who is 49 years old, was accused in the indictment of failing to pay a tax of $4,829.70 within the legal time limits on an income in 1929 of $51,639 which he is aleged to have received in addition to his salary of $2,800. "I don't owe the government a penny," Lieut. Hardy said yesterday. "I paid my tax for 1929 and a 50 per cent penalty besides. All my income came from legitimate sources."

A BANKROLL HAS MORE THAN ONE USE, IT SEEMS

John Feroldo's fat bankroll saved him from injury yesterday. Carrying a large sum taken in at his tavern on Railroad avenue in Highwood, Feroldo was driving his automobile at Prairie avenue and Waukegan road west of Lake Forest when it collided with another car. Feroldo got out and remonstrated with the other driver, who drew a revolver, fired one shot, then drove away. A passing motorist took Feroldo to the Highland Park hospital where it was found the bullet had grazed one finger, pierced the large roll of bills in his pocket, and inflicted an abrasion on his leg.

Tourists in Italy Unable to Cash Traveler Checks

Rome, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Hundreds of American tourists in Italy were unable to cash their travelers' checks today due to Italy's new exchange regulation passed Saturday by the cabinet. American banks and travel agencies, not being authorized by Saturday's law to deal in foreign exchange, were unable to give tourists lire for the checks which every where serve as dollar currency.

TOYS REFLECT INFLUENCE OF STREAMLINING

Old Santa Keeps Abreast of Modern Trends.

BY EARL MULLIN.

Santa Claus is an old timer, but his ideas are young.

A trip through Chicago's Christmas toyland yesterday showed that it is well abreast of the times. The world is calling for speed, and the toys are keeping pace. Of course, dolls are there and toy stoves, miniature dishes, and other things dear to the hearts of little girls. But streamlining has entered the toy world, and in even greater proportion than in the workaday world of the oldsters.

Electric trains, according to the men who are authorities in the world of play, still take the lead in the boys' Christmas, but they are closely pushed for first honors by airplanes and automobiles. It is in the field of transportation toys that streamlining has come into its own.

Tiny Trains Go Streamline.

On the toy floors of the stores aluminum trains whistle around the curves. They are streamlined to the nth degree, and around them cluster some of the largest groups of laughing, pushing youngsters in the stores. There are always a sprinkling of adults, too. Father and son meet on common ground in this enjoyment of miniature trains.

"Streamlined trains and especially the new streamlined automobiles are in great demand this year," said an executive in one toy department. "Of course the majority of toys sold are not of this variety, but I think you will find that children demand streamlining in their toys in even greater proportion than their fathers now have it in their cars. Children want an automobile like dad's, they want a train like they saw in the movies, and the new toys are the answer."

Bikes and Velocipedes, Too.

Practically all the toy airplanes on display are streamlined just like the real ones. Bicycles and velocipedes also are conforming to the mode.

In another store a corner window is devoted to toys. Right in the center is a streamlined automobile with foot pedals. In the seat is a beautiful doll. Little children push their nose to the glass to look at it, and their veiwpoint is expressed by one youngster.

"Look, Mom!" he shouts, tugging at his mother's sleeve. "There's a car just like Uncle Bob's. Will Santa bring me one?"

The mother is embarrassed, but those in the crowd smile. No doubt they remember a time when a miniature of some real machine also brought joy to them.

Speed Is the Thing.

In the toy sections of the five and ten cent stores the modern influence of speed also appears. For prices ranging from 10 to 20 cents small metal models of automobiles, fire engines, and trains can be purchased.

"I've got to take a streamlined train back to my boy," said a Los Angeles business man, shopping in one of the loop stores. "He saw that new Zephyr and if Santa Claus doesn't bring him one just like it there'll be trouble."

LOAN COMPANY HEAD HERE IS REVEALED AS A CALIFORNIA FUGITIVE

The true identity of J. C. Collins, 39 years old, head of the Colonial Finance and Loan company, 29 South La Salle street, was revealed yesterday. He is Earl K. Fleming, former millionaire Los Angeles broker, who is a fugitive from a two to twenty year prison sentence in California.

EARL K. FLEMING.

The disclosure was made by Eugene V. O'Connor, investigator for the blue sky division of the state's attorney's office. He said that state's attorney's police raided "Collins'" office Friday and arrested him. They had learned his identity from California authorities who are moving to extradite him.

Fleming, O'Connor said, had two brokerage houses and owned a building in Los Angeles. He failed for more than $1,000,000 in 1930. He was tried for grand larceny and was convicted. He appealed and was at liberty in $20,000 bond when the California Supreme court affirmed the sentence.

Fleming fled from California about the time of the affirmation, Mr. O'Connor said. He established an office here and has been living with his wife at 4530 Malden avenue. Police are seeking his partner in the Chicago loan concern, C. J. Strubel, 4243 North Whipple street, for questioning. Fleming said he would decide whether to fight extradition after conferring with his lawyer.

SEEK CALIFORNIA BOOTLEGGER AS BABY FACE'S AID

Department of justice officials in Washington said yesterday they were seeking John Paul Chase, former San Francisco bootlegger, as a participant in crimes with the late Lester Gillis, better known as George [Baby Face] Nelson. It was not determined whether they considered him as possibly the companion of Nelson in the gun battle at Barrington in which were slain Nelson and two federal operatives, Inspector Samuel P. Cowley and Special Agent Herman E. Hollis.

Chicago headquarters of the department of justice revealed that John Hamilton and Alvin Karpis were eliminated as suspects in the murder of the agents. The name of Chase was mentioned at the time Nelson's body was found. Nelson associated with him in California, the agents said, but they did not know whether Chase came east with Nelson.

Hold Up Furniture Store and Escape in Blizzard

Three gunmen invaded the General Furniture store at 2608 West North avenue, robbed three employés of $32, and made a skidding getaway in their automobile in the blizzard yesterday while a West North avenue police squad was making a likewise slippery start for the store.

HUNGARY FEELS WAR WITH SERBIA IS INEVITABLE

Press Calls Geneva Accord Victory Over Jugo-Slavia.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Dec. 11.—[Tuesday, 1:20 a. m.]—Visibly relieved by the peace accord, reached at Geneva, Hungarian authorities declared today that they would continue organizing a charity fund to take care of 3,000 Hungarians banished from Jugo-Slavia.

In the Budapest coffee houses and public places last night Hungarians volubly poured out their wrath against the Jugo-Slavs to any one ready to listen.

Among the populace, highly exaggerated ideas exist about what the Jugo-Slavs have done. One man was heard to declare that more than 5,000 Hungarians have been kicked out of Serbia, and that scores of children are dead. This inflaming of public opinion constitutes probably the worst aspect of the tense situation between the two countries.

Declares Deportations Halted.

As a matter of fact, Herr Mengele of the Hungarian foreign office told THE TRIBUNE correspondent that deportations had stopped and that the total number of refugees was 2,960. Mengele said he has no information about the deaths of any children, but added that several are in hospitals due to exposure.

According to Mengele, the situation between Hungary and Jugo-Slavia is now in hand. He said he expected no serious developments at this time, inasmuch as the great powers at Geneva had succeeded in effecting a compromise.

It was midnight before it became generally known here that an accord had been reached at Geneva and the Budapest press will hail the outcome of the affair as a victory for Hungary over Jugo-Slavia.

What stands out in this situation, which a few days ago threatened the peace of Europe, is the underlying race hatred between the Jugo-Slavs and the Hungarians. It is in evidence everywhere in Hungary. The Hungarians believe the little entente of Jugo-Slavia, Czechoslovakia, and Rumania is seeking to swallow them up and wipe them off the map as a nation. The feeling is the same as in Jugo-Slavia, where the Serbs are convinced that Hungarian agitation is seeking to upset their newly acquired national unity.

Hatreds Strike Deep.

These mutual hatreds strike deep. This is a factor which apparently will remain in spite of what the big powers have been able to do at Geneva to postpone temporarily a clash which every one here seems to think is going to take place sooner or later along the frontier lines between Hungary and Jugo-Slavia.

More than 600 Hungarian refugees from Jugo-Slavia are now in Budapest. Only twelve arrived yesterday. Collections and subscriptions for the relief fund are being organized by Budapest newspapers. Two papers already have collected several thousand dollars. In many places municipal employés are subscribing 1 per cent of their wages for the fund.

Regent Horthy Contributes.

Admiral Nicholas Horthy, regent of Hungary, gave 500 pengoes for the care of the exiles. [A pengo is currently quoted at 29.75 cents.] It was announced that on Dec. 15 members of the aristocratic Hungarian families will take charge of charity collections in theaters and other public places throughout the land.

AGUINALDO ASKS BRIEF TRANSITION TO INDEPENDENCE

MANILA, P. I., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Shortening of the transition period between American dependency and independence from a decade to from three to five years was urged today by Gen. Emilio Aguinaldo, one-time insurrecto, in a conference with Senator Willard Tydings of Maryland. The general frequently has expressed his belief that congress made the transition period too long. He favors restoration of the insurgent Philippine republic he headed some 35 years ago, cessation of free trade with the United States after complete independence is a fact, and the right to negotiate trade treaties with other countries during the transition period.

Jugo-Slavia and Hungary Agree on Plan to End War Crisis

$350,000 STRING OF EMERALDS IS ORDERED DIVIDED

An emerald necklace valued at $350,000, which may have been part of the spoils of the Spanish conquerors of Mexico and Central America, will be divided into 11 equal parts, a Chicago jeweler made known yesterday.

The necklace, which consists of 39 cabochon cut emeralds weighing between one and two-thirds and 37 carats and 17 diamonds, is to be broken up because a sale of the entire string will not at this time bring a price satisfactory to the heirs of an estate. Warren Piper, jeweler at 31 North State street, has been given the task of trying to divide the jewels to the satisfaction of the heirs. He refused to tell who the heirs are.

Piper admitted that a large part of the jewels' value lay in the matching of the stones and that the sum likely to be obtained from their sale individually would not approach the estimated value.

FOES IN BALKANS AGREE ON PEACE; WAR PERIL ENDS

Serbia and Hungary Bow to League.

of international law concerning the repression of terrorist activity are not at present sufficiently precise to guarantee efficiently international coöperation in this matter, decides to set up a committee of experts to study this question with the object of drawing up a preliminary draft of an international convention to assure repression of conspiracies or crimes committed with political and terrorist purpose.

"It decides that this committee shall be composed of eleven members, the governments of Belgium, Britain, France, Hungary, Italy, Poland, Rumania, Spain, Chile, Switzerland, and soviet Russia each being invited to appoint a member.

"It refers to this committee's suggestions which have been presented to the council by the French government and requests other governments which may wish to present suggestions to send them to the secretary general [of the league of nations].

General Treaty Planned.

"It invites the committee to report to the league council so the latter may apply the procedure laid down in the assembly resolution of Sept. 25, 1931, concerning the drawing up of general conventions negotiated under the auspices of the league of nations."

At the council's afternoon session France introduced the draft of a treaty providing creation of an international Criminal court for the repression of terrorism.

The Criminal court would be competent to act when an accused terrorist takes refuge in a country other than that which wishes to prosecute him, or when the country in which the crime was committed renounces the prosecution.

Right of Pardons.

The right of pardon and convictions would be exercised by the league council on the proposal of the state in which the crime was committed, the state against which the crime was directed, or the state of which the condemned is a citizen.

The draft emphasized the necessity of greater precautions in the issuance of passports, and specified that assassins should be made subject to extradition.

The crimes against which suppression would be directed under the proposed treaty would include attempts upon the life of heads of states and high government officials.

The opening of today's sessions was a signal for Nicholas Titulescu of Rumania and Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia to criticize Hungary. That left Tibor Eckhardt, Hungary's representative of the league, to reply.

In a speech he accepted a proffer of collaboration with the little entente made by Titulescu, but demanded that "acts follow words."

He called the "campaign against Hungary" a vertible "threshhold to hell."

Benes, in his speech, insisted that Bohemia had accepted Christianity almost a century before Hungary had.

"Czechoslovakian civilization," he said, "influenced the development of Hungary in bringing the new faith and occidental civilization."

Titulescu, in sounding a warning against Hungarian revision ambitions, said: "The revision of treaties is possibly only by accord of all interested parties. Hundreds of times we have given a categorical 'no' to Hungarian revision demands."

He insisted that terrorism was linked with revisionism. He concluded by appealing to Hungary to "accept the hand of friendship and give to Jugo-Slavia a reasonable satisfaction. Thus will you aid the cause of peace."

BRITISH JUDGES STAGE "STRIKE" FOR MORE HELP

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 10.—The high court judges "downed" their wigs today. It was not exactly a strike, but near enough to cause considerable excitement in legal circles.

Actually, they adjourned an hour and a half before the usual time and held a conference to consider the serious position into which the administration of justice has fallen.

The judges complain that, owing to a shortage of judges due to illness and resignations, those carrying on have to bear a heavy burden of work, and in spite of their efforts, untried cases have been accumulating rapidly, resulting in litigants being placed at a disadvantage.

The judges also complain that they are taken from their own courts to others where the work is unfamiliar, and that this has caused complications.

Throughout the country judges are complaining of difficulties confronting them owing to the heavy arrears of work, and two judges on the northern circuit have informed the lord chief justice that they can not possibly finish before the Christmas vacation.

Another complaint of the judges is that even at full strength there is no reserve if two of their members become ill.

ARREST RICH OIL MAN'S SON AFTER 2D TULSA DEATH

Probe Intrigue Involved in Strange Slayings.

Tulsa, Okla., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Efforts of police to fathom the intrigue surrounding the fatal shooting of two prominent Tulsa youths and the reputed activities of a gang of adolescent extortionists today resulted in the arrest of Homer Wilcox Jr., 17 year old son of a millionaire oil man.

Formally charged with malicious mischief, young Wilcox is accused of having shot out the street lights at the scene of the Thanksgiving night slaying of John Gorrell, 23, a dental student. Thus the vicinity was plunged in darkness a short time before the killing.

Wilcox is a friend of Phil Kennamer, 19, son of United States District Judge Franklin E. Kennamer, who has confessed the slaying of Gorrell, asserting he "had to do it." Kennamer was also a close friend of Wilcox's sister, Virginia, against whom it was said threats were made in a $20,000 extortion plot directed at her father.

Arrested on Return.

Sought by police for more than a week, young Wilcox returned home from New York yesterday shortly before the body of his friend, Sidney Born Jr., 19, son of a Tulsa engineer and university professor, was found shot to death in his car near the spot and under much the same circumstances as was Gorrell.

Though police have called Born's death a suicide, both his father and his family physician refused to accept the theory and declare he must have been slain.

Wilcox was released on $500 bond after he had been booked to appear before Municipal Judge A. A. Hatch at police court tomorrow morning. He was charged under a state law which provides a maximum penalty of a year in jail plus a $500 fine.

Police File Charges.

Police Criminologist Henry Maddux filed the charge of malicious mischief, alleging that Wilcox had shot out the street lights. Police Chief Charles Carr said he found that two street lights in the immediate vicinity of where Gorrell was slain had been broken by bullets, leaving the scene in darkness over night.

Wilcox and his father had come to police headquarters to discuss the purported extortion note which supposedly named Virginia Wilcox. Young Wilcox refused to say whether he had any first hand knowledge of the existence of such a letter which "has been seen by at least ten persons" according to County Attorney Holly Anderson.

EX-POLICEMAN'S WOMAN SLAYER IN COURT TODAY

Mrs. Antoinette Frey Stein, 38 years old, will be arraigned in the Felony court today for the killing of Edward O'Keefe, retired policeman, whom she shot to death Sunday in his home at 3909 Jackson boulevard. Mrs. Stein was employed by O'Keefe as a housekeeper.

Mrs. Stein was booked on the murder charge at the Fillmore street police station yesterday afternoon despite the continuance of the inquest until Wednesday, at the county morgue. Attorney Thomas W. Barrett, representing Mrs. Stein, requested the inquest delay in order that additional character witnesses might appear in behalf of his client.

The defendant, who is the former wife of the late Joseph Stein, chairman of the board of the defunct State Commercial and Savings bank, told a story of self-defense at the inquest, which was held in the undertaking rooms at 3246 West Jackson boulevard. She had worked for O'Keefe for twenty months, she said, but he recently lost his job as a special messenger for a loop brokerage company.

McNutt Loses Selection of Farm Census Takers

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Secretary of Commerce Roper closed the Indiana patronage squabble today. He announced that appointment of supervisors and enumerators to take the farm census in that state would be made on recommendation of members of congress. A list of recommendations had been submitted to the White House by Gov. McNutt.

DEBT DEFAULT PARADE STARTING; FINLAND PAYING

Britain, Ten Others to Explain Soon.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—(AP)—The semi-annual parade of European war debt defaulters stepped off today with delivery of a note to the state department concerning Great Britain's $379,461,776 debt payment due next Saturday.

It is understood the note was Great Britain's official excuse for nonpayment of the instalment of $117,670,763 due on Saturday, and for the $261,791,011 in arrears since June 15, 1933. State department and embassy officials, however, did not make the contents public.

Other Defaults Expected.

Ten other European nations, which on Dec. 15 will owe an additional $250,431,940, are expected to add default explanations to those of Great Britain before the Saturday pay day falls due.

Only Finland has let the United States know that it will, as usual, remit its semi-annual instalment of $228,538.

Dispatches from Paris today said the French cabinet was drafting a note for delivery to Secretary Hull in which France would announce no payment of the $22,308,312 falling due Saturday or arrears accrued from four previous defaults, totaling $163,616,841.

Will Reveal Note Today.

The British note delivered to the department today by A. F. H. Wiggin, first secretary of the British embassy, is expected to be made public simultaneously in Washington and London tomorrow.

Great Britain made token payments of $10,000,000 in June, 1933, and $7,500,000 in December, 1933. On June 15 last, however, it announced that it would "defer" payment of the midyear instalment of $261,791,011 until a general revision of the entire war debts question had been agreed upon.

Several other nations, which in the past had made token payments, also defaulted because of the provisions of the Johnson act which declared them in default, unless they made full payment.

BRITISH STATEMENT TODAY.

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, will make a statement in the house of commons tomorrow concerning the British war debt to America due Dec. 15. He is also expected to reveal the contents of the note which was sent to Washington today in response to the formal request for payment of the $360,000,000 next Saturday. This total includes the arrears of 1933 and last June and the amount due this week. It is taken for granted the note will be a refusal to pay an instalment or make a token payment.

TWO DEAD, THREE IN DANGER FROM POISON IN SMELTING PLANT

New York, Dec. 10.—[Special.]—With two men dead, a third in grave danger, and two others ill, officials intensified their investigation today of the mysterious poisoning which felled the five as they repaired a furnace in a Carteret, N. J., smelting plant.

Isadore Delango, 33 years old, died yesterday at Rahway hospital despite blood transfusions. The first victim, Alec Suchaczewski, ded a few hours after the five were found unconscious on the furnace floor last week.

Physicians said that Charles Dudicks and John Kalaman had a good chance to recover, but that John Podsovincky was in a critical condition.

Hope of saving the three, physicians admitted, might rest on autopsies on the bodies of the two victims.

CHRISTMAS EVE BEST TIME FOR GOOD FELLOWS

Anxious Mother Asks for Basket Then.

> 'Twas the night before Christmas,
> When all through the house
> Not a creature was stirring,
> Not even a mouse—
> —From "A Visit from St. Nicholas," by Clement C. Moore.

BY PHIL MAXWELL.

Perhaps from this verse we catch a suggestion as to when Good Fellows should deliver their Christmas baskets. A question frequently asked of THE TRIBUNE Good Fellow department is, "When shall we deliver the basket of food, toys, candy, and nuts?"

Letter from a Mother.

A letter from an anxious mother may solve this problem for you. It says:

"Dear Good Fellow:

"If you should be kind enough to remember my family at Christmas time won't you please bring the basket the night before Christmas day? Unless you have experienced the night before Christmas knowing that there will be no presents for the children, and nothing more than the usual meager fare awaiting your family, you cannot appreciate what a night of wakefulness it is. When I put my three children to bed they fall asleep still hoping that Santa Claus will visit them. Even now they are not very old, 7, 5, and 3, but they know what it is to face a cheerless Christmas morning.

"Should the basket arrive Christmas eve I'll stay up all night preparing a Christmas dinner the like of which our family has never known. Please do not think me impertinent in making this suggestion, but I do want to make my children happy on Christmas day. My address is ——"

Guide to Good Fellows.

Although the original Good Fellow, the late Albert C. Fitch, to whom went the credit for originating the Good Fellow movement back in 1909, suggested that the basket should be taken either time, this mother's letter may be a helpful guide to Good Fellows.

Names of needy families which have been thoroughly investigated by social service agencies may be obtained from THE TRIBUNE by filling in the nearby coupon, calling Superior 0100, or visiting the Good Fellow department in THE TRIBUNE's Public Service office at 1 South Dearborn street.

Woman Cashier Gets 1-10 Years for $11,000 Theft

Miss Estha Hines, 42 years old, was sentenced to one to ten years in the women's reformatory at Dwight by Judge Walter J. La Buy yesterday in Criminal court. Miss Hines was convicted a week ago of embezzling $11,000 from the Chicago Flag and Decorating company, 2611 Indiana avenue, where she had been employed as a cashier for twelve years. George Glendon, the concern's president, testified she had confessed juggling the company books and converting small sums of money over three or four years.

CHARGES HURLED AT I. C. C. HEARING ON FEEDER BUSES

When Assistant Corporation Counsel Joseph F. Grossman presented to the Illinois commerce commission yesterday the city's petition for a network of feeder buses to connect with the elevated lines' system on the north and northwest sides, Attorney Harry P. Weber of the Surface Lines company at once attacked the proposal as having been inspired by the elevated lines.

The lawyer's charge caused a commotion in the hearing room, which was filled with residents from the areas involved. Lawyers for the commerce commmission, for the city and the elevated lines, and a number of aldermen all tried to deny the charge at the same time. Denials, charges, and counter-charges flew back and forth.

Finally Ald. John A. Massen [48th] gained the floor. He is a member of the council subcommittee on transportation, which recently recommended the filing of the petition. The petition asks for a 7 cent fare on the proposed feeder buses when no elevated transfer is issued.

"I resent your reflection on my integrity," he shouted in reply to Weber's charge.

Rep. Richard Lyons Breaks Shoulder in Tumble on Ice

DISTRESSED SHIP REFUSES AID OF NEARBY CUTTER

New York, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Drifting without food or fuel about 100 miles out on the storm-tossed Atlantic, the Canadian steamer Mary Kenney continued tonight to refuse coast guard offers to take off captain and crew.

The reason, coast guard officials said, was that the vessel was a suspected rum runner.

A coast guard cutter stoody by.

"If we brought her into port," explained Capt. William H. Shea, "her cargo could be entered in bond. Then it could be withdrawn and sold. Thus we would place ourselves in the position of aiding and abetting an illegal enterprise."

For several weeks the Mary Kenney has steamed back and forth beyond the international limit, always under the watchful eyes of a coast guard cutter.

Charles Levy Plays Santa to Inmates of Infirmary

Charles Levy, Chicago newspaper distributor, played Santa Claus for the eighth consecutive year yesterday to the inmates of the Cook County infirmary in Oak Forest. Trucks carrying fifteen musicians and entertainers, and a load of ice cream, cake, and candy, drove up to the institution in the morning for the holiday celebration which marked the twenty-fourth anniversary of the institution. The main show was staged in the infirmary dining room, but groups of performers moved in and out of the wards of those unable to leave their beds. In the tuberculosis ward, where 550 of the 3,940 inmates of the home are confined, a secondary "main show" was presented.

LABOR AGENT'S CHAUFFEUR IS HELD AS BANDIT

Marcus Looney, union business agent, drove his own automobile yesterday. His chauffeur, James Cuba, 30 years old, and two other men were held by Englewood police as suspects in a meat market robbery.

Cuba was arrested as he drove the Looney car past the police station. Afterward Antone Plebanek, 2434 West 24th place, owner of the market at 2753 West 55th street, identified Cuba as one of four men who held him up Nov. 2 and robbed him of $400. Cuba is a suspect in other robberies, police said.

The other two prisoners are Edward McDermott, 37 years old, 3515 South Union avenue, who said he was a vice president of the coal teamsters' union, and John Clarke, 32 years old, 924 West 51st street, a business agent. They were not identified by robbery victims who viewed them, according to the police. Writs of habeas corpus for all three men were issued late yesterday by Chief Justice Dennis E. Sullivan of the Criminal court and made returnable at 10 a. m. today.

JUDGE UPHOLDS WILL DISPOSING OF $1,000,000

W. L. Brown's Relatives Lose in Retrial.

Circuit Judge Benjamin P. Epstein yesterday directed a verdict dismissing a suit attacking the validity of the will of William Liston Brown, financier and iron ore broker, who died in 1929 at the age of 87, leaving a $1,000,000 estate.

The hearing was brought before Judge Epstein for retrial after the Appellate court several months ago reversed a decree of a jury which in 1932 held the will invalid and provided that the estate be divided among the seven relatives contesting it.

Niece Left Most of Property.

Judge Epstein in his ruling was guided by the finding of the higher court, which held unfounded the charges made in the suit that Brown was mentally incapable and under undue influence when he willed most of his property to Mrs. Harriet Seymour Carscallen of Pasadena, Cal., a niece.

Following the death of his wife in 1919, Brown changed a will which gave his property to his wife, relatives, and charities, and in the will which was validated by yesterday's decision, left most of his estate in trust to Mrs. Carscallen. At her death, the trust was to be terminated and divided among the following institutions:

Presbyterian hospital, Chicago Memorial hospital, Evanston Hospital association, Glenwood Training school, Chicago Orphan asylum, Home for Destitute Crippled Children, Country Home for Convalescent Children, and the Orchestral Association of Chicago.

Ruling in Jones Will Suit.

Another suit brought by five cousins to set aside the will of Fred B. Jones, railway supply dealer, who left most of his $750,000 estate to charity, suffered a setback in a ruling by Judge Epstein. Jones, a bachelor, died on April 9, 1933, at the age of 76.

Judge Epstein sustained a motion made by the executor of the will to strike out those portions of the bill which charge that the will was executed by Jones under the influence of Mrs. Dora Mortimer, his housekeeper, and William P. Kopf, financial adviser to Jones. Mrs. Mortimer was left the income from a $100,000 trust fund, the trust to revert to the estate at her death.

The court also directed that Attorney General Otto Kerner be made a party to the suit in the interests of the charitable bequests, including the establishment of a $50,000 trust fund for the Chicago Community Fund, to which was added the residual estate for "the distribution of milk, food, and ice to the deserving poor."

The five cousins who were not named in the will were given thirty days in which to file an amended bill.

Widow to Oppose Clemency for Slayer of Her Husband

Mrs. Betty Jensen, widow of Policeman Earl Jensen of Oak Park, will go before the state board of pardons and paroles tomorrow to oppose a plea for clemency for Walter Dittman, 29 years old, one of the slayers of her husband. With Armando Boulan, 38 years old, Dittman is scheduled to be executed in the county jail Friday. Mrs. Jensen visited the Criminal Courts building yesterday and arranged with Assistant State's Attorneys Gordon Nash and Marshall V. Kearney to appear at the hearing.

Caught in Michigan

A live female great horned owl, rare in this vicinity, is on exhibit at the Trailside museum at Thatcher and Chicago avenues, it was announced yesterday by Clayton F. Smith, president of the forest preserve board. The bird, distinguished by its large eyes, its hornlike feathered projections, and its ferocity, was captured in Michigan. It has a wing spread of four feet and is one of the largest of the owls. The museum is open from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. daily.

WOULD BE WOOD GUN AUTO THIEF GETS ONE YEAR

AUTOMOBILE THEFTS.

Automobiles stolen, 20; recovered, 25; stripped, 2 [from police records for 24 hours ending at midnight Sunday].

For making a threat with a wooden gun in an automobile theft attempt, Michael Chlopek, 21 years old, 1850 Huron street, was sentenced to 30 days in the Bridewell yesterday by Municipal Judge Joseph A. Graber in the Automobile court. Chlopek flourished the gun on Dec. 5 when caught by Melvin H. Frank stealing his car in front of his home at 2636 North avenue. Judge Graber sentenced Chlopek also to a year in the Bridewell for tampering with an automobile, but he ordered the sentences to run consecutively. Chlopek pleaded guilty to both charges. George Stewart, 21 years old, of Philadelphia was held to the grand jury in $2,500 bail yesterday by Judge Graber for automobile larceny. Stewart was seized on Dec. 5 by John W. Zimmerman, whose car he attempted to steal from the curb before Zimmerman's liquor store at 216 West Randolph street.

AD MEN TO HOLD OFF-THE-STREET PARTY ON DEC. 20

Chicago's advertising men and women will hold their annual Christmas party on Dec. 20 in the grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel to raise funds for the Off-the-Street club, an organization for providing opportunities to poor children, according to an announcement yesterday by Miss Mercedes Hurst of the Commonwealth Edison company, general chairman.

Sponsored by the Chicago Federated Advertising club, of which Richard J. Thain of Carson Pirie Scott & Co., wholesale, will be the 1935 president, the party will include entertainment by stage and night club entertainers, Miss Hurst asserted. Women of the club are prominent in the party arrangements this year. Miss Hurst is the first woman to hold the general chairmanship.

The Off-the-Street club at 1542 Van Buren street was organized in 1900 by advertising men of Chicago. In the 34 years of its existence many of its protégés have grown up and now are interested in its welfare. Funds for the club's operation come largely from the annual Christmas parties, Miss Hurst said.

TRUSTEES NAMED FOR PROTESTANT CHARITIES GROUP

Church Organization Plan Nears Completion.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Another step in the development of the Associated Church charities of Chicago was taken at a meeting yesterday at the Hamilton club. This charity group has been in process of organization for two years and has as its general aim the placing of Protestant welfare agencies at parity with those coöperating in the Jewish and Catholic charities.

Yesterday's meeting, convened by Dr. Henry Seymour Brown, executive secretary of the Presbyterian Extension board, Chicago temple, elected a board of trustees and authorized Frank J. Loesch and F. W. Pringle to incorporate the organization under the laws of Illinois. Thirteen denominations were represented by two representatives each at yesterday's meeting. Eighty-seven individual church welfare agencies also were represented.

Meets with Opposition.

The movement toward the development of the Associated Church charities, is said to have been met with opposition from welfare fund administrators who, an observer said, have found it "easier to deal with appeals and proposals of individual church charities than with those which are organized to speak coöperatively."

No member of the newly elected board last night would speak of the policies or functions of the Associated Church charities. Plans, however, for its organization began more rapidly to evolve when the question of public funds for private welfare and relief organizations was discussed about a year ago. At that time it was the contention of several prominent churchmen whose churches are now officially represented in the new organization, that "churches should look after their own needy," and that the plan used by the Catholic church, adjudged highly successful by experts, should be invoked by other churches.

Prominent Persons on Board.

Among prominent clergymen elected to the new board are the Rev. Drs. E. G. Guthrie, Orlando Ingvolstadt, C. S. Laidman, A. M. MacDonald, John Thompson, Duncan H. Browne, Robert Clements, H. S. Brown. Among the laymen are included Mr. Loesch, Mr. Pringle, W. W. Dixon, Lester E. Lee, F. J. Thielbar, Paul Schulze, John R. Gray, Mrs. Arthur Lueder, Mrs. William Bonsack, Miss Ellen Holz and others.

YACHT FROM CHICAGO MISSING FOR 13 DAYS; WIDE SEARCH STARTS

Mobile, Ala., Dec. 10.—(AP)—The yacht Annabelle, bound from Chicago to Miami, was reported to coast guardsmen today as missing since Nov. 27. A wide search for the vessel was started.

The southern area headquarters of the coast guard in Mobile was asked to search for the yacht, a 47 foot craft, by the Chicago division offices of the guard. Capt. T. B. Hern is in charge of the boat.

Now Henry enjoys his own parties

"Henry," said I to my neighbor as we came in on the train, "do you and Helen really enjoy all that fussing and mixing you have to do every time you have one of those gatherings at your house?"

Henry is no millionaire. So when the crowd swarms in on the Wests, he becomes his own hard-working bartender. And stays in the kitchen most of the evening!

You already know what Henry's answer to my question was. Of course, he didn't like it! And here's where my daily good deed comes in. I told him about Blue Ribbon Ale.

I explained that this mellowest-of-all cold-weather drinks frees men from drink-mixing drudgery. Further I explained that (1) everybody is delighted with Blue Ribbon's tangy taste immediately . . . and (2) that its potent, but friendly lift is "just right," never carrying you beyond the point of enjoyment.

Needless to say, he took my advice and now Henry and all the rest of us "amateur bartenders" are really enjoying our evenings! Which I say entitles me to some kind of a medal, for, after all, not many things these days bring the happiness and the good fellowship that Blue Ribbon Ale does!

You want to know who I am? I'll tell you: I'm a department store executive who knows that the best way to make friends is to treat people sanely with no regrets, for instance, like . . .

STATE BUILDS UP GROUNDWORK OF ITS INSULL CASE

Shows Martin's Position in Utility Empire.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Frank R. Evers and John F. O'Keefe, two former associates of Martin Insull, were called by the state yesterday as witnesses in the embezzlement case on trial before Judge Cornelius J. Harrington in the Criminal court. It was established through them that Mr. Insull was a director and vice president of Utilities Security company and of Corporation Securities company at the time he was dealing in stocks of these concerns.

This is intended as the groundwork of the charge brought by the state that Martin Insull embezzled $344,720 from the Middle West Utilities company in 1931 by taking this amount of money from the companies which he controled and substituting the stocks of the two companies mentioned.

Trading Accounts Shown.

The value of these stocks, which Mr. Insull's brokers refused to hold longer in his personal account as collateral, is another issue in the case. The prelude for this was the appearance on the witness stand of 25 brokers and bookkeepers, the last of whom testified yesterday, showing trading accounts by Martin Insull and by the Utility Securities company.

Mr. Evers, who was a defendant in the recent federal trial of Samuel Insull and associates, testified that the Utility Securities company was owned by the Insull group of companies. Martin, he said, was vice chairman and a member of the stock purchasing and investment committee.

Examined by Assistant State's Attorney Earl Hurley, Mr. Evers said that in 1931 this company was selling Insull securities, also trading on the exchange. They were selling stock of Insull Utility Investments, Inc., and of Corporation Securities by direct solicitation, he said.

"How long did they so sell this stock?" he was asked.

"Off and on, I should say, until the middle of December, 1931," was the reply.

The companies went into receivership in April, 1932.

Northup Cross-Examines.

This point, while it may have registered in the Samuel Insull case, was not considered important by Martin Insull's attorney, John Northup, who contented himself on cross-examination with eliciting from Mr. Evers that these sales had nothing to do with the stock exchange sales and that the stock purchasing committee did not deal on the exchange. The issue in this trial is Martin Insull's stock exchange deals.

Mr. O'Keefe, who was also a defendant in the Samuel Insull trial, identified minutes of directors' meetings of Corporation Securities, particularly the meeting of April 16, 1932. This was when the directors agreed to go into receivership.

The witness identified weekly reports of the liquidation values of the stocks held by the company. These reports, he said, were at the service of the chairman, who usually read from them. The report of Sept. 10, 1931, was specifically mentioned. It is on this statement that the state contends the stock of Corporation Securities was worthless, and it was after this date that Martin Insull put the stock into the Middle West portfolio in exchange for the money to back up his personal brokerage account.

Broker Brings in Records.

The defendant's name was mentioned by one of the broker witnesses only. This was Thomas E. Finucane of the brokerage house of Jackson Bros., Boessel & Co. He brought in sheets of a trading account which the defendant had with this concern.

Robert Sundelius, assistant treasurer of the Chicago Stock Clearing corporation, brought in the sheets showing stocks cleared from Sept. 1, 1931, to Nov. 2, 1931, the period covered by the transactions in this case.

The state will go into the direct evidence of alleged embezzlement today. Oliver E. McCormick, former treasurer of the Middle West Utilities company, is to be called by the state to tell of the exchange of money and stock made at the order of the defendant.

FOUND DEAD IN HER ROOM.

Miss Lucille Rock, 34 years old, a beauty shop owner, was found dead in her room at 1550 East 63d street yesterday, supposedly the victim of a heart attack.

"TROUBLED WITH CONSTIPATION* FOR PAST 25 YEARS"

Then ALL-BRAN Brought Welcome Relief

Read this voluntary letter from Mr. Lecour: "I have been troubled with constipation* for the past 25 years. I tried practically every cathartic without results.

"Recently, I determined to give Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a fair trial. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has not only helped me, but I believe it is an actual relief for chronic constipation.*—Mr. Henry E. Lecour, 4 Vaughan Ave., Worcester, Mass.

Due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to aid elimination. It also furnishes vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle — and safe for normal individuals. Often more effective than "bulk" in fruits and vegetables, as it does not break down within the body.

U. S. WARNED TO KEEP HANDS OFF BY JAP ENVOY

Insists Country Will Go On in East.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Hirosi Saito, Japanese ambassador to the United States, said tonight that "Japan's aim is the establishment of peace and order in the far east."

Saito insisted that jingoistic statements ascribed to him today in an interview in Philadelphia had been misinterpreted. He was quoted in a Philadelphia paper as saying Japan would pursue her plans in the far east "even if she has to fight both Great Britain and the United States."

Speaking here later, the diminutive Japanese diplomat said what he meant was that both Great Britain and the United States would "eventually understand our policy," to which he added:

"If, however, the United States and Great Britain failed to understand and attempted forcibly to swerve our course, then Japan would be forced to fight. That is quite different from saying, as I am quoted, that we will pursue our plans in the far east even if we have to fight Great Britain and the United States.

"I was asked whether fighting Great Britain and the United States would not be too big a job for Japan—might be national suicide, in fact. I replied that that might be so, but that Japan would still strive to achieve its goal.

"Japan has no desire to become an imperialistic nation, and we have no idea of becoming the aggressor in any conflict."

MME. JERITZA HINTS PLAN FOR DIVORCING VIENNESE HUSBAND

New York, Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Mme. Maria Jeritza, opera and concert singer, about whom rumors have been current that she was going to be divorced from Baron Leopold von Popper de Podragi of Vienna, indicated today there was a good foundation for the report.

"I do not deny that I am going to get a divorce," she said. "I do not deny that I am going to become an American citizen.

"I do not deny that I may get the marriage annuled in Rome if necessary, as I can obtain an annulment when I wish it."

Asked about reports that she was going to marry a well known New Yorker, she laughed and replied, "I am not free yet. Let me get my divorce first."

GAS OVERCOMES TEN N. Y. WOMEN IN 2 WORKROOMS

New York, Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Ten women were overcome by carbon dioxide fumes in two manufacturing plants in the garment district today. Twenty tanks of oxygen supplied by inhalator squads and police emergency crews were consumed before the last woman was revived. Inadequate ventilation was blamed in part for the accidents.

In both instances the women suddenly toppled over at their work. The fumes enter the human system insidiously and the women were unaware of the danger before they succumbed to it.

The two establishments are within a half block of each other.

Thirty women were employed in the Geller Scalloping and Novelty company, where the windows were closed because of the cold, while gas boilers were generating steam and heat for the pressing machines. A revolving fan in the wall sucked out the oxygen, leaving the accumulated gas fumes to fill the room.

CHICAGO HUNTER WOUNDED.

REWARD ANGELL AND HENDERSON FOR PEACE WORK

Given Nobel Prizes for 1933 and 1934.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OSLO, Norway, Dec. 10.—While four Americans and an Italian were being honored today in Stockholm, Sweden, as recipients of Nobel awards for work in medicine, chemistry and literature, the Nobel peace prizes for 1933 and 1934 were awarded to two Englishmen here. Sir Norman Angell, lecturer and writer, was given the 1933 peace prize and the 1934 award went to Arthur Henderson, president of the world disarmament conference.

An audience of distinguished persons, including Crown Prince Olaf of Norway, witnessed the presentation of the peace awards to Henderson in person and to Great Britain's minister to Norway on behalf of Sir Norman, who was kept in London by business.

Dr. Lange Praises Angell.

The award to Angell, who will be 60 years old Dec. 26, was presented by the 1921 Nobel prize winner, Dr. Christian Lange.

"Few, if any, in our time have done more to remove the wrong conception that war benefits any one," Dr. Lange declared of Angell.

"The intimate understanding of the feelings of the world's three great nations, England, France and the United States" are the basis for Angell's peace work, Dr. Lange said.

Angell, who was educated in England and France, spent several years in the American west as prospector, rancher and newspaper man and later wrote in Europe for American papers. In 1903 he turned to books, most of which deal with the relation of sociology, economics and international affairs.

Saved Disarm Parley.

Premier Johan L. Mowinckel of Norway spoke of the 1934 award to Henderson.

"It is due to Mr. Henderson's efforts that the disarmament conference still exists, and that there still is hope it may survive," he said.

He said the only means of real peace is recognition of Germany's complete equality.

"Peace pacts and league of nations pacts seem hardly worth more than scraps of paper while naval conventions and other agreements break down. Feelings of uncertainty increase simultaneously," he declared.

The 1934 Nobel peace prize amounts to 162,607 Swedish kroner [about $41,470] and the 1933 prize to 173,331 kroner [$44,200].

Three Americans Present.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Dec. 10.—Three Americans, Dr. George Minot and Dr. William P. Murphy of the Havard University Medical school and Dr. George H. Whipple of the University of Rochester, were honored here today when the Nobel award of $41,318 was given them for their research in the treatment of anemia.

Another American, Dr. Harold Clayton Urey of Columbia university, was awarded the Nobel chemistry prize of about $40,000 for his discovery of "heavy water." Dr. Urey was unable to attend the ceremony, and United States Minister Laurence A. Steinhardt accepted the award on his behalf.

Luigi Pirandello, Italian novelist and playwright, was also a Nobel award recipient today, he being honored in literature for his general contribution to letters. The award was $41,318. King Gustav made the presentations.

NEW INDICTMENTS IN TAYLORVILLE, ILL., RELIEF FRAUD CASES

Taylorville, Ill., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—New indictments charging John Navadunski, former director of relief in Taylorville, and his secretary, Mrs. Gladys Waymire, with fraud in the administration of local relief were returned today by the Christian county grand jury.

Also indicted in connection with the alleged fraud were three Taylorville merchants. Navadunski, as well as Mrs. Waymire, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper Morgan, and her brother, Donald Morgan, were indicted more than a year ago.

Navadunski, tried on a charge of obtaining goods by false pretense, was granted a new trial following his conviction. Mr. Waymire and her mother never were brought to trial. Morgan and his son Donald pleaded guilty to charges of conspiracy and were fined $100 each last January. Neither Navadunski nor Mrs. Waymire has been tried on several of the indictments.

The case was reopened by the United States after complaints of laxity in prosecuting had been made to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. Harry Muskat of Chicago, assistant attorney general, appeared before the grand jury in behalf of the government.

Jail Poison Plot Murder Trial to Start Tomorrow

The trial of Lawrence Cozzi, 25 years old, charged with the murder of Rocco Pisano, a county jail inmate, was delayed until tomorrow by Judge Walter P. Steffen in the Criminal court yesterday when the case was called. Cozzi said his attorney, Frank McDonnell, had withdrawn from the case, and asked time to obtain another. Cozzi is accused of delivering poison sandwiches in a plot to kill Harold Clifford, Pisano's cellmate.

WEED AMERICAN CHAINS

STOP in ½ the distance with new WEED AMERICAN BAR-REINFORCED TIRE CHAINS

29,900 persons were killed and 850,700 injured in automobile accidents last year! More than 46% of all accidents occurred at intersections and failure to use tire chains on slippery roads was responsible for more accidents than any other mechanical defect, even more than were caused by defective brakes. (See "The Great American Gamble," published by The Travelers Insurance Company.)

You must have dependable traction and positive brake power. Provide your car with Weed American Tire Chains which have Bar-Reinforced Cross Chains. They stop a car in ½ the distance of bare tires. That's often the margin between safety and horror.

COMPARATIVE STOPPING DISTANCE ON PACKED SNOW

FLORIDA GETS TOURIST TRADE AHEAD OF TIME

License Plates, Railways Tell of Trafic.

BY HAL FOUST.

Palm Beach, Fla., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—The sunshine is warm and a balmy breeze is waving the palm trees, just as advertised. After a week-end cold wave, Floridans today do not have to quote Californians in referring to "unusual weather." THE TRIBUNE roadster arrived here last night on its tour of winter resorts.

Luxurious winter homes of the wealthy on this long, low island are being opened in advance of the fashionable season, which does not start until after the first of the new year. Ritzy hotels are receiving a few guests, although some establishments are not officially doing business until the first week of January.

Crowds Going Southward.

Railroads and highways are pouring crowds into the southern end of this recreational peninsula, many stopping here and at smaller cities on the coast nearby and many passing through here to Miami. Chamber of commerce statisticians, as the influx continues, are no longer comparing the tourist business with last year or with 1928 and 1929, but are now comparing with the 1925 season before Florida's private boom burst.

Regardless of whatever exaggeration might be charged to the chamber of commerce reports, it is apparent on the streets, the highways, and at railway stations that winter travel is on the up and up. Apartment and hotel reservations and rentals here are said to be 35 per cent ahead of the same date of last year and even better than in 1928 and 1929.

Vote Against Price Hiking.

Members of the Palm Beach County Hotel Men's association have signed an agreement not to boost prices with this increase in demand. This applies to the places that charge $20 or $40 a day for a room for two as well as to those places catering to moderate incomes. Tourists camps, where some families live from tin cans for as little as 75 cents a day, are also on the no inflation program.

This island city, about twelve miles long and from a mile to one and a half miles wide, is a garden of tropical vegetation normally with few inhabitants at this time of the year except caretakers, watchmen, and policemen. The summer census listed 1,707 population. In the winter, the population jumps to 10,000 on the mainland. There is the same story at West Palm Beach with its summer population of 26,000 and its winter population of 40,000.

License Plates Tell Story.

In communities of this size, the arrival of the vacationists from the north is conspicuous. And their earlier arrival and their increased numbers is likewise conspicuous. License plates from Illinois, New York, Michigan, and Ohio are on automobiles parked in the shopping centers. Last night there were lights in mansions curtained by royal palms, cocus plumosus, pithacolobium, sago dates and other vegetation of romantic names.

A local society writer listed among those who are here from Chicago: Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hayes, Mrs. George A. McKinlock, Mrs. Frank Osgood Butler, James W. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hartmann, and Mrs. Charles Randall and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Forrester.

GOVERNOR WARNS TRANSIENTS TO AVOID FLORIDA

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Gov. Horner today was asked by Gov. Davis Sholtz of Florida to make known in Illinois that transients are no longer welcome in the southern states.

"As the Federal Emergency Relief administration has discontinued funds for enlargement of transient facilities in Florida," the message to Gov. Horner said, "and as present camps are filled to capacity and there are no surplus jobs, it becomes necessary to serve notice that no more transients will be accepted in Florida camps. Those attempting to come to Florida without visible means of support will be turned back at the border or, if successful in entering the state, will be arrested for vagrancy."

CHOSEN QUEEN

MISS EVA SNELL.

The National Tea company celebrated its thirty-fifth anniversary last night. Two thousand employés gathered in the Grand ballroom of the Hotel Sherman and presented a giant birthday cake to F. H. Maasmann, vice president and general manager. Mr. Maasmann represented the company at the dance, given under the sponsorship of the employés' association. Toward the close of the festivities judges chose Miss Eva Snell of Lombard as National Tea queen from among 23 candidates picked by popular vote during the last few months. The twenty-three winners were guests of honor at the dance.

Takes Poison in Street After Phoning Brother

Harry Gordon, 36 years old, 1549 North Shore avenue, a salesman, swallowed a quantity of iodine at Clark street and Lunt avenue late last night. A passing motorist assisted him to the Rogers Park hospital, where he was treated. It was believed he would recover. Shortly before he was found lying on the street his brother, Jack Gordon, 1416 Chase avenue, notified the police that Harry had called him and announced the intention of killing himself.

NEGRO PREACHER LIEUTENANT FOR HUEY IN HARLEM

All Ready to Help Long 'Take Over' New York.

New York, Dec. 10.—[Special.]—The principal organizer in Manhattan of the share-our-wealth clubs, through which it is said Senator Huey Long expects to become President of the United States, is the Rev. Joseph A. Davis, 65, an oratorical Negro preacher, who operates a garage, a federation of furnished room dwellers, a political school, a mission and a church in the bleak old building, in the heart of Harlem.

"If we took the notion," the Rev. Mr. Davis said today, "me and the senator could certainly run this town for the benefit of the poor and hungry.

"If the senator gave me the word to go I could step out into the streets of Harlem and pass out furnished rooms and loaves of bread to all comers. The senator is a powerful man and I am his disciple. The time will come when me and the senator will take this town like an epidemic—like the influenza. All I am waiting for is the word to go."

Has Letters from Long.

The minister possesses numerous friendly letters from Senator Long. He said the senator has not asked him to organize the inhabitants of Harlem and that he does not believe the senator knows Davis is a Negro.

"That doesn't make a bit of difference, however," said the cleric. "I have been wanting to have a little chat with the senator, and the next time he comes to New York I will drop around to his hotel and discuss matters with him. He wants every man to be a king, you know. That is the motto of our society—'every man a king.' Well, I am going to tell the senator that I am already a prince.

"Yes, I come of a kingly family. I was born in Abyssinia and I am a descendant, rightfully, of King Menelik. I came to this country when I was a little boy and I have been a preacher forty years. I was brought up a Baptist, but I broke away from that because I do not stand for creeds. They cause trouble in any church. I am a nonsectarian minister of the Church of God."

Has Cubby Hole Office.

Senator Long's representative in Manhattan directs his share-our-wealth propaganda from a cubby hole office on the first floor of the garage. It is heated by a kerosene stove. It will accommodate three persons if one stands. On a shelf is a copy of the senator's autobiography, "Every Man a King."

His office girl pulled from the drawer of a battered desk a sheaf of correspondence between the reverend and the senator. The reverend selected one of the letters. It was written on the crinkly stationery of the committee on the judiciary of the United States senate, of which Long is a member.

The letter is dated June 19, 1934. It says: "My dear friend: Acknowledgement is made of your letter of June 16 and I am inclosing herewith manual of the share-our-wealth society, which explains the means of raising finances with which to carry on the movement. With kindest regards, I am yours sincerely, Huey P. Long."

Soon after the receipt of this letter the minister informed Long he had brought into the society all the members of his various organizations. The senator replied that he was very pleased, but he didn't send any money for carrying on the work in Harlem.

"I guess Mister Long thinks the time ain't ripe to take over New York yet," opined the Rev. Mr. Davis.

HUEY FILES NEW PLEA OF IMMUNITY IN SUIT FOR $500,000 LIBEL

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Despite the United States Supreme court ruling that he was not immune from service in a civil suit, Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana filed a motion in the District of Columbia Supreme court today to quash the summons and service in the $500,000 libel suit brought against him by Brig. Gen. Samuel T. Ansell.

The motion, almost identical to that thrown out by the District of Columbia Court of Appeals and the United States Supreme court, was filed in Long's behalf by his attorneys.

It recited that because Senator Long was a resident of Louisiana and here only on official duties, he "was immune and exempt from service of civil process."

In the first motion to quash, filed in April, 1933, the senator based his contention on the constitutional immunity of senators and representatives from arrest while congress is in session.

New Evidence Obtained in 6 Year Old Slaying

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Hopeful that new evidence which has been uncovered may lead to a solution of the slaying, authorities have reopened their investigation of the murder here six years ago of Miss Cordelia Gummersheimer, Rockford school teacher. Miss Gummersheimer was clubbed to death with an iron pipe wielded by an assailant who apparently climbed through the window of her apartment.

CALL MRS. FOX TO TESTIFY ON KIDNAP THREAT

New York, Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Mrs. William Fox, wife of the motion picture financier, was a witness in federal court, Brooklyn, today at the second trial of Maurice Monnier, 34 years old, a chauffeur of 1273 Wheatley street, Hewlett, L. I., who is accused of sending a letter to Mrs. Fox demanding the sum of $50,000. The letter contained a threat to kidnap her two grandchildren.

Mrs. Fox testified that at midnight of April 8 she put the money into an envelope and went to the place designated in the letter. She was accompanied by Leo Turou, an agent of the department of justice. Mrs. Fox was not asked if she saw somebody take the money.

Turou testified he questioned the defendant the next day and the defendant said he could not remember having written the note.

The first trial, which took place in October, resulted in a disagreement.

MUNITIONS QUIZ BARES FOREIGN GRAFT PAYMENT

Finds Officials Bribed by Arms Salesmen.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Allegations of graft in high places, involving purchase of arms and other munitions by foreign governments, the cases ranging from Christmas presents in Brazil to corruption in some Balkan nations, were heard today before the senate munitions committee.

One document from files of the Remington Arms company, written by a sales manager, declared that while the state department was willing to shut its eyes to "small graft" in Latin-American countries, there were cases where it went too far and then the state department did object.

Committee Seeks Explanation.

Written by Frank J. Monaghan, this was addressed to Saunders Norvell who, when the memorandum was written in December, 1928, was president of the company.

For an hour the committee tried to get a "satisfactory explanation of this document," based on an attempted sale by German interests of military rifles to Santo Domingo.

The Balkan situation was pictured in a report which Col. William N. Taylor, European representative of the du Pont company and also of the Imperial Chemical Industries, Ltd., London, addressed to the du Pont company Oct. 10, 1922, in which he asserted that "these savage people don't know how to live without war or robberies."

Cites Sir Basil Zarahoff.

Col. Taylor declared that the only way to do business in the Balkans was through an intermediary and cited Sir Basil Zarahoff as the type of intermediary he had in mind. In the Balkans, he asserted, those in authority did not care what they had to pay, "so long as they got the graft."

Following receipt of this report the du Ponts directed their agents to evacuate the Balkan front.

Other documents read into evidence, which covered large slices of Central and South America, as well as China and Mexico, told in almost every instance of a "graft" payment or a hint or demand for the payment of it before an order could be executed.

One document from the Remington files disclosed the practice of giving "Christmas presents" to Brazilian officials, which Maj. K. K. V. Casey, sales manager of the du Ponts, said was "an old Chinese custom," while still another disclosed payment of 10 per cent commission to the commander of the Nicaraguan National guard, who was asserted to have taken the money "with the full knowledge of the president."

Bare Canceled Contract.

C. K. Davis of Remington Arms and Monaghan were in the witness chairs when the memorandum which referred to the state department "graft" policies was read by Senator Barbour [Rep., N. J.]. It referred to the purchase of German dealers' rifles and cartridges by the Dominican republic.

Inquiry disclosed that instead of being new, the goods were second hand from British sources, and the state department passed the information along to the Dominican republic, with the result that the contract was canceled.

In the case of graft as alleged to be practiced in the Balkans, Col. Taylor said that if a line were drawn from Trieste to Warsaw it would be found that "east of that line" business and finance were conducted "on a set of rules entirely their own."

Tells of Balkan "Loans."

"For instance, the idea of issuing an internal government loan, selling it to the people, never has occurred to them and could not be done," Col. Taylor wrote.

"When they want an internal loan they get together the rich merchants and the Jews and say 'You will lend the government some money or we will put you in jail; if you do lend the government money we will let you in on the profits for 10 or 20 per cent.' A merchant is successful when he knows how to distribute the graft and get away with part of the profits."

BOY TAKEN FROM MOTHER; GIVEN TO WEALTHY UNCLE

Oklahoma City, Dec. 10.—(AP)—A six year old boy of a disrupted family was tossed into the lap of luxury today.

Judge George A. Henshaw brushed aside legal complications and gave custody of the youngster, Jackie Gordy, to a millionaire family, over the tearful protests of the boy's 27 year old mother, Mrs. Lorene Gordy.

"They've given my boy away," she wailed. "They say I'll be able to see him all I want, but I know what it means. They'll take him to California and he'll never be in his mother's care again."

The case reached its dramatic climax after the state summed up its charges of abandonment, filed against John Gordy, an unemployed driller divorced from the boy's mother.

Erle P. Halliburton, wealthy oil man, whose wife is a sister of Gordy, stepped forward and announced he was willing to adopt his nephew.

BRISBANE, Australia, Dec. 10.—(AP)—The last link in the chain of International Air Lines joining every continent of the world was forged today. The duke of Gloucester, third son of the king of England, dispatched the first two northbound planes in the world's longest airline, the 12,846 miles from Brisbane to London.

The new line, sponsored by the Australian government and operated by the Qantas Empire Airways, will operate a plane a week between Australia and Singapore, where it will connect with the weekly British service to London. The linking of Australia with Asia by air makes it possible for residents of any continent to travel to any other by regular commercial air service. Australia is now within 12 days of London.

IOWA IS GUILTY IN LIQUOR CASES, JURIST ASSERTS

Also Takes Rap at the Legislators' Wisdom.

Davenport, Ia., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Police Magistrate John A. Hornby, presiding in a police court here today declared the state of Iowa encourages people to violate the liquor law, then arrests them. The state, he said, fails to recognize its own guilt. The case at issue was that of two taverns arraigned on charges of selling state liquor over the bar. He gave them minimum fines and continued the case of two others charged with bringing Illinois liquor into this state.

Takes Rap at Officials.

"One bunch of state officials work their heads off trying to sell a man a permit to buy liquor at the statehouse and another arrests him after he does buy it when they know themselves that it is impossible for him to consume the amount they sell him," the court declared.

"The state of Iowa evidently thinks I'm Caesar down here, judging from the statements which were made in Des Moines," Judge Hornby added. "I want to inform them that the late Julius was laid on the shelf by his friends early in life while I've managed to keep going."

Calls Legislature Foolish.

Hornby is the same judge who recently remarked to a witness who mentioned the wisdom of the state legislature: "that's the first time in my 60 year of life that any one ever called the acts of the Iowa legislature wisdom. I have always understood that the Iowa legisature was noted all over the country for its half baked asinine laws."

Davenport tavern keepers are "up in the air" about the sale of liquor and the slot machine "racket," Mayor Merle F. Wells declared in a written statement issued today. He charges that state agents are to blame. He said one agent informed the tavern keepers they would be permitted to sell liquor over the bar which was purchased at the state store and that slot machines would also be allowed. Another told them the opposite.

New U. of C. Clinic Head Will Be Honored Tonight

Dr. Arthur C. Bachmeyer, dean of the Cincinnati college of medicine and superintendent of the city's general hospital, who will join the University of Chicago staf Jan. 1, will be honored at a farewell dinner in the Ohio city tonight. He will become director of the university clinic, succeeding Dr. Henry S. Houghton, who has accepted the post of director of Pekin Union college in China.

POLICE MAGISTRATE DIES.

Convict, 73, Changes Mind About Refusing a Parole

In the hope that some one would turn up to sponsor him, Fred C. Woods, 73 year old Joliet prison inmate, announced yesterday that he had decided after all to accept a parole which he had declined last month as a Christmas present from the state of Illinois. Woods, in the third year of a three year sentence for burglary, is a landscape gardener by trade and has been tending lawns as a trusty at the old prison. He will be turned over Saturday to the Volunteers of America Hope hall, 6036 Ravenswood avenue, Chicago, to await some kind of a job. He has no family or friends.

COLLAPSES NEAR HOSPITAL; DIES.

Seized with a heart attack while making a delivery near the Ingalls Memorial hospital yesterday, Carl Kreutzfeld, 40 years old, 7031 Stony Island avenue, a driver for the Capitol Motor service, 7016 Harper avenue, died a few minutes later in the hospital.

BLIZZARD BRINGS 12 INCH SNOW AND HUMAN TRAGEDY

Hundreds of Cars Stalled; Trafic Crippled.

county and the whole of Lake county, Ind., on the south. Only in the central area was trafic greatly impeded.

Forecaster C. A. Donnel said that today would be generally fair and without snowfall, but rather cold. The snowfall of yesterday, he asserted, was entirely unexpected.

"Nobody could have forecast it," he said. "The weather maps only indicated slight flurries. But the winds sweeping over the lake from the north gathered moisture and precipitated it on this exact spot. It couldn't have gone far back from the lake front. Such storms are unusual but not unprecedented. Several years ago there was a foot and a half of snow on the south side and none at all on the northwest side."

Hundreds of Cars Stalled.

Approximately 1,000 calls for help were received by the Chicago Motor club from motorists whose cars became stalled in the drifts. Operation of buses in the city's streets was seriously impeded and surface line cars also were delayed. Elevated trains also were much slower than usual during the late afternoon, the added load of extra passengers barred from other transport complicating the problem of getting trains through the loop.

Early this morning the surface lines reported their cars were moving on almost normal schedules. The elevated lines were back on schedule, it was said, and bus lines moving their vehicles regularly, but more slowly than usual.

Two Deaths Attributed to Storm.

Two deaths were reported in which the storm was described as a contributing factor. The victims were Sven Hansen, 32 years old, 4215 Kammerling avenue, and Henry E. Hart, 68 years old, 7926 Luella avenue. Each died apparently of heart disease after walking through heavy snowdrifts.

The State street lighting system was turned on early in the afternoon as the blinding snow and darkness sent pedestrians scurrying for cover. Trafic in the loop was almost at a standstill.

Michigan avenue and Lake Shore drive were lined with stalled automobiles. George Donoghue, superintendent of the central parks system, ordered out all snow plows and instructed all park workers, with the exception of office help, to remain on duty till morning, keeping the boulevards clear. Three hundred extra men were added to the normal force of snow shovelers.

Asks Relief Shoveling Aid.

Joseph J. Butler, superintendent of the city bureau of streets, asked the Illinois Emergency Relief commission for 500 men to assist his employés in keeping the streets clear. Six plows were being operated piling up snow in the loop in windrows to be removed later by the shovelers.

Visibility during the height of the blizzard, when the wind reached a velocity of 40 and 45 miles an hour at times, was so poor that pedestrians had difficulty in seeing across the street. Motorists' windshields were clogged with snow.

So light was the early snow in the suburbs that snow plows were not sent onto the country roads until after 4 p. m. Dempster street, Milwaukee avenue and Waukegan road, close to the city, were almost impassable in the early evening. Evanston streets were drifted high. North of Highland Park the snow covering was still light at midnight.

Few Planes Grounded.

Movement of airplanes in and out of the city was hampered but not entirely interrupted by the storm. United Airlines continued operating all westbound planes and at 5 o'clock dispatched its overnight plane to California, and the regular plane to New York. Inbound planes from New York were held at Toledo.

American Airways canceled one 5:45 p. m. flight to Detroit, but other ships took off on their scheduled trips.

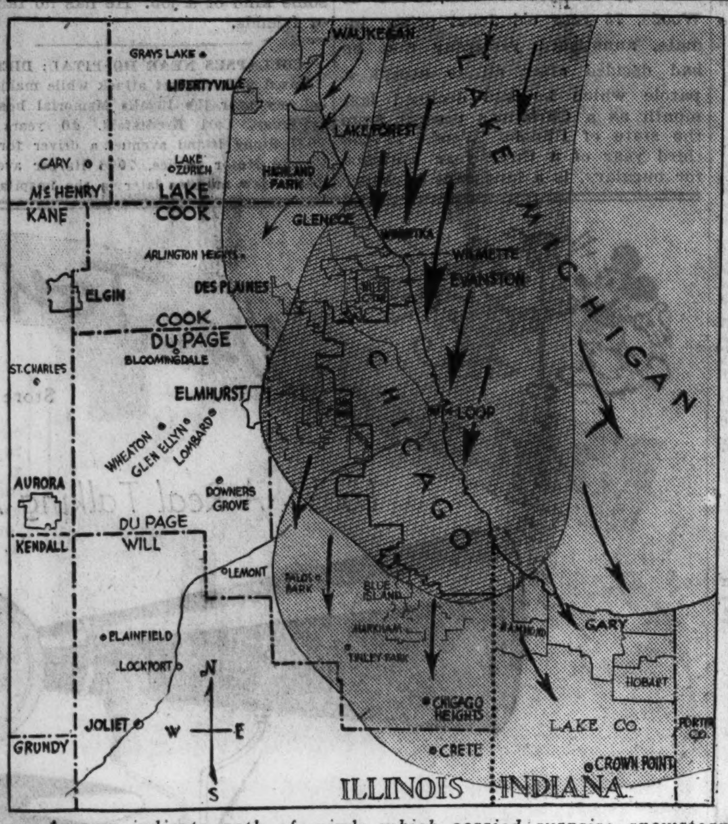
Railroads were also maintaining their schedules, but had called out extra crews to keep switches open in the yards. The street car lines were running slowly, but track workers and brush plows managed to keep the rails free from clogging snow early in the evening. All taxi companies reported a rush of business.

Stalled Cars Delay Trolleys.

Officials of the surface lines reported their greatest difficulty was with trucks and automobiles stalled across tracks. With all of their available equipment working, many of the company cars were being used to tow these stalled vehicles out of trafic lanes.

Loop hotels were jammed to capacity. Reservations began pouring in from individuals and business houses by mid-afternoon. Many theatergoers and those planning to attend the opera telephoned early for reservations, anticipating being held downtown overnight by the storm.

AREA COVERED BY STORM



Arrows indicate path of winds which carried surprise snowstorm into Chicago yesterday. The darker shaded area, from Glencoe on the north to Whiting on the south, with the westermost tip of the curve at Elmhurst, covers the region hit by the earlier storm yesterday. The lighter area, with Waukegan on the north, Des Plaines on the west, and including almost all of Cook county and Lake county, Indiana, indicates the region struck by the later storm.

Policeman Gives Blood for Another

SNOW—AND SAFETY!

Despite the blinding snow which obscured vision and stretched a deceptive carpet over ice coated streets, Cook county passed its fifth consecutive day yesterday without an automobile fatality. Trafic engineers explained that motorists had been driving with increased caution since the first heavy snowfall Wednesday night.

Edward Nolan, 46 years old, 2349 North Major avenue, died last night in the Oak Park hospital of injuries incurred when his automobile was struck by a train on the right of way of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad in Elmwood Park. The accident, however, occurred on Nov. 1. Nolan's death brought the toll of automobile fatalities in Cook county since Jan. 1 to 1,183.

SEEKS REMOVAL OF ARSENAL TO BALK SPY'S WORK

Britain Probes Activities of Woolwich Employe.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 10.—British authorities are seriously considering the transfer of Woolwich arsenal as the result of alleged spying activities of William Burges, second grade computer at Woolwich. He was arrested Saturday on a charge under the official secrets act. The war office has ordered an exhaustive investigation by the intelligence department in order to ascertain whether any information has leaked out.

It is known among other things that Burges was trying to sell to a Pole, alleged to be in the pay of Germany, ground plans for the arsenal showing where the vulnerable spots are located.

Photos Not Permitted.

Except for British military airplanes, the arsenal precincts are a prohibited area for all aircraft and, as no photographs exist, a foreign power having such plans in their possession could deal a deadly blow to London even with an air force inferior to the British.

The arrest of Burges is to be made the basis of agitation in parliament for speedy sale of the Woolwich site and removal of the arsenal to a less vulnerable site. The chief reason against removal is that around the arsenal there has grown up a population which, generation by generation, has depended upon it for a livelihood —father being succeeded by son.

Cost Enormous.

The cost of transference would be enormous, necessitating the building of a new township in the north, and it is even doubtful whether the Cockney workers would migrate to Lancashire where the new suggested site is located owing to their proverbial dislike of northerners.

That the question of the capital's safety may override these difficulties is now considered certain.

STORM TORN JAP SHIP ESCORTED FOR BRITISH CHANNEL

New York, Dec. 10.—[Special.]—The Japanese freighter Victoria Maru, battered through the night by a north Atlantic gale, the captain and two mates dead and the bridge and rudder carried away, today was proceeding slowly toward the English channel under escort.

The ship wallowed helplessly for many hours in high waves before help arrived.

The captain and first mate were killed when the bridge was swept away. The third mate was washed over the side and seven of the crew were hurt.

CRIMINAL COURT CUTS PENDING CASES TO 376

Edward Krol, Henry Novak, Gene Kokorzycki, robbery, sentenced to one year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Denis E. Sullivan.

Only 376 indictments are pending in Criminal court, the fewest in many years, said Chief Justice Denis E. Sullivan yesterday. This contrasts, he said, with a probable average of 800 in recent years. The court will continue its effort to catch up with the grand jury, Chief Justice Sullivan said.

GERMANY TO FREE U. S. WOMAN HELD AS A SPY TODAY

Nazis to Put Her Aboard American Liner.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 10.—Miss Isabelle Steele, naturalized American citizen of Hollywood and Los Angeles, Cal., is spending her last night of imprisonment in the Berlin police headquarters after being held practically incommunicado for exactly four months in grim Alt-Moabit prison.

Early tomorrow two detectives will take her to Hamburg by train and turn her over to Hamburg police who plan to place her aboard the United States liner President Harding. The liner sails tomorrow night for the United States. Miss Steele will occupy a third class cabin.

Miss Steele, a native of Canada who, with her mother and sister, had been in Germany for about two years, was arrested Aug. 10. On Nov. 5 American authorities demanded that she either be tried or set free.

Happy to Leave Germany.

American Consul Raymond H. Geist, who visited Miss Steele this morning, found her happy at the prospect of leaving Germany. However, Geist was not able to determine the real charge against her, except a vague allegation that she was trying to obtain military secrets. There is doubt whether she has any knowledge of her supposed crime. Her offense once was described as "extremely serious" and Judge Zimmer of the People's court said secrecy was necessary because of the many ramifications of the case. Thirty Germans, said to have been involved, were still at liberty, it was explained.

The United States consulate general, which secured Miss Steele's release, is negotiating with the German government for the release of Richard Roiderer, naturalized American, who was arrested June 22 and is still held in Neudeck prison near Munich.

Although the prosecutor in Berlin has received the documents in Roiderer's case, authorities still refuse to reveal what they have against him. The prosecutor is expected to decide whether charges of state treason or high treason will be lodged against Roiderer, said to be a Chicagoan.

Carried Notes on Storm Troops.

The prisoner, who was born in Germany and returned there about two years ago, was arrested by customs officials while trying to cross the border from London to Switzerland. A permit to take $180 in gold out of the country was declared false. It was said a document bearing penciled notations that Storm Troops carried rifles and were trained by army officers was found on his person. He said the notes were for a pacifist article he intended to write.

A third American, George Haller, was released Dec. 6 after spending three months in Mannheim prison for "libeling the German state."

HITLER BREAKS INTO BRITAIN'S NEW WHO'S WHO

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Dec. 11.—Reichsfuehrer Hitler has finally broken into the British "Who's Who" with a three line biography, the shortest in the book. It reads:

"Hitler, Adolf, chancellor of Germany since 1933; fuehrer and chancellor since 1934."

The next briefest are Dictator Josef Stalin of soviet Russia and Mustapha Kemal Pasha of Turkey who get five lines apiece. Premier Mussolini of Italy and President Franklin D. Roosevelt receive a third and a fifth of a column, respectively.

With the death of the Egyptologist, Sir Ernest Wallis Budge, who had two columns, Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university is now in first place with the lengthiest entry—a column and a half of the smallest possible type, listing his honors and distinctions.

Unemployed Children of Britain to Get Bigger Dole

LONDON, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Parliamentary circles today heard that the nation's underprivileged children will get a Christmas present in the form of a dole increase. It was understood a recommendation of the chairman of the public assistance board, Sir Henry Betterton, will provide for an increased allowance for children who are unemployed, of from 50 to 75 cents a week.

LIQUOR LICENSE TEST DECISION INTERESTS BAR

Chicago lawyers were interested yesterday in news of the first case in which a court sustained the power of the Illinois liquor commission to compel the issuance of a retail liquor license previously refused by a municipality.

Mayor H. J. Hilliard of Ottawa, acting as local liquor commissioner under the state law, denied a license to L. R. Jones of that city on the ground that his place was not kept clean. Jones appealed to the state commission headed by Arthur S. Smith of Bloomington, which ordered the issuance of the license. Mayor Hilliard then followed the legal method of appeal laid down in the statute and placed the matter before Circuit Judge Robert E. Larkin. Last Wednesday the court sustained the state commission.

The grounds for Mayor Hilliard's attitude were that Jones' place was not clean, but Chicago lawyer pointed out that similar procedure could be followed in any instance of the refusal of a license by a mayor.

SUPREME COURT ELECTION WILL NOT BE FEB. 26

In answer to an inquiry, Gov. Horner said yesterday that he would not call a special election on Feb. 26, the Chicago Municipal primary date, to fill the state Supreme court vacancy caused by the death of Justice Frederic R. De Young. If he were to issue such a call, he said, there would not be sufficient time to permit the parties to comply with the statute governing the nominations.

Gov. Horner said he could not foretell whether the special election would be called for the day of the mayoralty election, April 2. There have been contentions that it should be postponed until the Superior court election on Nov. 5. One suggestion is that the latter election should be advanced by statute to June.

In the meantime, a justice from a downstate district has been occupying Justice De Young's room in the county building each Friday except when the court is in session at Springfield, as it is now. Since there are six downstate justices, it is argued that this system can be kept up as long as is necessary.

COMMUNITY FUND NEAR GOAL; ONLY $160,000 NEEDED

The Community fund is within $160,000 of its $3,000,000 goal. This was announced yesterday at campaign headquarters, 111 West Washington street, when the report of the public utilities group, headed by G. W. McCorkle, put the fund past the $2,840,000 mark.

For the third successive year this group, having the highest quota of any of the 50 business groups in the trades and industries division, exceeded its goal, raising a total of $175,754 against its quota of $165,000. The final total was revealed when employés of the Chicago Rapid Transit lines pledged $20,964.22.

Campaign leaders, confident now that the $3,000,000 goal is a certainty, awaited the report luncheon at noon today of other group leaders in the trades and industries division, the last division to begin campaigning. It is headed by Clarence B. Randall.

Other pledges of the day were $12,330 from the employés of the First National bank [in addition to an earlier subscription of $40,000 from the bank itself], $284.45 from employés of the commissionary department and general offices of the John R. Thompson company; and $750 from the John R. Thompson company and from Henrici's restaurant.

CHURCH CALLED THE ONE BARRIER TO STOP HITLER

Rev. Dr. Leiper Tells of Struggle in Germany.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

To say "No" to Hitler in Germany since his rise to power has been dangerous. But "puny and insignificant" in influence as Protestantism in that country is supposed to have become during recent years, yet it is that agency which has dared to say "No" to the reichsfuehrer.

This summarizes an address by the Rev. Dr. Henry Smith Leiper, American executive secretary of the Universal Christian council, before an invited group of church and business leaders yesterday in the Union League club. The meeting was held under auspices of the business men's committee of the Federal Council of Churches, Clifford W. Barnes, chairman.

Barrier to Hitler's Ideal.

Dr. Leiper declared that the Christian church is the one real barrier able to stop the totalitarian ideal of Hitler's state, adding that the newly realized international coöperation of Protestantism through the universal council not only has given that faith a new potency in the world of affairs but also has bolstered the immediate cause of Christian Germany in the present crisis.

"The church has become the central point in the clash," said Dr. Leiper. "Hitler's aim has been to take the heart out of German Christianity and substitute a Nazi heart. In such a crisis, men are driven back on to their fundamental philosophy, and this arises in Christian Germany from the church. Throughout the world, thoughtful men now realize that the only basis of democratic government is the Christian ideal of life. When that basis is not found, something is going to happen to the whole fabric, just as has happened in Germany, Italy, and Russia."

Only Church Is Successful.

Dr. Leiper spoke of a recent meeting of Dr. Adolph Keller, European executive secretary of the universal council, with Dr. Albert Einstein. The latter, who is accounted religious neither by his own people, the Jews, nor by Christians, generally, "embraced Dr. Keller, saying that the Christian religion will be the salvation of Germany." Dr Einstein told Dr. Keller he had expected either the professors, the editors or the scientists to abolish the Hitler specter. Instead, "the puny, insignificant church" is being found equal to the task while the "powerful groups remained impotent."

Concerning the expected task to have been performed by the recently deposed August Jaeger, civil administrator of the German state church, Dr. Leiper drew an American comparison. Jaeger's main work was to unite the Protestant and Catholic churches, which, Jaeger said, would be done in a year.

"Suppose," asked Dr. Leiper, "that autocratic power had been given to President Roosevelt, and he, deciding that Protestant and Catholic churches should be united into a single American church, would appoint Jim Farley to put over the job. What would happen to Jim Farley?"

Dr. Leiper accounted for the disappearance of Franz von Papen during the height of the purge. At the time it was feared that he had been executed. However, Dr. Leiper said, Von Papen had taken refuge "in the inner office of the highest official representing the United States."

WORKERS OF GERMANY TOLD THEY MUST ACT AS SOLDIERS OF LABOR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 10.—Workers in Germany must consider themselves "soldiers of labor," Robert Ley, chief of the Labor Front, declared today in a proclamation to 21,000,000 members of his organization. He asserted that it is the greatest and most closely knit organization in the world.

He demanded a roll call at the beginning of working hours and a monthly or weekly reunion of all workers and employers to stress that the Labor Front "takes soldiers as its model." Workers have expressed anxiety about a paragraph in Ley's proclamation which says:

"The labor officer must see to it that the soldier has the wages and bread he needs. If a soldier has any complaint to make he should step out of the rank and file and openly report it to his officer."

Workers fear that this indicates the perpetuation of existing conditions, under which they are allowed to earn a minimum on which they can exist without being able to save for a rainy day.

The reich office for labor placement and unemployment insurance announced that the number of unemployed increased 80,000 in November. This is the first registered increase this year, bringing the official total of the registered unemployed to 2,354,000.

CHURCH AND STATE.

The effort of some clergymen and organizations of clergymen to bring about revolutionary changes in the political and economic order, in effect to establish socialism in the United States, is a remarkable development of recent years. It is a phenomenon which challenges the serious attention not only of all citizens who believe in the American economic and political system but also of all, laymen and clericals alike, who do not think it is the function of clergymen or religious organizations to enter the field of economic and political action and controversy. Recent pronouncements by official church bodies headed by clergymen and speaking through clergymen have read like political platforms, and some denominations have become by this means in effect agencies and adjuncts of the Socialist party.

Any clergyman is free in this country to think and speak his thoughts on public affairs as a citizen, but when he makes use of a religious agency or exploits his special influence as a religious functionary to support his theories of economics and politics he abuses and compromises his religious office. This is not a theoretical distinction but a practical one. When an individual adheres to a religious faith and joins a church he does not authorize its representatives to pronounce upon economic and political interests or convictions. He does not authorize his clerical guides to commit him to measures which they think are conducive to his economic or political welfare. He does not endow them with the duty or authority to commit him to socialism or to use his religious affiliation to foster their own economic and political theories.

From the standpoint of the churches this tendency in the clergy seems to us unfortunate. If through organized pressure it increases the influence of religious organizations in the field of political and economic action, or spreads the fame or notoriety of individual clergymen, it will do so at the cost of their religious influence and of religious unity within the respective churches. The church member whose affiliation is based on religious needs and convictions and finds that his pastor, acting formally or by natural implication as representative of his church, is pronouncing upon economic or political measures and policies contrary to his own beliefs and even his own material interests, must either leave his church or submit to the use of his influence against his own interests as he conceives them and against his convictions.

This is not a predicament membership in a church should involve, but it is one with which millions of church members who do not share the economic and political views publicly and even officially declared by their religious guides are confronted. The predicament of these dissenters is not mitigated by general declarations in favor of the independence of church and state. We suppose such assertions may be taken to mean that their authorities do not favor the control of the churches by the state, but if organized religious bodies and clericals ambitious for personal power and fame undertake to influence public opinion on economic and political measures and policies, to officially criticize the operations of government and the economic, social, and political policies of the state, the practical distinction between church and state will disappear. If this tendency proceeds we shall have control of the state by church or the state on behalf of its own independence will have to control the church. Neither alternative would be conducive to the peace and welfare of the people or of either church or state.

NATURE'S GRAND IN THE NEWS.

An (AP) dispatch from Georgetown, British Guiana, which makes page one, relates the unpleasant experience of five farmers treed for three days and nights by five jaguars on the upper reaches of the Demerara river. The farmers on a hunting trip were awakened at midnight, according to the story, by the hunting cry of a jaguar. Being hunters, they left their guns on the ground and took to the trees, where they were compelled to remain in great physical distress and mental anguish. The intelligent jaguars did not remain hungry themselves. One would stand guard at the foot of the tree and the others would go hunting. Thus, with a portable radio for idle moments, they spent the time more pleasantly than the hunters. With the statement that a rescue party led by the prince of Wales got the five farmers out of their predicament the story ended, but more details are now available.

The feral beasts in this episode were the dished hoof jaguars and the tree was a species of chestnut known as castanea polaris, which grows only north of the arctic circle and cannot be climbed by a dished hoof jaguar. Any other tree could have been climbed even by the dished hoof jaguar and the hunters would not have been safe. The jaguars have become unusually dangerous to human life, it is understood, because the processing tax on wild pigs has caused them to seek other meat supplies, as is frequently the case in such instances.

The habit of leaving the guns on the ground when armed men are alarmed prevails with the farmers of British Guiana because they have learned that it is dangerous to climb a tree with a gun. Many accidents are caused by careless handling in such cases.

Another nature note of no relevance to the above appears in a reassuring letter to the London Spectator from a collector of animals who had given a six foot python to an English preparatory school and who had learned that the parents of the boys were alarmed by the possibilities when their children might be playing with the python and studying its private and public life. The collector assured the parents and the public at large that a six foot python is perfectly harmless, a gentle angleworm which does not know its own strength, and that, in fact, he often had a twelve foot one loose in the house. It is only when a python attains the growth of twenty feet that he becomes nature's most formidable brute. From twenty to thirty feet he is as dangerous as an explosion of TNT and almost as quick in his movements. The naturalist speaks from intelligent experience, and the parents resume sleeping at night, knowing that the little Christmas present is a safe thing to have in their children's dormitories. The British Guiana farmers were in luck that it was not a twenty footer that got them up the tree. That would have been worse than being driven into the sea by a man-eating shark.

ARIZONA AND MANCHUKUO.

Gen. Jiro Minami, who is characterized as a stern and strong willed soldier, has been assigned to Manchukuo as Japanese ambassador, a diplomatic appointment which carries with it the command of the Japanese military forces numbering 60,000. As ambassador he is adviser to the government of Manchukuo and as general he is responsible for the defense and security of the land. In between him, as it were, Manchukuo is an independent nation which other nations protesting against such a matter as the oil monopoly must address directly. Japan respects the sovereignty of Manchukuo and invites other governments to recognize it.

The United States has preferred to treat Manchukuo's sovereignty as fictitious and to deal directly with the government at Tokio. Japan politely indicates that it cannot disregard the true situation. Manchukuo is an independent nation when troublesome questions arise unless they should be questions relating to things that are not as Japan wishes them to be. The oil monopoly does not fall in this classification. It is very puzzling to the American state department, which has to go nowhere in all directions.

The paradox is not, however, wholly Asiatic. A parliamentary question has been raised in the Japanese house of peers. Foreign Minister Hirota is asked if he is quite sure he is doing all he should to protect Japanese farmers in Arizona. They have been treated violently. Bombs have been thrown at their dwellings and their property has been damaged. The prime minister replies that he is astonished by the continuance of the violence, but adds that he does not believe the outrages have the sympathy of the American people, whom he greatly respects.

Hirota cannot deal directly with Gov. Moeur of Arizona although Arizona is a sovereign state. As such it cannot deal with Japan. It is sovereign and not sovereign. It has laws against alien ownership of land. Hirota cannot pass beyond the fiction of its sovereignty, if it be a fiction, and when he deals with the federal government at Washington, as he must, the federal government must reply that Arizona's sovereignty is less a fiction than a fact. There are federal limitations.

If Mr. Hull should say that he cannot understand the Manchukuo situation Hirota might confess himself perplexed by that of Arizona.

AGE AND EXPERIENCE.

[Des Moines Tribune.]

"No student shall participate in intercollegiate athletics more than three years in the aggregate."—Rule of the Big Ten conference.

It is being pointed out that strict enforcement of that rule next fall would eliminate from competition Minnesota's great full back, Kostka, and great guard, Bevan, plus perhaps a couple more.

Since they played full schedules of intercollegiate games as freshmen at Oregon university, a practice permitted on the west coast but not in the Big Ten, they will have become ineligible so far as the Big Ten is concerned.

Well, this newspaper can think of no reason why the rule should be modified or why it should not be enforced.

And the discussion of it brings up old questions about the transference of athletes from one school to another when the coach transfers, and such things.

After all, it appears that Full Back Kostka, though still referred to as a "sophomore" player in the Big Ten, actually had a full year of training as a member of the freshman squad in a Big Ten school, then another full year of training as a member of the freshman squad at Oregon, then a full year as an Oregon varsity player, and then yet another year of training as a member of the freshman squad at Minnesota last year.

So he came into what was technically his first year of Big Ten intercollegiate competition with the added years and experience that normally a university player could only have at the end of his playing career.

He is a great player, and evidently an admirable one. Surely he ought to be.

It would be interesting to get at the actual average age of players in the two or three university teams that are head and shoulders above other university teams of the country this year, just to see what it would show by comparison with the average age of the other teams. And if average years of really valuable playing experience could also be got, the comparison would be still more interesting.

Coach Carideo of Missouri university recently said that his squad averaged not much over 19 years—not much above many good high school teams.

If that is so, how obviously absurd and unfair it is to put such a team up against other teams which may average, say, 22 years or 23, some of whose members have been playing and getting expert coaching for several years as "freshmen" or something else.

One wonders just what the average age and average years of experience of the Pittsburgh university eleven, just for example, would prove on investigation to be, compared with, say, the Navy, which Pittsburgh walloped so handily just the other day.

BUT ME, I'M NOT SUPERSTITIOUS.

Another man, and this makes seven out of the eight who saw the opening of King Tut's tomb in Egypt, has just died mysteriously in London. Old King Tut had a curse on his golden coffin promising swift death to anybody that touched it. It was quite a while ago that old Tut was routed out of his grave, but it doesn't make any difference. When a man dies who was anywhere in the offing when that coffin was opened his death is charged up to Tut's curse. If the eighth man who was there lives to be a hundred and ten and dies of old age the newspapers of that day will say: "King Tut's Curse Descends on Last Man Who Saw Tomb Opened." I'm glad I'm not superstitious. Of course, I won't be the third one to take a light from a match, but that's just common sense. Oh, it's no use trying to explain; you wouldn't be able to understand it any more than if I tried to explain why I heave a pinch of salt over my left shoulder if I spill any. There's some sort of scientific reason for it, but I forget just what it is. But I'm not superstitious. When a black cat crosses my path when I'm out walking I turn around right away and go home, not because I'm superstitious, but I'm afraid that I might have left a window open in the house and the black cat would get in and eat up the canary. Not that I've got a canary, but somebody might have given me one while I was out walking and it's best to be on the safe side in those things. But I'm not superstitious and this thing of people dying because of old King Tut's curse gives me a pain in the neck. And besides, those fellows that opened his grave should have kept their fingers crossed. That would have kept the curse from working. Oh, absolutely!

DAUGHTER ENLIGHTENS.

I had said "No!" uncompromisingly,
And plagiarizing in Edenic phrase
Cobwebbed with wisdom from the hoary past,
Had maundered on, oblivious to yawns
And the impatient tapping of her Louis heels.
"Youth is short-sighted, dear, and very rash;
We older ones have paid a heavy price
For clearer vision and the right to guide.
When you have daughters of your own——"
The brown eyes stopped me with their sudden mirth
As, smiling back, she gently closed the door.

That night, late home from bridge, I stole
To say a silent fond "good night" and kissed
Away a rebel tear upon her cheek.
A crumpled drawing lying on the floor
Challenged housewifely care, and charcoal lines
Age-old maternal curiosity.

Cocksureness poised that slightly tilted head,
A questioning scrutiny filmed the owlish eyes;
Severity belied the smiling lips,
And Buddha, calm exuding, seemed to say,
"'Tis no great trick to run a universe!"
It was a convex mirror, where each trait
Was by distortion emphasized the more.

Seated before a double looking glass
"Portrait from life," I murmured. "Clever brat!
I'm almost sure she meant to leave it there!"

THE FAVORITE QUESTION now is: "Do you think there will be a war in Europe?" That's a pretty hard question to answer. About the safest reply is, "Oh, who do you think I ran across downtown the other day?" Then before they can ask again prattle brightly about the new cocktail you have invented. And then whatever happens in Europe you can always say: "Well, I told you so."

It's all very well for Yugo-Slavia to go mucking around all over the Hungarian boundary and to utter hoarse hoots of defiance to every nation in Europe, but to hurl threats at the poor old League of Nations is not playing the game. Anybody that would hurl threats at the League of Nations would steal its milk bottle from a baby in a perambulator in the park.

"BUENOS AIRES Hit by Heat Wave; Much Suffering."—Headline. What are they suffering about? As I slipped on a piece of ice yesterday and landed in the snow I couldn't feel a bit of sympathy for the poor Buenos Airians. There'll be a lot of us who read about that heat wave down there who will call up the motor clubs right away and ask what state or national highway Buenos Aires is on and how are the roads and could one get down there in time to enjoy the heat wave. It must be a wonderful place, Buenos Aires.

It Would Be a Record—

if we sold the last of the Tender Buttons Linebook today. That would beat the previous best record of twelve days, made last year, all to smash. Because today is only the fourth shopping day since the Linebook of 1934 came out. If I were you and hadn't already got me a Tender Buttons Linebook I wouldn't take any more chances. Of course, some one may give you one for Christmas, but on the other hand they may not. You know how it is about Christmas presents; you very seldom get the thing you wanted most of all. THE ENDOCRINE GLANDS.
PART I.

An automobile that operates smoothly with all parts synchronizing is a marvelous mechanism. Take away the carburetor and you have a functionless, dead machine; have something go wrong with the distributor and your car will not run.

The human body is organized on a far more intricate plan than the most complicated machine, and we are learning almost daily of new processes that occur in the digestion and absorption of food. Explanation, and hence understanding, comes to us year by year of the "why" and "what" of ourselves.

It is only within recent years that we have obtained even a partial understanding of the rôle of the so-called endocrine glands. These structures do not produce an external secretion as do the glands that pour saliva into the mouth. Nevertheless they are secreting glands and the chemical products that they manufacture are absorbed directly into the blood and are carried to all parts of the body. They are therefore referred to as glands of internal secretion and their products are called hormones or autocoids. These autocoids affect many functions of the body as positively as sunlight affects a photographic plate. Furthermore, they control and regulate certain body activities as the governor of an engine determines the amount of steam admitted to the cylinder.

Scientific research has supplied us with many of the secretions of these important structures extracted from the glands themselves and, in some instances, the extracts produce the same effect as though the glands were in active operation within the body. We are frequently amazed at the powerful effects produced by extremely minute amounts of these endocrine hormones.

For a better understanding of processes constantly occurring within the human laboratory we may briefly consider the functions of a few of these important gland structures.

Parathyroid glands: Four of these small glands are located on the back of the thyroid gland proper. Each is about the size of a common garden pea. Because of the necessary removal of the thyroid gland in the disease known as toxic goiter the skilful surgeon makes certain that the parathyroids are not removed or damaged. If perchance they are accidentally removed the individual exhibits symptoms of marked excitability and uncontrolable muscular contractions, sometimes simulating epilepsy. There is a gradual decline in the amount of calcium in the blood and the symptoms appear to be due to loss of this substance in the circulation.

Careful studies have shown that the parathyroids regulate the calcium-phosphorus balance in the body and hence play an important part in the growth of bone. Individuals deficient in parathyroid secretion can be restored to normal only by the administration of an extract known as parathormone, prepared from the parathyroid glands.

Occasionally tumor growths increase the secretion of the parathyroids. In such a situation deforming disease of the bones ensues. Cases have been reported in which tumors involving the parathyroid glands have been removed with marked improvement in the associated crippling bone disease. Overactivity of these glands causes the bones to surrender large amounts of calcium.

A close association apparently exists between the parathyroids and the adrenals in maintaining the normal calcium level in the body. With the normal functioning of both sets of glands—the adrenals and the parathyroids—there is a normal calcium balance. While the parathyroid secretion may take calcium out of the bones, the adrenal secretion may put it back.

The discussion of endocrine glands will be continued tomorrow.

SETTLEMENT OF ESTATE.

Oak Park, Ill., Dec. 7.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—As a matter of settling my husband's estate I wish to have transferred to my name a small assignment in an oil lease in Oklahoma. Upon writing them they tell me I will have to resort to administration proceedings in their state in order to have the transfer made. The estate is being probated in Illinois. This interest in the oil lease is the only property held in Oklahoma. 1. Does it not seem prohibitive to go through administration proceedings for two small units? 2. Do you know of any other way? It is not stock, but an interest in a lease. A. C. H.

1. Depends on the value of the oil lease and on the costs of the proceedings. We do not have the facts on either point.

2. In most such cases the parties dealing with the estate would be satisfied with an exemplified transcript of the Illinois proceedings, but the parties are in a position to insist upon "ancillary" or subordinate proceedings being put through in Oklahoma. The attorney who is handling the probate for you here is in a better position to advise you than we are.

HILL-VERN

If every one had a right to his own opinion there would be no use for "The Debunker," who writes this column. A man may be an authority in one field and be as ignorant as a bushman in another field. Our views do not amount to much when we get sick, have to go to court, or want to build a radio. This is why we have to go to people whose opinions are valid in these matters. False opinions are vicious and are never kept to one's self and thus we do not have a right to any opinion we may care to hold.

GUTZON BORGLUM ON CHICAGO.

Rapid City, S. D., Dec. 4.—Several friends in your fascinating, irritating, mad city have sent me clippings of your recent editorial regarding my comments on the gross misuse of your incomparable lake front and my wanton, may I say, embellishment of an odd cliff in the Black Hills. I think the results are a sufficient defense of that work.

I have reread your cryptic comments, each as I have received it, and your resentment at my having made any comment at all is more apparent than any disagreement with the suggestion that Chicago has blundered grievously in saving her lake by filling it! It is quite in character that you should think "commercial" palaces. Why not have made masterpieces of the Field museum, the stadium—each set in your inland sea? Why not?

To reach Chicago today from the great—always greater—west, to get to the soul and charm of your city, one must fairly wade through the commonness the human expresses in his effort to free himself from his soil. The entrance from the south is no better, some better from the north; once past the outer barrier of commonplace America the visitor suddenly rolls into incomparable Michigan avenue.

It is not unlike rolling suddenly to the edge of some one time abode of the gods, in some remote land where, as if at play, they had begun to build for the joy of it, with the elements as tools and material, then as if interrupted had left their abode incomplete and lopsided. Chicago structurally is not married to nor is a part of her magnificent sea front. She has deliberately divorced herself from her greatest heritage. One must climb into a twenty story toy of the gods to find unspoiled sky and water and land, look over railroad tracks, smoke, rubbish, the city's fill that has pushed the lake away. And then the great disillusionment sets in with a bang—and disgust; again man has failed to make a masterpiece of what the gods began and gave him.

Chicago to me is America's remaining supreme opportunity to rival Athens, Rome, Paris. Will the opportunity pass? Are you going to let the little men of the trader world move in and the great design heaven and big men gave you be lost? It's possible. The great—great art, music, government, great cities—are as rare as real genius.

Chicago is the one city in America I can visualize, with juxtaposition of sea and land, youth, civilization, to be great. Lying at the headwaters of the great inland seas, almost centering two and a half million square miles of valley land unequaled in the world, two thousand miles from the high seas—yet a world port—immature, therefore mobile, she can make of herself anything her brain, taste, and those rarer qualities, courage and leadership, determine.

As I conjure up America's cities—and I know most of them—and I measure their building, their purpose and place in the great world movements, Chicago impresses me as the happiest of them all, and while she seems only to have had impulses of greatness those impulses have been so genuinely great it shocks and grieves me to see her forget her easily accomplished supremacy and lapse into the average commonplace American town. Her immediate lake front is the worst managed, most neglected great opportunity of any similar situation on the continent.

WHOSE RESPONSIBILITY?

Oconto, Wis., Dec. 6.—Today's paper reports William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, stating that there are 550,000 more workless now than a year ago. The total figure now stands at 10,671,000.

Also the Federal Emergency Relief administration has collected statistics to show that the number of people on relief of all kinds has grown from 13,338,000 in September, 1933, to 18,050,000 last September. More than half were on direct relief, which officials call the dole.

Is it not about time the present administration started assuming some of the responsibility for this condition rather than trying to continually pass the buck to the G. O. P.? If poor old Hoover were in office today he would be crucified.

How can the nation's debt be greater than at any time in its history, the unemployment the greatest in history, and still the President be called a great leader?

PLANS FOR THE NEXT WAR.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—I do not believe that any American should ever again be drafted for slaughter on European battlefields as was done in 1917 and 1918. It is true that a sufficient number of volunteers could not have been secured to win the war for the allies. In spite of a flood of propaganda the war was unpopular. A vast majority of the people believed that we should not have been in the world war, and that we could have kept out of it with much less effort than it required to get into it. They believed that our participation in the war was for the purpose of adding to the wealth of munition makers and money changers and to enable them to coin more gold out of blood and tears. They did not believe that it was a war to make the world safe for democracy and to end all wars. Subsequent events have proven that their judgment was sound.

Take profit out of war, give the people an opportunity to vote on any war of aggression, and we will not be engaged in any war that we should not be in.

May we never again be forced into a war as we were in April, 1917. On that occasion the congressmen and senators assembled for the purpose of voting us into the European war. They did not propose to allow anything to interfere with their plans. The debate was limited to four minutes.

I am not a pacifist; I served twelve years in the regular army of the United States and was in Cuba in 1898.

UNPAID SCHOOL BILLS.

Forest Park, Ill., Dec. 4.—The board of education owes thousands of dollars to suppliers dating back as far as 1932. They will not commit themselves as to when these bills will be paid, claiming there is no money in that fund at this time. The law that prevents them from using idle money in one fund to pay bills due in another fund is obsolete and archaic and should be abolished by our learned legislators. In the interest of better local government why not investigate this case and use your influence to see that these patient suppliers are paid in the near future?

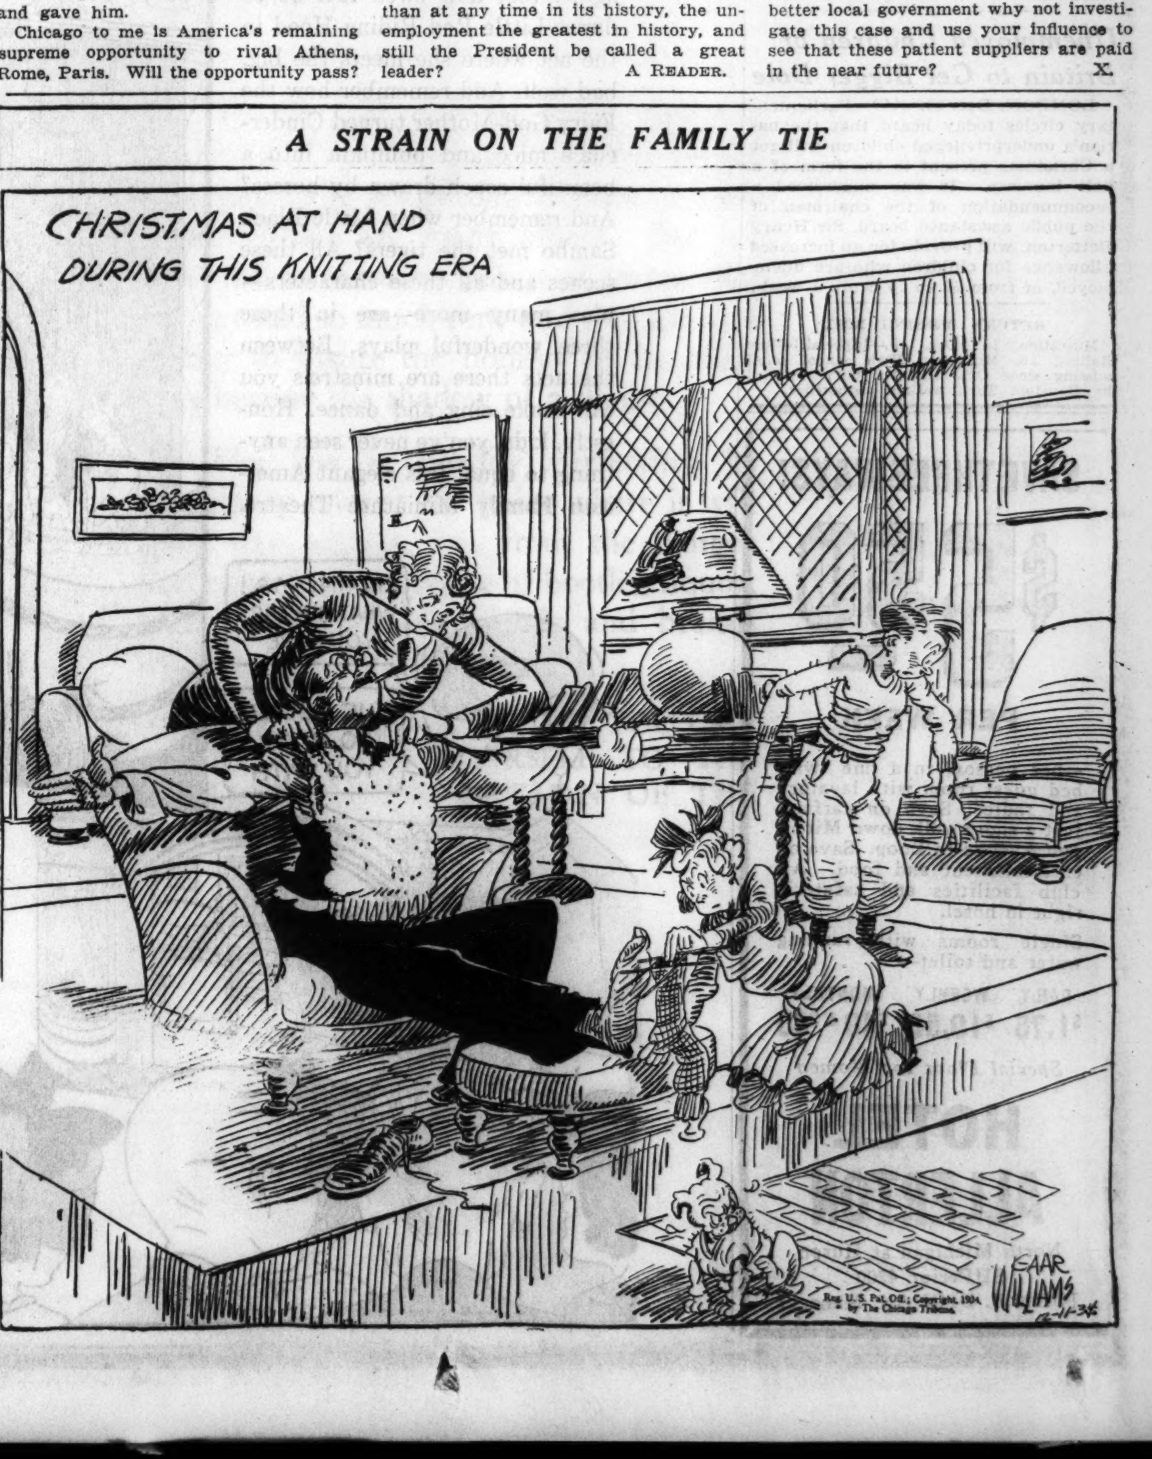
A STRAIN ON THE FAMILY TIE



CHRISTMAS AT HAND DURING THIS KNITTING ERA
GAAR WILLIAMS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.: Copyright, 1934, by The Chicago Tribune.

12 Months of Repeal

ON December 6, 1933, the Repeal of the Prohibition Amendment was ratified —and found Chicago and the nation unprepared.

For many years the country had been flooded with a rising tide of bootleg liquors—some very good, some nauseous, some outright poisonous. Now overnight the sale of these highly questionable liquors became legal. And the public began its bewildered search for something fit to drink.

Hurriedly a mass of legislation was thrown together by city, state and national governments to protect their citizens. But loopholes were only too obvious to the unscrupulous men who promptly looked for them.

Should Walgreen's offer liquors?

At that time the Walgreen Drug Stores were faced with a vital decision: Should wines and liquors be offered in these stores, whose primary functions have been—and will continue to be—those of the ethical pharmacy?

There was no question but that many of our best customers were opposed to the sale of wines and liquors—and might resent their presence in our stores.

Nevertheless, it seemed to us that Chicago was in very urgent need of such protection as our special facilities were best suited to provide.

Events of the next twelve months proved that decision correct.

50% of today's liquors are bootleg

It is estimated that over 50% of the liquors consumed in the United States are bootleg liquors—made from unknown ingredients at some unknown source. Many legal brands of liquors—not definitely dangerous, but practically unfit to drink—evade the spirit if not the letter of the law.

Counterfeit bottles, labels and government stamps, plus the tactics of certain unscrupulous distillers, have left the public with only one real safeguard—a retail source of supply with an unquestioned reputation for integrity and the facilities to maintain that reputation.

AMONG SUCH SOURCES THE NAME WALGREEN STANDS OUT, UNBLEMISHED BY A SINGLE BREACH OF TRUST!

* * * * * * * * * *

In the confusion of those first few months the Walgreen Drug Stores took no part. True, we imported choice wines from Europe, though wines had never before been transported during winter weather. They traveled in heated lighters to the holds of ocean vessels and in heated lighters to heated refrigerator cars, with temperatures carefully regulated to protect them from the chill that ruins wines. And they arrived at our counters in perfect condition.

These "wonderful bargain lots"

All this time we were besieged by men with wonderful bargain lots to offer us. You've no idea of the elaborate tales they told!

The man who took a thousand cases of sixteen-year-old Bourbon in payment of a debt—straight from the family who owned the distillery!

The fellow who picked up five hundred cases of Bacardi from the Cuban refugee! The one who took over a hundred barrels of fine old stock after his brother's warehouse failed!

But the United States Government records show the whereabouts of all bonded liquors. Each transfer is detailed in black and white. So when a plausible salesman—from Newark, for example—offered a thousand barrels of some particular brand and year, it was a simple matter for Walgreen's to learn (1) whether there were a thousand barrels of that brand and year in existence, (2) whether those barrels were in Newark, (3) whether they carried government stamps with the correct serial numbers.

Careful inspection by our representative, in company with a Federal inspector, then determined whether the barrels or the stamps had been tampered with.

A single suspicious circumstance, at any stage, would promptly eliminate the lot from our consideration.

"So they discovered other outlets"

Nowadays these people seldom come to us with their spurious liquors. They have found out that Walgreen's won't be fooled. But they have discovered other outlets—not so conscientious or so well equipped to detect fraud.

In selecting distilled liquors for our customers—either aged or more recently distilled or blended—Walgreen's require four major tests.

1. We study the source. The distillers and their representatives must be responsible business men of excellent reputation.

2. The description of the product must meet our rigid requirements as to purity and chemical content in each price range. Mere absence of harmful ingredients is not enough.

3. Then samples of the liquor are carefully analyzed in our own laboratories or by independent laboratories of high standing—to make sure it does not actually fall short of these specifications.

4. A flavor test by experts must determine that the product satisfies the sense of taste.

Finally the accepted brands are offered to our customers with a scrupulously accurate description of their quality and character.

* * * * * * * * * *

We do not wish to imply that the Walgreen Drug Stores are the only source of trustworthy wines and liquors in Chicago. There are many others But we know of no store, or group of stores, that has devoted so much time and thought and money to insure the honesty of its offerings beyond the shadow of a doubt.

The law is steadily perfecting its machinery toward the point where it will some day protect you from the danger that exists in every bottle of bootleg liquor, and grossly inferior blends and brands will some day be forbidden.

BUT, IN THE MEANTIME, YOU CAN SAFELY TRUST YOURSELF TO THE VIGILANT PROTECTION OF THE WALGREEN DRUG STORES.

NRA TEST CASE ON OIL IS BEFORE SUPREME COURT

tion of the executive orders, or codes, not only for the petroleum but all other industries under the NRA.

"No, your honor, I don't believe there is any official publication," said Mr. Stephens.

"Is there no place where you can get them or find out what the regulations are?" the justice continued.

Attorney Fisher, who also had the floor, declared:

"There is no place where you can get them. The only official repository for the code is the pocket of some agent from the interior department down in Texas. And it wouldn't make much difference if we had the code, or if we found one in the middle of the road—there are so many changes and amendments." This brought a roar of laughter and the justices themselves smiled good naturedly as the marshal rapped mildly for order.

On Constitutional Basis.

"We don't doubt the power of congress to regulate interstate commerce, but it must be done in accordance with the constitution," Fisher continued. "The theory here is that an emergency exists and that congress must regulate the production of oil to keep prices from being demoralized. But congress or the President hasn't found anything wrong with the industry.

"Two bright young magazine writers from Washington made that discovery. They made a survey and came back saying the whole theory of ownership in Texas was wrong. Under the laws of Texas a man's land and everything under it belongs to him. If he wants to dig a well on the border of his neighbor's place the only thing the neighbor can do about it is dig another well."

The petitioners cited half a dozen cases in which the Supreme court held that manufacturing, mining, or production could not be construed as interstate commerce, and in answer to this counsel for the government cited the Sherman act and the grain futures act. He said the court, in the grain futures case, held that speculative sales, although involving no movement of grain, affected country-wide prices and therefore they affected country-wide commerce.

Sherman Act Is Cited.

He said the Sherman act was designed to prevent restraint of trade and protect the public from high prices, while the NRA was intended to protect the public against prices that were too low.

"There should be no distinction between the constitutional rights to protect commerce against high prices and against low prices," Stephens continued. "They are different economic theories but not different legal theories. Since Gibbons vs. Ogden it has recognized that commerce is broader thans transportation. We contend that the existing emergency conditions tend to increase the burden on interstate commerce."

"Who determines whether there is an emergency?" asked Justice McReynolds.

"Congress has declared it," replied Stephens.

"Does that end it?" the justice asked. The government lawyer said the action of congress was not final, but that the court should give due regard to its conclusion.

The arguments of counsel will be concluded tomorrow and the court probably will take the case under advisement.

CHARGES WIFE WITH BIGAMY, ASKS FREEDOM

Milton W. Eifert, 5603 South Bishop street, whose wife, Ethel Beckman Eifert, 26 years old, 3303 West 61st place, was given probation on a robbery charge Saturday, sued in the Circuit court yesterday for annulment of his marriage.

He alleges his wife married him bigamously in Crown Point last June 16 while she was still the wife of Clyde Glen Sanford of Los Angeles, from whom she was divorced here last Aug. 21, two months after her second marriage. She charged desertion.

Mrs. Eifert and Paul Tracy were tried by Judge Denis E. Sullivan in the Criminal court for the robbery of a rent collector at her home Nov. 1. Tracy was sentenced to 1 to 20 years, but on the plea of her attorney, Joseph Becker, Mrs. Eifert won two years' probation after pleading guilty.

CODE A HEAVEN FOR CHISELERS, SAYS AUTO MAN

The retail automobile code is a "chiselers' playground" and even dealers who try to comply with all code provisions are likely to have their Blue Eagle taken away from them, according to E. J. Drije, assistant manager of the Drije Chevrolet company at 6527 Roosevelt road, Berwyn. The concern surrendered its NRA insignia yesterday on an order of the NRA compliance division in Washington.

"We were 'found guilty' without a proper hearing on a charge of violating a code provision requiring that experienced salesmen be given a minimum drawing account of $17.50 a week," Mr. Drije declared. "We were taken in by a man who represented himself as being without sales experience. We hired him because the code permits one beginner on a straight commission basis for each ten experienced salesmen employed.

"When he did not make good in thirty days we fired him. Then he went to the NRA compliance office and filed a complaint, proving that he had experience before coming to work for us. I asked the NRA adjuster if the intention was to lay dealers open to chiselers. The reply was that it was our lookout and that we should protect ourselves by getting sworn affidavits from people before hiring them."

Fourth Illinois Transient Camp to Rise Near Cairo

Another camp for transient relief "clients," the fourth in the state, is being established about 20 miles north of Cairo in Alexander county, it was announced yesterday by the Illinois Emergency Relief commission. Later they will work on a project sponsored by the state department of public works, widening three creeks, building levees, and draining bottom lands.

PRESIDENT, HULL SEE U. S. NEED OF FOREIGN TRADE

Views Are Presented to Farm Bureau.

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—The importance of recapturing foreign markets as a means of restoring national prosperity was emphasized today in a message from President Roosevelt and an address by Cordell Hull, secretary of state, at the opening session of a convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The President addressed the 5,000 persons attending the convention by telephone from his study in the White House. He pointed out that, despite the drouth, farm income for 1934 "is running about a billion dollars above last year."

Mr. Roosevelt expressed the hope that even greater gains would be made next year. This would be impossible, however, he declared, unless industrial production and imports increased in volume and unless agriculture continued to adjust its production to the existing market.

Programs Are Similar.

His thesis was not different from that of Mr. Hull, a native Tennesseean, who left his seat in the senate to become secretary of state, except that Mr. Hull laid greater stress on the importance of foreign trade to agriculture in particular and world prosperity in general.

Although present at the convention, which opened with an address by Edward A. O'Neal, the federation's president, demanding that agriculture be placed in a position of "equality" with industry, Mr. Hull was prevented by an attack of laryngitis from reading his speech. It was presented to the convention by his friend, Judge J. M. Gardenhire, manager of the Nashville office of the RFC.

Strikes at Tarif Wall.

Mr. Hull laid most of the world's economic ills to artificial restrictions on international trade and declared that the United States, in the decade ended in 1932, led the way in raising tarifs to almost prohibitive altitudes. Excessive tarifs, license arrangements, prohibitions, quotas, and exchange controls, he asserted, "are working greater injury to agriculture than ever before." He estimated that 80 per cent of the people of the world were living "around or below the poverty line."

The secretary of state paid his respects to the advocates of national self-sufficiency, declaring again his conviction that a mutually profitable exchange of goods among nations is to be preferred to an economy that implies protection at the expense of national well being. Attempts by some nations to make gasoline from shale and coal at "nearly five times" the normal price of gasoline were cited as an example of the "absurdity" to which the ideal of economic nationalism leads.

4 ARE ARRESTED AS KIDNAPERS OF CUBAN EX-EDITOR

Miami, Fla., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Detective Sergeant E. W. Melchen announced tonight that Roy Gray, chauffeur for Dr. Santiago Claret, had confessed taking part in the abduction of his employer and implicated three other men, all of whom are under arrest.

Dr. Claret, former Cuban newspaper editor, earlier today had freed himself of bonds placed on him by three abductors in time to stop payment on a $16,000 check they forced him to sign.

A squad of detectives had hurried to the bank after police received a telephone call from Claret, who said he had just managed to free himself after hours of struggling in an unfinished apartment.

Claret said he was accosted by three men last night as he returned to his automobile after escorting a woman companion to her home after midnight. At the point of a pistol, he told police, he was forced to enter the car and was taken to an apartment.

The former editor of La Informacion said he was threatened when he refused at first to sign the check, but declared he was not mistreated other than being bound.

Final Report on Corn

December 10, 1934.

FINAL tabulation of results of the various strains or varieties, including hybrids, of corn tested at The Tribune experimental farm this year shows a wide range in yields of ears and stover.

Estimates based on the actual weight of corn grown in rows 136 feet long indicate that yields per acre of ears ranged from 23 bushels produced by Western Plowman to 62-1-7 bushels produced by Hybrid No. 364. Several strains produced yields of stover as low as 2 tons per acre, with Hybrid No. 13 topping the list with a yield of 7 3-5 tons per acre.

During the growing season and even after the corn ripened these striking differences in yields of ears and stover were not readily apparent to visitors. However, thousands of farmers who examined the corn before it was cut and weighed noticed that there was a great difference in the many strains and varieties grown.

Although the test was made in the dryest year in the history of Illinois, thirteen strains or varieties produced 50 bushels or more of ears per acre. Nine produced less than 40 bushels to the acre.

Several different strains of the so-called Krug corn grown in the test plot produced yields of ears varying from 31 2-3 to 56 bushels an acre. Different rows of Western Plowman varied from 23 to 34 4-5 bushels per acre. Will County Favorite, another variety commonly grown in Illinois, produced from 31 2-5 to 36 bushels an acre.

The stover was weighed in the dry state, and naturally weighed much less than it would have if it had been cut at the normal time for silage. Even in the dry state Hybrid No. 13 produced stover at the rate of nearly 8 tons to the acre. Hybrid No. 314 yielded 6½ tons of stover to the acre, and Hybrid No. 172, 6¼ tons to the acre. Six different strains or varieties yielded 5 or more tons of stover to the acre.

The following table, compiled by Clarence Thurow, manager of the farm, shows the names or numbers of the strains or varieties of corn grown in the test plot [all except Western Plowman and Will County Favorite are hybrids], and the yields of ears and stover per acre:

The yields produced in the test plot at The Tribune experimental farm last summer will guide Mr. Thurow in selecting the kinds of corn to be grown on a larger scale in fields next year. Further tests will be made of some of these strains or varieties in the test plot in 1935.

'NRA DEAD AS DODO,' JOHNSON SAYS AS HE AUTOGRAPHS BOOKS

New York, Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Brig. Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, former National Recovery administrator, announced today "the NRA is as dead as the dodo, which is not only dead but extinct."

The fiery administration leader of other days issued that statement at Hearn's department store at Fourteenth street. There he was autographing copies of the two books he had written while he was a lieutenant in the United States cavalry. The books are "Williams at West Point" and "Williams on Service."

Amplifying his statement Gen. Johnson said the NRA does not operate. He announced he has ended all contact with it. When asked if he intended to suggest methods of operation to the present NRA officials he declared: "That was just the trouble. Too many people were trying to tell me what to do."

BRITON DEFENDS USE OF POISON GAS IN WARFARE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Vigorous defense of poison gas as the most humane form of warfare was made befor the Institute of Chemistry at Bristol tonight by Dr. Herbert Levinstein, former managing director of the Dye Stuffs corporation. Dr. Levinstein was one of the chief poison gas experts during the world war.

He claimed that the use of gas and chemicals was an economy of force, materia and lives, and that to blow combatants to bits by high explosives is no less bestial, wicked or cruel than to attack with gas. He pointed out that the military value of gas was fully recognized toward the end of the war. In order to support the claim that toxic substances caused far less mortality than high explosive shells, yet were more effective, he cited the fact that American troops suffered 75,000 poison gas casualties of which only 1½ per cent proved fatal.

"The second battle of Ypres would have been lost by us had the German high command assembled its reserves before launching the first surprise gas attack," Levinstein said.

CHICAGO'S TAX CUTS GREATEST IN COOK COUNTY

Two Suburbs Have 1933 Rates Above 1932.

County Clerk Michael J. Flynn made public yesterday a comparison of the recently computed 1933 tax rates in Cook county with the rates for 1932. He found that the 19 per cent reduction in Chicago's general property schedule exceeded appreciably the tax cuts effected in any suburban municipality. In two country towns, Wilmette and Kenilworth, the new rates are, in fact, higher than those of 1932.

Increases appear in many towns in the rates for village purposes, parks, schools, roads, and bridges. These increases offset largely the reduction in country-wide taxes and the elimination of the state levy by means of the sales tax.

A decline of 59 cents in the levy on each $100 assessed valuation is accounted for by slashes in the county and forest preserve rates, plus omission of the 50 cent state tax. The sanitary district, which covers Chicago and most of the county, trimmed 2 cents off its levy.

Explanation of Tax Rates.

Other reductions brought the rates of Chicagoans for 1933 $1.14 to $1.24 lower than their levies for 1932. In thirty of the more than eighty suburbs, however, the reductions averaged only 42 cents on the $100 valuation.

The general property tax is the levy imposed on all real estate and personal property. The tax rate represents the sum required of the owner for each $100 of assessed valuation.

For example, one owns a parcel of real estate consisting of a house and lot in Hyde Park in Chicago. The assessed valuation as fixed by the county assessor is $1,000. The 1933 total tax rate for Hyde Park is $6.49. That rate applied against $1,000 valuation would produce a tax bill of $64.90, or $6.49 for every $100 of assessed valuation. On Hyde Park's 1932 tax rate of $7.73, the bill would have been $77.30.

Property Owner Complains.

D. F. Peck of 145 Oxford road, Kenilworth, wrote to inquire why the state's saving, at least, could not have been passed on to suburban taxpayers.

"What the state is trying to accomplish for its taxpayers in Wilmette and Kenilworth has been dissipated," he complained.

The 1933 rate for Kenilworth in school district 38 was $6.03, an increase of 5 cents over the 1932 rate of $5.98. The school district rate jumped from $1.50 to $1.99 and the village rate from 96 cents to $1.08. In school district 34 of Wilmette the total rate for 1933 was $4.69, a difference of 7 cents above the 1932 rate of $4.62. In school district 39 the total rate for 1933 was $5.91, or 9 cents higher than the 1932 rate of $5.82. The Wilmette village rate alone was increased from 59 cents to $1.12.

Where Increases Are Noted.

Other suburbs which increased village, school, park or road and bridge rates for 1933 are Oak Park, Park Ridge, Mount Prospect, La Grange, Lyons, Melrose Park, Flossmoor, Evanston, Cicero, Berwyn, Winnetka, River Forest, Riverside, Stickney, and Glencoe.

Municipalities whose net reductions in the 1933 total tax rates were 70 cents or over in at least one school district, were Mount Prospect in school district 38, Lyons in school district 96, and Evanston in school district 76.

CONGRESS PROBE LABOR'S THREAT IN MINE WAR

Harlan, Ky., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—A congressional investigation of conditions in the Harlan county coal field was threatened today as the unions girded for a finish fight to organize labor in that bituminous coal district.

The announcement followed close upon a warning by Adjt. Gen. H. H. Denhardt of the Kentucky National Guard that military rule will be established in the district unless local authorities demonstrate their ability to maintain peace.

The threat of a congressional inquiry was made at Frankfort by Representative A. J. May of Prestensburg after a conference with Gov. Ruby Laffoon, the attorney general, Gen. Denhardt, and representatives of the United Mine Workers of America who are seeking to unionize the field.

Gen. Denhardt recommended that Sherif Theodore R. Middleton be ordered by the governor to "clean up" his force of 100 deputies on pain of removal from office. The general reported that gambling, vice, and other forms of lawlessness are prevalent in the coal district and that most of the trouble is caused by the character of some of the deputy sherifs.

BYRNS WINS BACKING OF KEYSTONE STATE GROUP FOR SPEAKER

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Representative Joseph W. Byrns of Tennessee today became the favorite in the house speakership race when he captured the powerful Pennsylvania delegation's 23 votes.

"I don't think this leaves any room for doubt over the outcome," Byrns said as he shook hands with Senator Elect Joseph F. Guffey, "boss" of Pennsylvania Democrats.

Representatives Sam Rayburn of Texas and William B. Bankhead of Alabama, two other leading speakership candidates, had no comment to make on the Pennsylvania action.

Rayburn was known to have been favored by some administration officials, but President Roosevelt apparently made it clear to Vice President Garner last week he was not going to take a hand in the selection.

NEARLY $700,000 PAID EARLY ON 1933 TAX BILLS

Although the penalty date for the payment of the first instalment of the 1933 real estate taxes is not until Jan. 1, many taxpayers have expressed satisfaction over their 1933 bills by paying their bills early, County Treasurer Sweitzer reported yesterday. Some 3,500 persons, he said, braved the blizzard yesterday and paid a total of $289,496 in 1933 real estate and personal property taxes.

Many of the early payers paid both instalments of their real estate bills. To date, the treasurer explained, a total of $595,973 in 1933 real estate taxes and $84,124 in personal property bills have been paid into the treasurer's office.

George Hagenauer, chief auditor for the treasurer, said that the last of the 1933 real estate bills were mailed out last night and the remaining personal property bills will be placed in the mail today.

7 LAKE STATES MAKE PLANS TO STOP TAX LEAKS

Conference on Problems Opens in Chicago.

Plans for stopping tax leaks which cost states and municipalities millions of dollars annually and for ferreting out additional millions of intangible properties now escaping taxation were offered yesterday at the opening session of the great lakes regional tax conference in the Hotel Sherman.

Establishment of a permanent conference to act as a tax information clearing house for the tax commissions of the seven central western states represented at the meeting was proposed by the Michigan delegates. This, it was pointed out, would permit the lake states to collect taxes on hundreds of great lakes vessels now successfully evading tax laws.

Uniform Tax Laws Urged.

The Michigan representatives also urged passage of uniform tax laws affecting intangibles to prevent large corporations from avoiding taxation by claiming domicile in states not levying against stocks.

Melville B. McPherson, a member of the Michigan tax commission, presided as chairman of the conference.

"The states of the great lakes region have mutual tax problems and coöperation is necessary if these problems are to be solved," he said. "We are losing huge revenues because we can't tax all boats owned in Michigan, especially pleasure craft. An exchange of information would establish whether these vessels are taxed by other states and end this dodging.

Describes Classified Tax.

The Ohio classified property tax was described as a successful method for spreading the tax burden by A. J. Krause, member of the Ohio tax commission. Under this law the state was able to levy on intangible property valued at $3,800,000,000 in 1933, as compared with $902,000,000 in 1930.

The Ohio one per cent property tax limitation, which has been proposed in some quarters for Illinois, is not functioning with complete success, Mr. Krause said. More than two-thirds of the municipalities in the state have voted additional taxes over the limitation, and in areas where the constitutional limit is in effect, county governments are having difficulty in getting adequate revenue, he said. Local option determines whether the limit is accepted.

Today the tax conference will consider new revenues for the schools of the various states. Simeon E. Leland of the Illinois tax commission will speak.

SONSTEBY ORDERS NO STOP ORDERS ON CITY WARANTS

Another legal loophole, whereby trafic offenders and others in the past have been successful in avoiding court appearances to answer the charges against them, was closed yesterday in an order issued by Chief Justice Sonsteby of the Municipal court.

The chief justice directed that hereafter judges of the Municipal courts refuse to issue stop orders holding up warants that have been previously issued. The order will apply to all branches of the court, although the chief abuses of the stop order were practiced in the Trafic court, he explained.

Under the former practice, any offender given a trafic ticket for which he had failed to appear in court and for whom a warant had been subsequently issued, could appear later before any judge and ask that an order be issued stopping service of the warant. "It was the opinion of Mayor Kelly's safety committee that this practice should be eliminated," the chief justice said.

SCHOOL FOR 213 IN TINLEY PARK TO CLOSE DEC. 21

The Tinley Park elementary school, enrolling 213 pupils, will close Dec. 21 and will not reopen after the Christmas holidays because of lack of funds, the Tinley Park school board advised Otto F. Aken, Cook county superintendent of schools, yesterday. The school's five teachers have not received full cash payments for more than two years.

This school, on Harlem avenue in southern Cook county, will be the second in Cook county to close for lack of funds since the opening of the fall term. On Oct. 31 the Steger schools, with 621 pupils, shut their doors and have not reopened.

"This is just the beginning," Aken said yesterday. "Other county rural and village schools must close before 1935 is well under way unless state aid is granted."

STOP THAT COLD TODAY!

Tomorrow May Make It Twice as Difficult to Relieve!

The time to stop a cold is before it gets started! A cold once rooted is a cold of danger! Don't waste your time and run the risk of serious complications by using makeshift methods.

Remember, a cold is an internal infection and, as such, calls for internal treatment. A cold also calls for a COLD remedy and not a preparation good for a number of other things besides colds.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold requires. It is expressly a cold remedy. It is internal and direct. It is complete in effect. It does the four things necessary. First, it opens the bowels, gently but thoroughly. Second, it combats the cold germs in the system and reduces the fever. Third, it relieves the headache and grippy feeling. Fourth, it tones the entire system and fortifies against further attack. Anything less than that is taking chances.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine contains nothing harmful and is absolutely safe to take. For more than forty years it has been the standard cold and grippe tablet of the world, the formula always keeping pace with Modern Medicine.

Every druggist sells Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. Good druggists won't try to talk you into a substitute for the sake of a few pennies extra profit.

When you feel a cold coming on, get busy at once. Go right to your druggist for Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. Always ask for it by the full name and look for the letters LBQ stamped on every tablet.

THEOBALD SMITH, FAMOUS DOCTOR, DEAD AT AGE 75

Long Head of Rockefeller Research Institute.

New York, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Dr. Theobald Smith, 75, president of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research who turned into new channels an entire stream of medical thought, died today.

An eminent pathologist, honored in almost every nation, he opened the way to conquest of typhoid fever, cholera, malaria, and yellow fever.

He proved for the first time that insect hosts spread certain diseases to man.

Dr. Smith died of heart disease. He had been admitted to the hospital to undergo treatment for a malignant growth in the intestines.

In many medical fields the work of Dr. Smith was well known, but he won his greatest fame for his studies of Texas cattle fever. While investigating infectious animal diseases for the department of agriculture, he demonstrated between 1888 and 1893 that ticks were the means of transmission of this disease.

Finds Insects Carry Disease.

This was the first proof ever given that insect hosts are the essential intermediate agencies in the spread of several diseases.

It blazed the way for the explanation of what then were the mysteries of malaria, yellow fever, and African sleeping sickness.

Next to the discovery of the means of transmissoin of Texas cattle fever, his best known research was the differentiation of bovine from human tubercle bacilli in 1896. Dr. Smith's discovery played a far-reaching part in present day control of tuberculosis.

In 1894 he discovered what physicians state was probably the first example of experimental disease due to vitamin deficiency. His early discoveries were of use in the control of diphtheria.

Former Government Man.

Born at Albany, N. Y., educated at Cornell, he was connected with the bureau of animal industry, Washington, and professor at Columbian, now George Washington university.

From 1895 to 1914 he was at Harvard. At the same time he directed the antitoxin and vaccine laboratory of the Massachusetts board of health.

He was a director of the Carnegie Institution, a scientific director of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research from its beginning, later becoming vice president and last year, on the death of the great Baltimore scientist, Dr. William H. Welch, succeeded to the presidency.

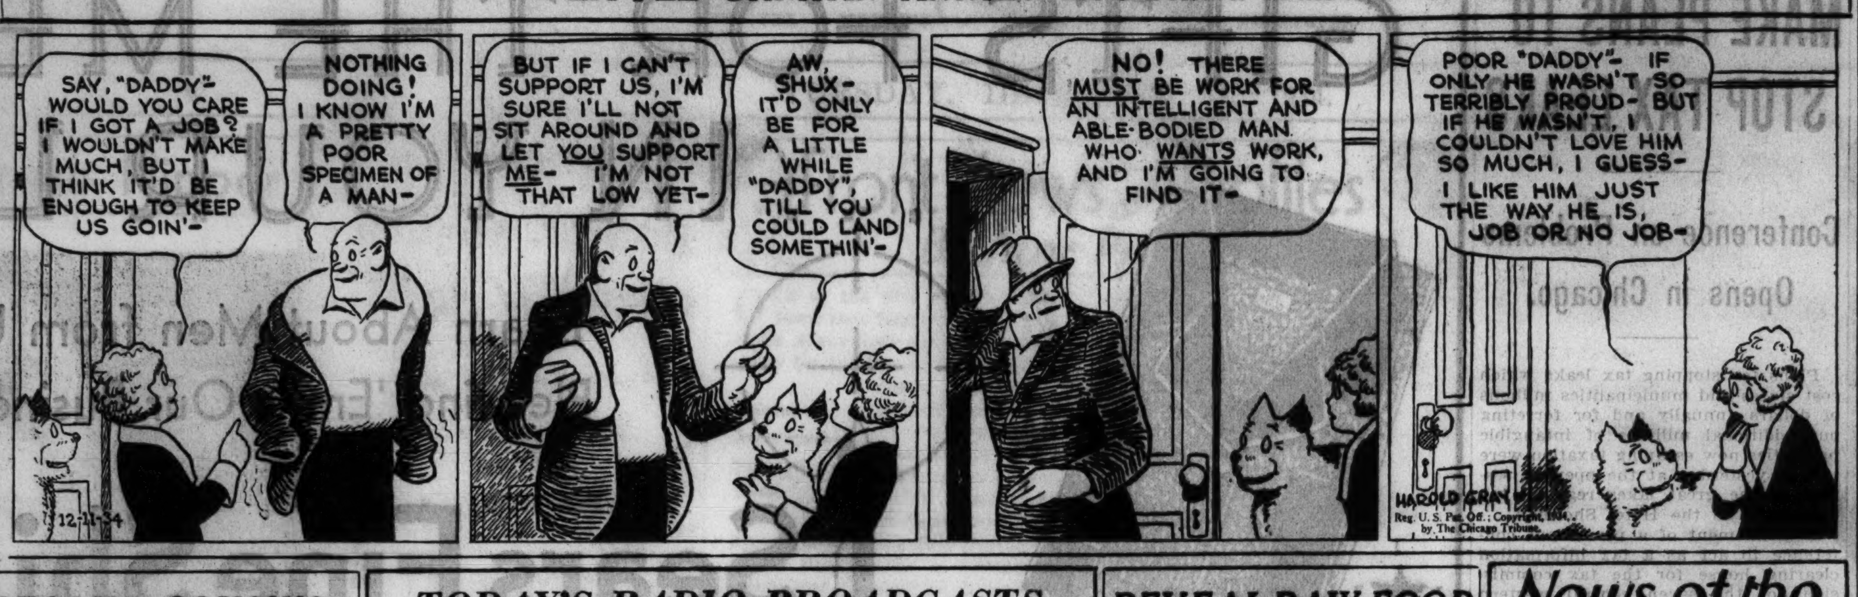
Eleven universities bestowed upon him honorary degrees; medical societies all over the world voted him medals; 13 American medical bodies and 11 foreign ones counted him a member.

His widow, Lilian Hillyer Egleston, two daught nd a son survive.

PopeHo U. S. Will Return to Normal Under Roosevelt

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Pope Pius today expressed hope that under President Roosevelt's leadership conditions in the United States would become normal with a decline of unemployment. The pope expressed this hope to Bishop Joseph F. Busch of St. Cloud, Minn., during a half hour's audience. He requested details of the jubilee celebration of Cardinal George Mundelein in Chicago, which Bishop Busch attended.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: He's Still a Man



SAY, "DADDY"— WOULD YOU CARE IF I GOT A JOB? I WOULDN'T MAKE MUCH, BUT I THINK IT'D BE ENOUGH TO KEEP US GOIN'—
NOTHING DOING! I KNOW I'M A PRETTY POOR SPECIMEN OF A MAN—
BUT IF I CAN'T SUPPORT US, I'M SURE I'LL NOT SIT AROUND AND LET YOU SUPPORT ME— I'M NOT THAT LOW YET—
AW, SHUX— IT'D ONLY BE FOR A LITTLE WHILE "DADDY", TILL YOU COULD LAND SOMETHIN'—
NO! THERE MUST BE WORK FOR AN INTELLIGENT AND ABLE-BODIED MAN WHO WANTS WORK, AND I'M GOING TO FIND IT—
POOR "DADDY"— IF ONLY HE WASN'T SO TERRIBLY PROUD— BUT IF HE WASN'T, I COULDN'T LOVE HIM SO MUCH, I GUESS— I LIKE HIM JUST THE WAY HE IS, JOB OR NO JOB—

SECOND COUSINS TO GET $150,000 HOYNE ESTATE

Public Administrator Halbert O. Crews was appointed administrator yesterday for the estate of William Hoyne, who for 46 years served as dean of the law school at Notre Dame university. Mr. Hoyne died March 28, 1933, at the age of 86. He left an estate estimated at $150,000.

Mr. Hoyne, a bachelor, left no will, and the closest relatives are fourteen second cousins, six of whom live in Ireland, according to Attorney Patrick J. Cahill.

The following wills were admitted to probate and filed with Clerk Mitchell C. Robin:

NOBIA A. FRANKLIN, died Oct. 30. Estate $7,000 to two adopted daughters. Abbie Franklin Jemison, adopted daughter, executrix.

MARY L. BROWN, died Oct. 10. Estate $6,500 to niece. Henry C. Bennett, executor.

FRANK MANTON, died Sept. 22. Estate $7,350 to widow, son, and three daughters. Mary E. Manton, widow, executrix.

CLARA E. FOSTER, died Nov. 7. Estate $5,000 to sister, niece, grandson, and two granddaughters. Anna Cassel, niece, executrix.

MARRIED FOR 68 YEARS, AURORA WOMAN, 88, DIES

Funeral services for Mrs. Fred Glasshaga, 613 South Hinman street, Aurora, will be held from the residence to Emanuel Lutheran church, Aurora, at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Glasshaga, who was 88 years old, died Sunday in St. Luke's hospital after a brief illness. She and Mr. Glasshaga celebrated their 68th wedding anniversary on Thanksgiving day. Insisting on leaving her room for a family party, she became ill and was ordered to the hospital the same day.

Born in Posen, Germany, Mrs. Glasshaga had been a resident of Kane county for about 30 years. She is survived by her husband, six sons, five daughters, 35 grandchildren and 32 great-grandchildren.

CHICAGO MAN KILLS HIMSELF NEAR DE KALB

De Kalb, Ill., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Fred S. Nelson, 62, a resident of Chicago for 30 years, shot and killed himself today while walking along a railroad track three miles south of here. It was said he had been despondent over the death of his wife five years ago and unemployment for the last two years.

He apparently had paid a last visit to a nearby farm on which he had worked when he arrived in this country 43 years ago, and to which he was known to be greatly attached.

REVEAL RAW FOOD FADIST DIED OF POISONED MEAT

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Dispatches from San Cristobal Island in the Galapagos achipelago tonight said Dore Koerwien, grief stricken over the loss of her mate, the nudist philosopher, Dr. Friedrich Ritter, was sailing back to civilization on the yacht of Capt. G. Allan Hancock of Los Angeles.

She revealed details of the death of Ritter, the former Berlin dentist who put into practice his theories of raw food diet. He died, she said, from poisoned meat.

"On Nov. 18," Frau Koerwien said, "Ritter went out to hunt and killed a wild pig. Part of it he gave to his hens, which ate it and several hours later died. On seeing all his hens dead, and being accustomed to depend on them for his chief sustence, Ritter ate what had been the finest of them. After a few hours he realized he had been poisoned.

It is generally believed Dr. Ritter took to the grave with him the secret of the disappearance of Baroness Eloise Wagner, and likewise the possibility of clearing up definitly the strange death of two castaways on lonely Marchena Island.

$140,000 RAISED FOR CHRISTMAS BENEFIT FUND

A total of $140,000 has been raised for Chicago's Own Christmas fund, sponsored by Mayor Kelly, according to an announcement made last night after a meeting held in the Stevens hotel to promote the campaign for contributions. The mayor and 300 business men attended the meeting.

Last year a total of $140,000 was expended for clothing given to 33,000 children. Those in charge hope that the fund will reach $200,000 this year and that 50,000 children will receive garments. Mayor Kelly said that a large part of the $60,000 still needed would, he hoped, be raised at the "Night of Stars" entertainment to be given in the Chicago Stadium on Dec. 19.

The committee in charge of the purchasing of clothing is composed of Col. A. A. Sprague, D. F. Kelly, Maurice L. Rothschild, George W. Young, John T. Pirie, and Robert E. Wood. Col. Sprague is treasurer of the fund and Barnet Hodes is secretary.

JAPAN CHARGES FRENCH OFFICIAL HEADS SPY RING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Dec. 10.—Charges of directing espionage activities among thirty Japanese women, whom he first enticed and then used as pawns, were made today against Tessier Ducros, assistant naval attaché of the French embassy. The women were rounded up by the police and accused of being involved in an international spy plot.

Because of diplomatic immunity, Ducros cannot be questioned or arrested, but it is expected the government will demand his deportation.

Ducros, who resides in International House, an apartment in the heart of the residential district of Tokio, was accused of immorality with a large number of women, whom, it is alleged, he later forced to enter fortified areas for photographs.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Beatrice Lillie was signed yesterday to put on a radio show of her own, beginning Jan. 4 over NBC. The British singing comedienne, who occasionally has been a headliner on the Vallee show, will have complete charge of the half hour program, running from 8 to 8:30 Friday evenings. It is expected that the show will be unusual, for Miss Lillie, who in private life is Lady Peel, has contributed a number of ideas to the stage. She is credited, for example, with having introduced the blackout, now a standard item in smart revues.

Though she made her first public appearance as a choir singer in her native Belleville, Ont., she is today known widely as the "Queen of the Comic Muse." The airways are surfeited with male comedians of every stripe, but Miss Lillie will be the first of her sex to essay handling a radio program of comedy single handed. Gracie Allen and Eve Sully, after all, get a measure of aid from their husbands.

There will be no radio pickups of Johann Strauss' music when he opens at the French Casino this week-end. His management, however, reports several commercial nibbles for the Viennese music. Tom Gerun will provide the dance music at the spot and it will be aired over NBC.

Sponsors of the Grace Moore series will bill her as "America's Darling." This will be the blonde singer's second radio series, the first having been on CBS with Lou Holtz two years ago. The two did not speak to each other during this series, it is recalled, and each left the studios during the other's rehersal.

Countess Olga Albani's press agent sent a little note yesterday stating that she had left a hospital bed to do her NBC broadcast Sunday evening. She was, however, an interested spectator Sunday afternoon at Grace Moore's concert, as were Ireene Wicker and Joseph Bentonelli. Bentonelli will fly to New York this week end to appear with Elisabeth Rethberg in "Madame Butterfly" on the air Sunday evening.

Jack Major, singer and whistler, appearing at the Oriental theater and on the W-G-N Chicago Theater of the Air at 9:30 tonight, is half of the two man corporation owning and operating WPAD at Paducah, Ky. Last night Major made an appearance at the W-G-N Midnight Flyers show at the Blackhawk and the program was picked up and rebroadcast in its entirety by WPAD.

For the opening broadcast of its new show, "The O'Flynns," CBS decided to ask all the O'Flynns in Manhattan to come to the studios. But there turned out to be only one O'Flynn in the telephone book. Disappointing as this was, it was decided to go through with the plan. So the Edward F. O'Flynns were invited. Mr. O'Flynn was laid up, but Mrs. O. accepted.

"So nice of you," she added. "Our radio just happens to be broke."

Mrs. Augusta Jacus, 57, Mother of Flyer, Is Dead

Mrs. Augusta Jacus, 57 years old, mother of the Lithuanian flyer, Stephen Daris, who was killed on a flight to Lithuania when his plane crashed in Germany July 17, 1933, died of pneumonia yesterday in her home at 3241 South Halsted street. COUPLE TAKES POISON; PHONES HOSPITAL; LIVES

New York, Dec. 10.—[Special.]—They looked up the number of the Fordham hospital early this morning, then went to a phone booth at the Royal tavern in the Bronx. The man got the hospital. The woman was with him in the phone booth. He said over the phone: "We are going to commit suicide."

The hospital attendant, as a matter of routine, asked, "Who?"

The man replied: "Shirley Larsen, she's 19, and I am Paul. I've got a wife and two children."

The couple crouched out of sight of those who might watch them. Then the man drank poison, passed the bottle to the girl. She drank some. The call had been traced. A policeman rushed into the tavern and up to the phone booth. He found Miss Larsen and Paul Villanagna, who has been estranged from his wife and children. He is a printer.

Villanagna is in the phychopathic ward at Bellevue hospital for observation. At the Fordham hospital it was stated the girl's condition is not very serious. Patrons of the tavern said the couple had appeared to be quarreling. A suicide note was left on their table as they went to the booth. It had seemed a good idea to them at the time.

MRS. ZAIDE TODD DIES; MEMBER OF PIONEER FAMILY

Mrs. Zaide Murphy Todd, a descendant of one of Chicago's early families, died yesterday in her home at the Orrington hotel, Evanston. Funeral services will be held in St. Mark's Episcopal church in Evanston at 2 p. m. tomorrow. Burial will be in Rosehill cemetery.

Mrs. Todd, born here in 1876, was a granddaughter of John and Harriet Austin Murphy, who settled in Chicago in 1834 and purchased the Mark Beaubien house, established in it the Sauganash hotel on Lake street. Mrs. Todd had lived in Evanston for the last nine years. Death followed an illness of four weeks.

Survivors are a son, Church G. Todd Jr. of Chicago, and two sisters, Mrs. Edna M. Trego, also of Evanston, and Mrs. Joseph R. McAndrew of Washington, D. C.

Hope Hampton Gains Success in Debut Here

THE CAST.

Chevalier des Grieux	Giuseppe Bentonelli
Count des Grieux	Guido Guidi
Manon Lescaut	Hope Hampton [début]
Lescaut	Joseph Royer
Guillot dé Morfontaine	Giuseppe Cavadore
De Brétigny	Wilfred Engelman
Pousette	Hazel Sanborn
Javotte	Lucinda Monroe
Rosette	Mari Barova

Actresses.

Manon's maid	Janet Fairbank
Conductor	Leo Kopp

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Last night's performance of opera had more than one reason to inscribe itself among the important musical events of the season. For one, it brought back after too long an absence one of the most charming operas in the French répertoire. For another, in Hope Hampton it introduced to Chicago the third of three lovely young American artists who happened to appear in the city within 48 hours of each other. The others were Jean Tennyson in opera and Grace Moore in concert.

Still more pleasurably to the point, all three scored successes, Miss Hampton quite as decisively and unmistakably as her two predecessors. She is a slender and lovely blonde, she has a slender and lovely voice that she knows how to use, she wore a series of the most eye filling costumes one is likely to see in this opera. In other words, she was the Manon Lescaut of the Prevost novel and the Massenet score.

It was an evening of gay color, persuasive melody, courtly manners, attractive, if somewhat artificial grace. That is the mood in which Miss Hampton and the rest of the cast played the opera which, after all, is a fairly accurate mood for "Manon."

One imagines that Miss Hampton is due to be heard from in other rôles of this nature. She has the voice and the personality for them. Her voice, while not heavy, is always excellently audible. It has a fine, distinctive quality, and it would seem to fear no high note in all the lyric soprano category.

There were a few times last night when perhaps she underestimated the carrying power of her voice in the vast expanses of the Civic Opera house, but future performances on that stage ought to convince her of the truth, that it was an underestimate. And certainly she knew the rôle. Her performance showed many signs of careful and intelligent study.

One of the heroes of the cast was Mr. Bentonelli. He was called upon at short notice to sing the part of the chevalier to replace Mario Chamlee, who was still troubled with a throat indisposition. Mr. Bentonelli had never sung the part in French, in fact he had not sung it at all, even in Italian, over a considerable period. But he settled down to a course of intensive study, relearned it in French, went on, and scored a success comparable only to that of Miss Hampton herself.

"Manon" is full of high vocal spots, and one can compare her soliloquy to the supper table in the second act with his "Dream"; his "Ah, fuyez" in the St. Sulpice scene with her Gavotte in the act following. These were high spots of performance for both. They received curtain calls until one lost count; she was literally buried with flowers.

One of the most striking performances among the other rôles was that of Mr. Guidi as the elder des Grieux. It had complete aristocracy and dignity in both voice and manner. Other excellent singing was done by Mr. Royer as Lescaut, even though the character was played less rakishly than usual, and by Mr. Engelman as De Brétigny.

IGNORE SNOWSTORM

BY RUTH DeYOUNG.

Despite the old-fashioned snowstorm last night a large and fashionable audience filled the Opera house. Dusting snow from their heels, ermine and sable clad opera goers filed into the auditorium in a happy mood.

For dignified dowagers as well as debutantes and post-debs three foot drifts and ruffled coiffures only added to the evening's entertainment.

Wearing the longest white kid gloves of any member of the audience Mrs. Frederick T. Haskell promenaded through the corridors during the intermissions. Her gown was of royal purple fashioned with a sweeping train. Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis, wearing black crêpe accented by three large red roses at the low neckline, was hostess to a party of young people. Mr. and Mrs. Adlai Stevenson, only recently returned from Washington, were two of her guests. The others were Mrs. John R. Winterbotham Jr., Alexander Knott, and Steven Tobin. Mrs. Stevenson was gowned in black that contrasted with the white crêpe worn by Mrs. Winterbotham.

Another young couple in the main floor audience was Miss Mary Reed, daughter of Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed and one of the season's most enthusiastic opera goers, escorted by Daggett Harvey. Miss Jean Wilhelm was striking in a pencil blue taffeta gown finished with ruchings at the hemline. Equally as attractive was the flame crêpe gown worn by Mrs. James Hume. Mrs. Hume's wrap was a cape of flame and gold brocade.

All the way from Moline came Mrs. Charles Wiman and Mrs. William Butterworth. Mrs. Wiman's two other box guests were Mrs. Joseph L. Hecht and Mrs. Frank Silloway.

Yale Students Will Be Among First at Home

Recruits for Stag Lines Will Arrive This Week.

BY JUDITH CASS.

The first of the young men who will augment the stag lines at all the Christmas dancing parties will come this week, for some of those who are absorbing education and culture at Yale will be here in a day or two. Others will arrive next week and by Saturday, the 22d, when the Princeton Trianglers give their annual show at the Auditorium, practically all the young people who will come home for Christmas will be here.

Not all the young men who will come home are college men, however, for some of Chicago's sons who are pursuing business or professional careers in other cities will be here for the holidays. Two of these are George A. Holloway and Alfred B. MacChesney. The former hasn't been here for several years, so his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Holloway, and his many friends eagerly are anticipating his visit.

He will arrive from New York, where he is living, on the 22d to remain through Jan. 6. After graduating from Yale in 1931 he went abroad as a member of the Yale-Harvard tennis team to play Oxford and Cambridge and then to New York to accept a position. He has seen his family each summer at their country home in the Berkshires, so he hasn't come as far west as Chicago in three years. Unfortunately his sister Ruth, who became Mrs. Edward T. Herndon last October, will not be here from her home in New York for the family celebration at Christmas.

Young Mr. MacChesney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan W. MacChesney, is living in Washington, serving as first legal assistant to James M. Landis, head of the legal division of the securities and exchange commission. He accepted this post last fall just after he had gone abroad to study on a scholarship of the Carnegie Fellowship Foundation, won while he was a student at the University of Michigan. He will arrive on the 22d, too.

Harvard Vacation Shorter Than Some.

Among the Yale students who will come home are Robert Hall McCormick III., Edward M. Bertha Jr., Deering McCormick, James P. Gillies Jr., Joseph T. Ryerson Jr., Corwith Hamill, Joseph E. Rich Jr., whose sister, Bette, is a debutante, and Newell Childs. Garfield King will miss and be missed at the parties here during the holidays, for he already has gone to Santa Barbara to be with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garfield King.

The Harvard men do not have as long a vacation as some of their friends who are attending other eastern colleges, for, although they will arrive the 21st or 22d, they have to return east on Jan. 1. Among the Chicago men at Harvard are E. Wyllys Andrews IV., who last winter dug among the ruins of Guatemala with the Carnegie expedition; Walter and Hathaway Watson Jr., Hobart P. Young Jr., Cecil Barnes Jr., and his brother, Edward, Gordon Palmer, Edward H. Bennett Jr., and Thomas F. Geraghty Jr.

Nelson Thomasson III., Jere Patterson and Donald E. Jerrems Jr. are among the Chicago Princetonians, and Lefens Porter, Robert Potter and Henry T. Stanton Jr. are among the Williams students.

Young Mr. Stanton will be an usher at the wedding of his sister, Louise, to John Dudley Clemens on Dec. 22.

Name Attendants for Stanton Wedding.

Seven attendants will precede Miss Stanton to the altar at 8 o'clock in her parents' home in Wayne. They include her cousin, Miss Julia Keenan of Berkeley, Cal., as maid of honor, and Miss Dorothy Wrenn of New York, Miss Jane Conley of New Jersey, Miss Betty Edmonds and Miss Rosemary Price of Winnetka, Miss Martha Thomas of Highland Park and Miss Emily Richards of Geneva, as bridesmaids.

George Seldon Selmens will serve his brother as best man, and ushering in addition will be the bride's brother, William Forster and John Jordan of

ONE of the nice stories about town that follow in the wake of La Argentina's appearance Saturday for the benefit of the Bohemians is her visit, unheralded and unattended, to the Woman's exchange, where she purchased a nacimientos to be sent to a little admirer in Seville. Nacimientos is Spanish for a Christmas crêche and the only La Argentina selected consisted of a stable, manger, the Holy Family, and a small flock of sheep, all beautifully hand carved. She immediately had her purchase set up in her apartment in the Drake hotel, with granulated sugar for snow and a tiny blue electric bulb anachronistically representing the Star of Bethlehem. She wanted it lighted and waiting for her when she arrived home after her performance at the Auditorium.

Crêche—Americana—Substance—Note.

The moral of this tale, if any, is that it takes perhaps a distinguished visitor from afar to appreciate home wood carving. The crêche, it so happens, had been a lemon at the Woman's exchange for three years. La Argentina's purchase of it was like an electric shock throughout the exchange.

Assuming he was inquiring as to the figure represented, Mr. Deverall replied that it was Mercury. At this the fellow reached out and felt the leg of the figure.

"It's chust like iron," he commented.

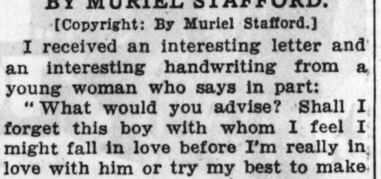
BY MURIEL STAFFORD.

[Copyright: By Muriel Stafford.]

I received an interesting letter and an interesting handwriting from a young woman who says in part:

"What would you advise? Shall I forget this boy with whom I feel I might fall in love before I'm really in love with him or try my best to make him love me? . . . Maybe I'd better forget about having a home of my own since I have never met any one else with whom I felt I could fall in love, and enter the professional world. He likes me, but I am afraid that is all."

This is unusual handwriting as you can see.



I might fall
really in love

Note particularly the very dark pressure and the extreme backward slope. When the slope falls to the left to this degree, it shows that the writer is both extremely ardent and very emotionally repressed.

My dear Miss K:

You feel so deeply—and yet you restrain your feelings so firmly. This is undoubtedly due to a strong nature that you refuse to let rule you. Of course, all this gives your personality the allure of "hidden fires." You both draw people magnetically and repel them at the same time with intense control. They are bewildered but fascinated.

Your keen, well developed mentality is highly intuitive. You are cautious, but because of your intuition you may appear impulsive at times.

If you were a little less timid emotionally, I'm sure you would be happier.

You're afraid of love! Your clever and somewhat materialistic mind says "No!" But in following the dictates of your mind you are not finding happiness. This is the chief reason that I urge you to be less reticent and reserved. Don't be afraid of letting this boy with whom you feel you could fall in love guess that you think him admirable and wonderful. Even if you suffer emotional agony, I believe you will benefit much more from "falling in love" than from never allowing yourself to do so.

Your aspirations are high, but they are much too material. You have a charming personality, but it hasn't warm expansiveness. I should not say it lacks it, but it is locked tightly within you. You have a wonderful mental capacity, but you are becoming introspective and even self-centered.

Yes, you could be very successful professionally. You can do things brilliantly and on a large scale.

You have the perseverance, the force and the talent to do well, artistically or professionally. But don't you suppose you could fall in love, too? I hope you do!

Hosiery Packed in Duets—That's a New Gift Idea

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The best gift idea of the year is the daytime street shades of hosiery packed in duets for gifts. Somebody should have thought of such a trick a long time ago. It's a grand idea for both the giver and the recipient. One pair seems too little and two pairs keep the hazard of matching down to nothing at all. You can find them in every dark and light shade and as sheer as they come, or heavier for service wear, two exactly matched pairs of stockings to the package.

Besides all the cellophane containers, that undoubtedly present hosiery as it should be packed, there are numerous other gift package ideas. Some come in fat, realistic candles, others in mirror topped boxes and still others in boxes with compartments. You pay your money and take your choice.

Take a good look at the newest colored sheer evening scarfs or out-size handkies. They're whoppers, but can be tucked and tied into smart top contrasts for your velvet and satin evening gowns. Most of them are crossed and double crossed with metallic threads.

Shoppers who have decided that exquisite brocaded bags are only for buyers over burdened with money should see a certain collection in town. There are some breath taking beauties for prices that will make the most hardened bag buyer gasp. There are beautiful color combinations, shimmering brocades and most unusual shapes and clasps of semi-precious jewels, each different and each a miracle of design. Some stunning all-black brocades have Chinese red coral clasps. Others are of eggshell color with chartreuse green and lapis blue clasps. All of them are lined exquisitely with satin or silk. They are the finds of the season.

Cohan Master of Comedy in O'Neill Drama

Guild Patrons Welcome 'Ah, Wilderness.'

"AH, WILDERNESS!"

THE CAST.

Nat Miller	George M. Cohan
Essie	Jean Adair
Arthur	Don Shelton
Richard	Elisha Cook Jr.
Mildred	Edith Emerson
Tommy	Freddie Stange
Sid Davis	Joseph Allen
Lily Miller	Catherine Proctor
David McComber	Jack Byrne
Muriel McComber	Ruth Gilbert
Wint Selby	John Wynne

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

Eugene O'Neill was probably tired of hearing that he had no sense of humor. The Theater Guild was probably weary of the accusation that it took no interest in plays of normal American family life. Therefore a mood of reformation fell upon them, and there was a turning over of new leaves all along the line. The result was "Ah, Wilderness!" New York hit of the last season and last night's new play at the Erlanger theater, attended in spite of the blizzard by a full congregation of the American Theater society's patient and eager subscribers.

This piece, which O'Neill subtitles as "a comedy of reminiscence," deals with the sex life of the average American family in 1906, and its central characters are a high school boy in the throes of poetry, love pangs and the "new freedom," and his father, a mellow, kindly and gently humorous type of the small city newspaper publisher. The fact that George M. Cohan acts the latter character, with unction, geniality and many characteristic touches of his unique personal style, puts a special edge of interest on this production. An alliance between O'Neill, the Guild, and Mr. Cohan, for thirty years a leader of the nonintellectuals, is a decided piquant affair, creating a high degree of box office appeal.

The combination, I hasten to add, is extremely happy. O'Neill has written as if the mantle of Booth Tarkington had descended upon him to conceal his morbid, modernistic past; the Guild has attended to the stage direction as if the American family were the chief concern in its sophisticated career, and Mr. Cohan is completely himself—a quiet, white haired man now, but a master comedian with many a sly stroke of eccentric humor to color his rôle.

The importance of the sense of humor that O'Neill manifests in "Ah, Wilderness!" is debatable; it is, perhaps, nothing more than the average feeling of amusement with which a middle aged man meditates over certain ridiculously stormy events of his callow youth. But in its expression it is workmanlike and refreshing, and the performance runs off to more honest laughter than I have heard at a play in many months. The fun is not high, for there is a philosophic tenderness in O'Neill's comic muse, but it is steady. This is humor of the heart, carrying a warm and unwavering glow to its audience.

In turning to comedy O'Neill has avoided the contemporary trend of satire. There is not a bitter line in the entire work, and the absence of the fleering and acrid spirit which has marked so much of the recent output of playwrights is one of its chief charms.

"Ah, Wilderness!" is a truthful evocation of certain aspects of the American family circle in its period. The atmosphere of 1906 has been deftly re-created, and the characters have been studied with honest fidelity to detail. The dialog is a veritable anthology of the catch phrases of the time, and every allusion rings true.

The story is familiar by this time: it deals with a rift in a poetic high school boy's calf love affair; with his attempt to ease his heart break according to the advice of Omar Khayyam and the poets of the Mauve Decade; with his temptation by a harlot in the back room of a saloon; his escape and return home to shock his parents with drunken quotations from Ibsen, and the eventual solution of the problem by his sympathetic and tolerant father.

Mr. Cohan's portrait of the father is a masterpiece in his familiar vein; Elisha Cook Jr., is excellent as the flamboyant lad, and the others in the cast are up to the Theater Guild standard.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

A new perfume for the smart woman rather than the ingenue reaches the heights of subtlety and sophistication.

You'd suspect by a glance at the swanky box covered in champagne colored moire that the perfume which nestles like a finely faceted jewel in its white silk interior is just about the last word in sophistication—and when you've sniffed the scent you're dead certain.

Lord only knows what it's made of, it's such a mysterious bouquet of niceness, spiciness and come-hither that we wouldn't even attempt a guess. It's a striking kind of fragrance, but not loud, the kind that suits the adult smart woman admirably. It's not for the ingénue.

One thing we like about it in particular is that it can be used for daytime or evening or both. In some mysterious fashion its whispers are as harmonious with the tweeds or wools of afternoon as they are with the swish of satin and the luster of pearls worn after dark.

We might tell you, too, that it's so new and so different it intrigues men and women alike. One woman we know, whom we asked to test it out for us, felt immediately that it did for her mood what the right gown or the right makeup did for her appearance and her sureness of herself. But she wasn't prepared for the sensation it made at a dinner party. Following our advice—this is one fragrance that must be used sparingly—she daubed it lightly on her flesh, trying it out as timidly as she would anything rather startling. The way the fragrance of it clung about her and wafted out gently to others was a pleasant surprise. The comments it evoked—and the admiration—made it all so exciting she's sworn never to use another perfume.

It should do as much for many of you. Look at it anyway.

The Forgotten Honeymoon

BY ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS.

Rhoda Cornboise's engagement to Maj. Ralph Stornack is arranged by her ambitious mother. Rhoda is in love with Colin Briarley, who is serving sentence unjustly for the murder of a Canadian solicitor in a London night club. Chief witness against Colin was Stornack, who was the solicitor's host. Jack Caermaen, an old pal of Colin's, is his warder. Caermaen takes Colin's place as prisoner, allowing Colin to use his week's vacation. Rhoda elopes with Colin on the eve of her marriage to Stornack. After a brief honeymoon Colin returns to prison. Rhoda returns home and feigns a lapse of memory. To admit her marriage would be fatal for Caermaen. Her mother besieges her to marry Stornack, who is still willing. He and his confederates know she has inherited the fortune of a Canadian relative. The solicitor had come to London to tell her of it. Caermaen has his solicitor, Jarroman, investigate Stornack. Rhoda is placed under her mother's charge by court order. Mrs. Cornboise takes Rhoda to France, where the son of Rhoda and Colin is born. The baby is left there when they return to London. Caermaen arranges to get Colin out of prison again for a few days. Rhoda flies with Colin to see their son. Mrs. Cornboise sees Colin and penetrates the mystery of his excursion from jail. She threatens to expose Caermaen if Rhoda doesn't marry Stornack. Colin again changes places with Caermaen and arrives in time to rescue Rhoda after she has married Stornack. Colin forces Stornack to make a written confession that he killed the solicitor, and obtains the papers from him which Rhoda had signed, transferring her fortune to him. Stornack admits the marriage was a fake. Colin allows him twelve hours to get away. Then he and Rhoda go after Stornack's confederates, Leningway and Galston and obtain confessions from them of their part in the crime.

INSTALMENT XLIV.

A PRISON RIOT.

"William!" Mrs. Cornboise said. "We cannot help Rhoda to run away from her husband.

"I didn't run away from him. He ran away from me. And he ran very fast, mother. And he'll keep on running as long as he can—unless the police stop him."

"The girl is out of her mind!" cried Mrs. Cornboise. She turned furiously on Rhoda. "You're sane enough to know that you've broken your word to me."

"Yes. I'm very sorry, mother. I gave that promise because I couldn't see how to help myself. And you will be free to ruin Jack Caermaen if you really want to do so. But I don't think you will want to do so. You aren't really malicious, are you, mother?"

"How dare you speak to me like that?"

"O, listen!" said Rhoda wearily. "That clergyman was a crook dressed up. The whole ceremony was a fake, though I didn't know that at the time. Anyhow, the clergyman has run away, too. And that other man—who was a swindling lawyer."

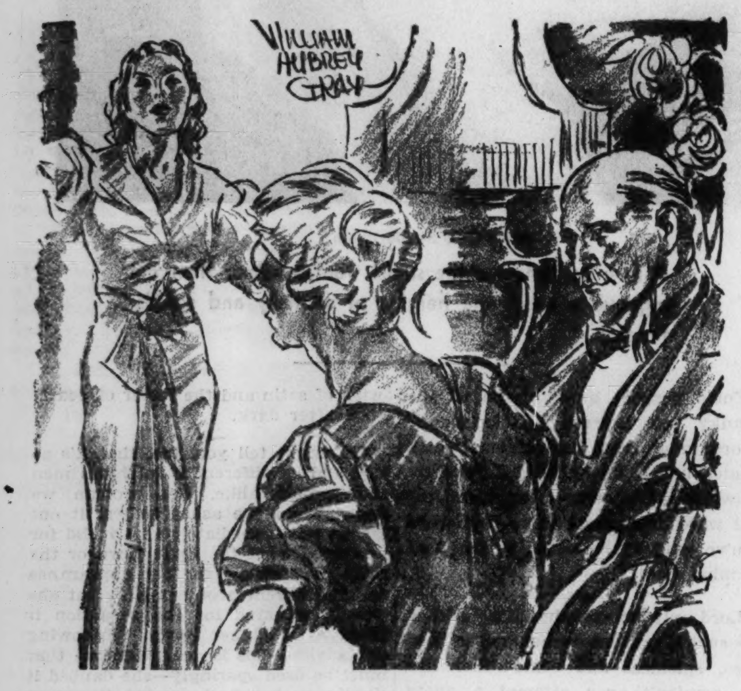
"She really is mad!" muttered Mrs. Cornboise, half to herself. "Dear, you had better sit down quietly."

"But before you send for a doctor—" Rhoda had opened Stornack's wallet—"just read this, will you?"

With some fumbling she extracted the conveyance of her property, and while she was doing so she said:

"Did you know that Uncle Peter has died and left me some money?"

"No."



"I suppose it's no use saying I'm sorry I made you so miserable."

"Maj. Stornack did. After you and father had left the cottage he and that rough looking man Leningway asked me to sign some papers without reading them. This is one of the papers."

Mrs. Cornboise took the deed and stared at it helplessly, then passed it to her husband.

"What does it mean, William?"

In a couple of minutes Mr. Cornboise had digested the document.

"It is a conveyance. It gives Stornack absolute control of all Rhoda's property. It refers to another document, which no doubt specifies the nature of the property."

"Now read this, please."

Rhoda handed over Stornack's confession. Mr. Cornboise read it over his wife's shoulder. Before either of them could say anything Rhoda reclaimed it and put it back in the wallet.

Mrs. Corboise dropped into a chair by the table, leaned on her elbows with her hands pressed to her forehead. Rhoda was sorry for her then, but she could not wholly forget the magistrate's order—the heartless removal of her baby.

"So the end of all the cleverness was that you landed me in for a fake marriage to a murderer!"

"How could I have known all that!" whispered Mrs. Cornboise.

"It was impossible for you to know. But you were in a dreadful hurry to foist me on a man I did not want to marry. You forced me into cheating him by telling him nothing about my child. By threatening to ruin poor Jack you even made me commit what I thought was bigamy. Because, you know, Colin and I are married."

As Mrs. Cornboise looked up, Rhoda added:

"At St. Seiriol's church, Manchester. The day after I ran away. I did not really have a lapse of memory."

"Then you lied to me! Why didn't you tell me you were married?"

"You would have been furious if I had told you I had married an escaped convict. And in your anger you would have investigated and you must have found out how Jack Caermaen helped us—as you eventually did. And you would have ruined him—as you have threatened to do. All I want to know is, do you intend still to expose Jack Caermaen?"

"Certainly not!" interjected Mr. Cornboise. "There have been a great many faults on both sides. You, Rhoda, are laboring under a sense of injury which may have considerable justification. But your mother also has a just grievance against you for your deceiving her about your lapse of memory. If we are to set forth each other's faults and shortcomings—even each other's cruelties—we are all going to be very miserable."

"Then let's stop it all now!" cried Rhoda. She ran to her mother. "Mother, I beg your pardon for lying to you."

Mrs. Cornboise did not shrink away. She looked fixedly in front of her and in the moment of defeat gained a new dignity.

"Everything I did was done in the belief that it was for your good—O, and for your father's and mine as well! I thought Stornack would be able to help your father financially. I may have been willing to sacrifice you, Rhoda. But then I see things differently from the way you see them. Experience has made me believe that if a man is decent and honorable and kind—as I thought that man was—he is likely to make a better husband than a very romantic young man." She looked up into her daughter's eyes and without any flinching added:

"I suppose it's no use saying I'm sorry I made you so miserable. I suppose you'll hate me for the rest of your life?"

"No, no, mother!"

"Then let me—let me go to France—and bring back your child."

"O, that will be splendid!" cried Rhoda. "I must stay here. I have to see a lawyer tomorrow morning. Colin promised Stornack he should have twelve hours in which to get away—in return for signing the confession——"

"Let me see," said Mr. Cornboise, once more "the Professor." "If I understand the situation correctly Colin Briarley is your husband. Is he by any chance waiting downstairs?"

"He is on his way back to prison. But, of course, it will only be for a day or so—now!"

"Then the—er—clergyman and the somewhat unmannerly lawyer and Stornack himself are fleeing from the police. The lawyer, by the way, has probably taken your money with him."

"O!" exclaimed Rhoda. "I haven't had time to think about the money. And I don't suppose Colin has, either. Directly he had finished with those horrible men his only thought was to get back to Mardlehurst."

"Mardlehurst!" echoed Mr. Cornboise. "That word has impressed itself upon me recently. I wonder in what connection that could have been!" He stood for a moment lost in thought, then suddenly picked up the newspaper he had been reading when Rhoda came in. He pointed to a headline running across the top of the page.

"Riot in Mardlehurst Prison. Passive Strikers Refuse Food. Extra Warders Rushed from Other Prisons."

"How sad!" said Rhoda. Her sympathy was for the men who, good or bad, were suffering the horrors of imprisonment. It did not occur to her that the news could have any bearing on her personal fortunes.

. . . .

The hired car made very good running. With one stop for petrol Colin kept up a steady progress. By half past four he had admitted himself to Caermaen's little house and was making himself some tea.

A quarter past five! In a leisurely way he began to dress in the warder's uniform. This would be the last time he would wear it—a wonderful masquerade it had been that had given him Rhoda and Colin Jack—and finally now his liberty.

Good Morning!

It is with pleasure that all of us welcome the recently spanked Mr. Tracy back to our screens. He handed us a good time in "You Belong to Me" and, in "The Lemon Drop Kid" he does a lot for, what seemed to me, a pretty tripe-y rôle.

The story is from the pen of Damon Runyon, whose name has become synonymous with the "different" type of yarn. It is with regret that one discovers "The Lemon Drop Kid" unworthy to be mentioned in the same breath with "Lady for a Day" and inferior to "Little Miss Marker."

There's too much this, that and the other thing to the narrative which covers ground from race track to hick town to penitentiary. Figuratively speaking, it wears three belts, six hats, two pair of rubbers and carries an umbrella in each hand.

"The Lemon Drop Kid"—so dubbed because a hand is forever reaching into his pocket for a lemon drop to pop into his mouth—is a race track tout when the picture opens. He's out to collect dough from gullible track enthusiasts when and where he can—and he doesn't care how.

His ministrations to a shrewd old chap with money and arthritis result in a police chase. "Lemon Drop" lands in the automobile of an elderly gentleman recovering from a bender, and drives him to his home in Kibbesville—the aforementioned hick town. Where—— —He is reformed, married and made a father and a widower by the old man's pretty daughter.

I won't tell you how he lands in the Big House, nor how he gets out. Also, not a word about the "surprise" ending, which proves to Wally that, at last, Fate's got tired handing him a dirty deal and is passing out cards from a fresh, unmarked pack. . . .

Deft acting is contributed by Helen Mack, Kitty Carlisle, Henry B. Walthall and Charles Wilson as the penitentiary warden.

About a Stern Papa.

"REDHEAD."
Produced by Monogram.
Directed by Melville Brown.
Presented at the State-Lake theater.

THE CAST.

Dale Carter	Grace Bradley
Scoop	Regis Toomey
Mr. Brown	Berton Churchill
Baby Face	Le Roy Mason
Donterini	Monte Carter
Pasquale	George Humbert
Mrs. Pasquale	Rita Campagna
Joe	Ed Brady
Landlady	Bess Stafford
Rogers	Addison Page

"Redhead" is one of those programmers about a stern Midas papa, a likable wastrel son, a show girl who ain't what the papers have made her out to be—and a hamburger wagon.

Formula:

Papa throws out son.
Son marries show girl.
Show girl acquires a hamburger wagon, and Makes a man of son.
Papa——?

Write your own answers, alannas.

Grace Bradley, a newcomer, is pleasing as "Readhead." She has an unusual, throaty Ethelbarrymoreish voice and a neat sense of comedy.

Bruce Cabot does well in the prodigal son rôle. He wears one suit that puts your eye out. But he's a great care to his tailor.

Berton Churchill, as Dad-Whose-Patience-Frays-Out, is a nice, believable coot. Regis Toomey forges agreeably into the action as "Scoop," a hard-boiled star reporter with—you've guessed it—a heart of gold!

The director stirred and served adeptly.

See you tomorrow.

Yale Students Will Be Among First at Home

There are many parties planned for the popular Louise and her fiancé, but no dates have been set yet for the affairs. There are also several showers planned. Miss Thomas is having a luncheon and shower Friday at the home of her mother, Mrs. Cary Wood Thomas, in Highland Park. Miss Price will give a luncheon and miscellaneous shower next Monday, and Miss Gretchen Onderdonk will give a luncheon and handkerchief shower the following Wednesday. Miss Edmonds will give a luncheon and linen shower at the Indian Hill club a week from Thursday.

Mrs. Walter Paepcke and Mrs. Ernest R. Graham will pour at the tea the Chicago Players are giving tomorrow from 4 to 6 o'clock at the Arts club for Michael Strange, who arrives today. The last time the visitor was here she visited Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, but this time she will be at the Drake hotel. Mrs. Wolf is giving her a luncheon tomorrow at the Casino, however.

Turkey Dinner of St. James Parish.

That delicious mince meat which the women of St. James parish make each year and sell to raise funds for their charitable work will be on sale in jars wrapped in gay Christmas cellophanes and ribbons at a turkey dinner the women will serve next Thursday night in the parish house, 666 Rush street. It will be used for the pies that will be served that night, too. Carollers, a pianist, and a soloist will give a program during dinner.

Six of the vestrymen, Col. Robert G. Peck, Frank B. Mulford, Eames MacVeagh, Joseph T. Ryerson, Alan C. Dixon, and Orville Taylor, will carve. Among those in charge of the affair are Mrs. Duncan Browne, wife of the rector; Mrs. Dixon, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Fremont Chandler, Mrs. Clarence Doheny, and Mrs. Edward L. Ryerson Jr.

Plan Several Parties for Paul Nordoff.

There is to be considerable entertaining next week-end for the young composer, pianist, and lecturer, Paul Nordoff, who is to be the guest of the Chicago Drama league Sunday evening at a supper party at the Casino. After the supper Mr. Nordoff, who will be the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Pynchon, will speak on "Drama in Music."

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Chauncey B. Borland and her debutante daughter, Miss Martha Borland, are to have a cocktail party for Mr. Nordoff, and on Sunday afternoon Mrs. Edward A. Leight has asked a few friends to meet him at her home at the cocktail hour.

The Italy America society has cards out for a conversazione at the residence of Harold F. McCormick, 675 Rush street, on Wednesday, Dec. 19, at 4 o'clock. Chauncey McCormick, president of the society, is in Miami and probably will not be back in time for the meeting.

Masculine as well as feminine approval will greet the announcement that the women's committee of the Little Company of Mary hospital is to have the first two performances of the Abbey Theater players next Jan. 28 and 29 as a benefit for its charity work.

Mrs. Stuyvesant Peabody, who has given unstintingly of her time and support to the hospital, told of the benefit. The Abbey players have taken over the Harris theater for their Chicago engagement and will give two Irish comedies the first two nights. On the 28th it will be "The New Gossoon" and on the 29th "The Far Off Hills."

According to Miss Harriet McLaughlin, chairman of boxes, the main floor of the theater is to be roped off on these occasions in groups of six seats to increase the number of available boxes.

Joseph Hearne McNeil to Wed London Girl.

Announcement has been made in London and New York of the engagement of Miss Dora Kathleen Harvey, daughter of George Harvey, M. P., and Mrs. Harvey of 176 Cromwell road, London, and Joseph Hearne McNeil of London, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McNeil of Sioux City, Ia. Mr. McNeil has been in this country visiting his aunt and uncle, Commander Frank McCommon, U. S. N., retired, and Mrs. McCommon, at Bayside, Long Island. He is in Chicago for a few days at the Stevens hotel. He studied at the graduate school of English literature at the University of Chicago in 1932 and 1933 under Sir William Craigie. He received his degrees previously at Yale in 1926 and at Exeter college, Oxford, in 1930 and 1932. His maternal grandfather was Dr. Joseph Carter Hearne of San Diego, Cal. Miss Harvey, who was educated in England, was presented at the Court of St. James's several years ago. Her wedding to Mr. McNeil will take place late in January in London, where Mr. McNeil will arrive soon after Jan. 1.

Despite snow banks a large audience is expected at the Woman's Athletic club at 11 o'clock this morning to hear Stewart Roddie speak on "Germany—Disarmament, Revolution, Hitler." Many of those who come for the lecture will remain at the club for luncheon. Mrs. Frank P. Hixon was hostess at the club at luncheon yesterday to thirty of her co-workers for the Community fund.

Maj. Gen. Falk to Speak Today.

Mrs. Hobart P. Young is opening her Winnetka home at noon today for a meeting of the Kaskaskia chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. James Victor Sill, chairman of the Americanism committee, will present Maj. Gen. David Falk as the speaker.

Mrs. Willard W. Jaques will have a Christmas tea at 2 o'clock this afternoon at her home, 5754 Sheridan road, for the members of the Edgewater center of the Infant Welfare society. Each guest will bring some article of food for the Christmas baskets the center fills each year.

One of the important social events of the season in Oak Park is a concert the West Suburban MacDowell association will give tonight in the high school, and many dinner parties have been planned to precede it.

Mrs. Louis E. Yager is president of the association and also of the Civic Symphony orchestra, which will give the program with Margaret Farr, pianist, as soloist.

Doll Program on Friday

Lois Kohout will be one of the dancers at the annual doll program Friday evening at which patrons will donate Christmas toys for child patients at the Cook county hospital.

Yuletide Gifts

Mrs. Patrick J. Newton, 544 South Ridgeland avenue, Oak Park, will give her annual doll party and entertainment at Columbus Park Community center, Central avenue at Congress street, Friday evening, at 8 o'clock. The public is invited. Admission is by a toy, doll, or other gift for a patient at the Cook county hospital.

CONQUERING CONTRACT

By P. HAL SIMS

ADVANCED BIDDING IN REPLY TO A TWO BID.

Yesterday we considered the bidding which could follow an opening bid of two spades on

Sp.—A K Q J x Di.—A Q J
Ht.—A K Q x Cl.—x

when the responder could not raise either major suit. The bidding was as follows: Two spades, three clubs, three hearts, three no trumps [denying three small spades, denying four small hearts, denying the ace of clubs]. Now the declarer must give up slam hopes and sign off at four spades. Having no assurance that he can get to dummy even once, he would probably have to lose a diamond trick even if the king were on his right. We decided, you remember, that the slam would be an excusable risk only if you could trust the enemy to lead diamonds blindly because that was the only suit that had not been mentioned in the bidding. Yet the king of diamonds, which is the key card for the slam, might be in your partner's hand and you cannot locate it or probe for it. Under what conditions could your partner, because he holds this card and has some additional reason which nevertheless did not justify any stronger bidding by him at an earlier stage, make a belated move toward slam by bidding over your four spade bid with which you were signing off at the game level?

Let Us Go Over the Inferences which the responding partner can draw at this time—when you have bid four spades after the bidding exchange set forth above. He knows:

First. You have five spades, for you made a two bid in spades.

Second. You have only four hearts, for had you five hearts as well as five spades, you would rebid them—four hearts over his three no trumps, asking him to pass that bid if you had three small hearts in your hand, as you would now be able to supply normal support for a secondary suit which, having been rebid, is a five carder.

Third. Therefore, you have four cards in the minor suits, not more than three of which are losers, otherwise you would have four losers in the hand and could not have made a two bid.

This much he knows; he may also take it that both your major suits are headed as solidly as they actually are. However, he does not know how your minor suit losers are arranged; you may have A x x and x, or A x and x x or A alone and x x x. Necessarily, if he has both minor kinds, one of them must be a key card for your hand and the other one give an even chance of making the slam by finding the ace on your left. But he must be able to offer a play for slam in no trumps as well as in spades if he assumes the responsibility of overriding your game signoff. If your club holding is a singleton you will eventually slam in spades and trust to an even break in trumps; but if it turns out that you have x x in clubs, then the slam will be played by him in no trumps. Consequently he must allow for this latter possibility and should only encourage the slam if in addition to the king of diamonds his hand supplied also a club holding in which, if the declaration is no trumps,

There Will Be a Finesse to Lose Only One Club Trick.

In other words, to bid four no trumps over your four spade signoff, your partner should have not less than

Sp.—x x Di.—K x x
Ht.—x x x Cl.—K J 10 x x

as six no trumps will be a fine chance if opener has A x in diamonds and x x in clubs, or ace alone of diamonds and x x x in clubs; whereas if opener has a singleton club, he will slam in spades and have at least an even chance to set the clubs for the loss of only one trick and obtain any necessary discards. The gamble is really only on guessing the queen of clubs. Of course, if opener had a singleton diamond and A x x in clubs, the hand should and would now be slammed in clubs, as the four no trump bid reveals a thoroughly serviceable club suit as well as a high diamond.

If Opener's Heart Suit Had Also Been a Five Carder

note that responder must not bid four no trumps over three hearts, as that deprives opener of the opportunity of rebidding his hearts in case that is a five card suit. In the latter event, responder would raise the four heart rebid to five hearts, which opener would pass if he had three minor suit losers in his hand, as plainly the responder has no ace or he could bid six hearts over four, having at this late stage located the trump fit. With a third ace in his hand the opening bidder would obviously bid six hearts, knowing his partner's slam try [the raise to five hearts] must show at least the two missing kings.

Overstressing Defect Lowers Beauty Score

Being Sure of Oneself Is Important.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

To forget oneself, one must be sure of oneself. The line is culled from a magazine I've just been reading. It's a line worthy of more than a little consideration by those of us given to fussy habits and mannerisms.

In fact, this business of being sure of oneself is the code of modern success, whether it's a vocational or beauty career on which you're bent on carving.

"But how," say those of you bowed down with all manner of doubts about yourself, "can I become sure of myself so that I can forget myself?

I recommend as first aid that you stop calling people's attention to those shortcomings of which you are always reminding people. What about that nose of yours? Suppose it isn't perfect? There aren't so many perfect ones in the world, anyway. Why should you feel so slighted by the hand that molded you? What about your eyes, your hair, your feet, your hands? Simply stop reminding yourself daily that you miss perfection on such a feature or features. It doesn't matter if your percentage isn't a round hundred. Good enough for today's adulation that you bat a good eighty. In fact, you can get away with a good fifty per cent perfection loss if you just have that assurance that makes you forget yourself.

There are other avenues down which you may parade, such as charm, grace, good humor, lovableness, all open books to you if you are sufficiently interested. Then there's health that contributes no end of poise which, after all, is what this being sure of oneself really constitutes. You can learn poise, as you learn how to tint your lips, your eyes, your cheeks. You can practice it and you can begin by not embarrassing yourself and others with constant "belittlin'" references to yourself.

You can size up other women fairly and squarely to yourself and realize that the main difference between them and you is that they believe in themselves sufficiently to polish up every asset and forget all about the imperfections that can't be helped.

N. U. Students to Present 'Insect Comedy,' Czech Play

"Insect Comedy," a play translated from the Czechoslovakian work by the brothers Capek, will be staged by the Northwestern university theater, tomorrow, Thursday, and Friday at 8:15 p. m. in the auditorium of the school of speech building on the Evanston campus. The play is a satire on human affairs and thought. John Baird, director of the university theater, will direct. Mrs. Lee Mitchell will stage the dancing numbers.

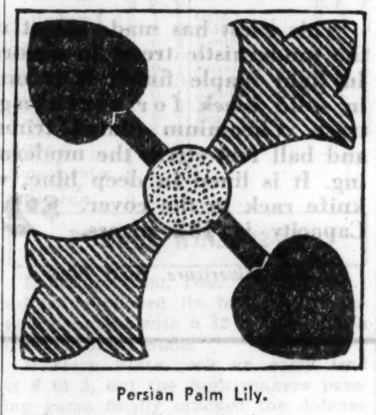
Palm Lily Design Creates Colorful Applique Quilt



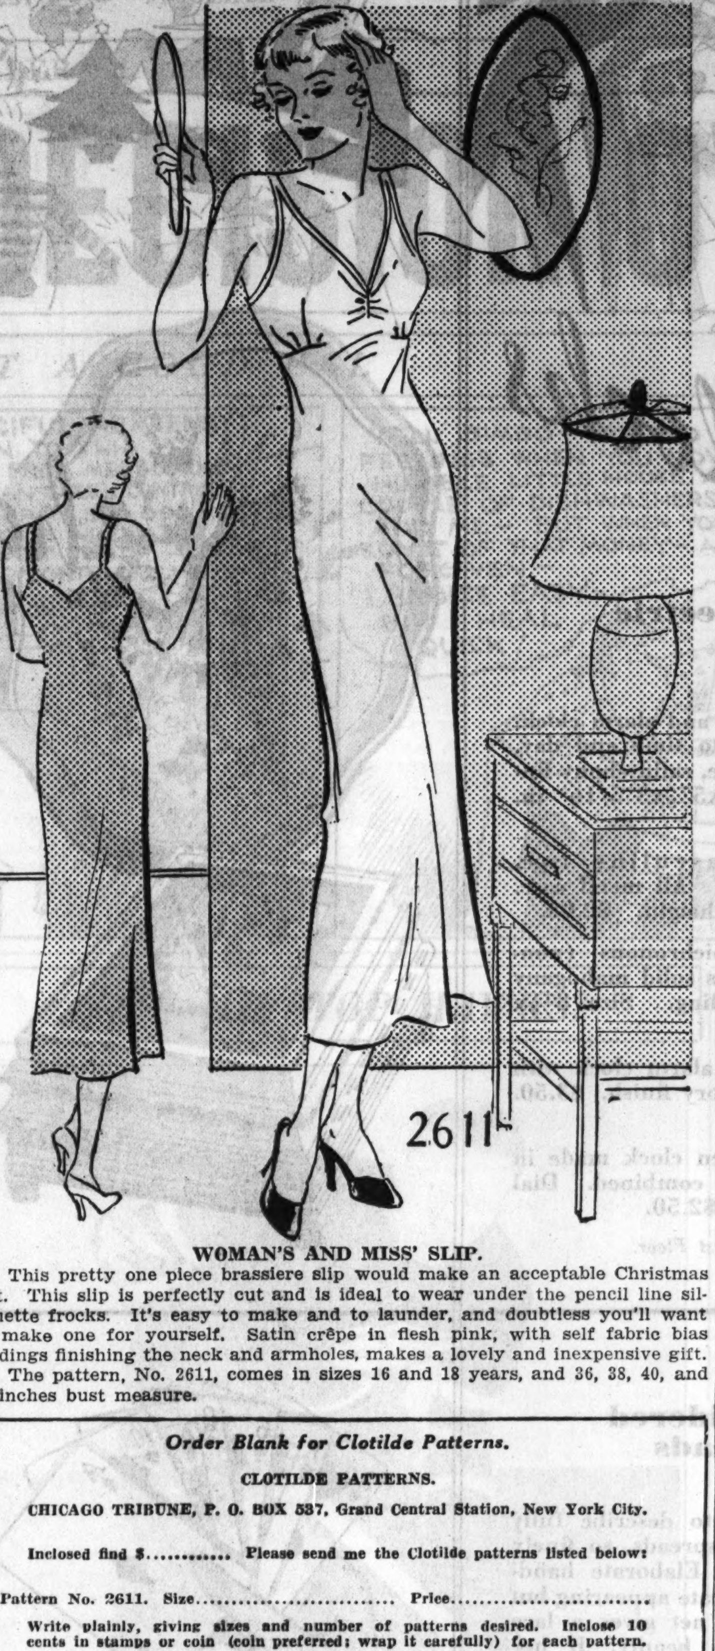
Persian Palm Lily.

Patterns of this quilt design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, One South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Rose, yellow, and green combine to produce a lovely pattern in this ancient applique design. The original "Persian Palm Lily" came from the south and was pieced in red and pink prints and solid green. The blocks are set together alternately with blocks of white. The completed applique block measures 12 inches square and twenty-eight of them are required for a full sized coverlet.

Slip Incorporates Brassiere



WOMAN'S AND MISS' SLIP.

This pretty one piece brassiere slip would make an acceptable Christmas gift. This slip is perfectly cut and is ideal to wear under the pencil line silhouette frocks. It's easy to make and to launder, and doubtless you'll want to make one for yourself. Satin crêpe in flesh pink, with self fabric bias bindings finishing the neck and armholes, makes a lovely and inexpensive gift.

The pattern, No. 2611, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years, and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure.

RemindingMate He's What You Planned Is Bad

BY DORIS BLAKE.

An amusing discussion was held the other day by a group of married women. It got around to queries about how they got on so well with their husbands, for this was a pretty happily married set, with one exception, perhaps. The mild little creature down at the end of the room, from whom was not expected anything particularly bright, volunteered:

"O, I let him think he is getting away with it most of the time. I tell him what he ought to do, eat, and wear. Then he comes around after a while and tells me he ought to do this and that, exactly what I suggested, but I don't remind him that it was my suggestion. That would start an argument and I don't like arguments."

The woman's mother, it seems, had tipped her daughter off to this valuable bit of phychology in male handling.

"But," questioned the known discontented one in their midst, "I should think that would make a perfect boor of a man. A doormat of you, too."

"O no," returned the mild one. "It's when he's expanding on this bright thought of his that I get in my good work. If there's anything I want particularly, that's when I usher in my request. And if appearances don't deceive me," the woman laughingly added, "I think he is working the identical racket on me."

Which may help solve Myra's difficulties as reported by her in a morning's letter, if she'll take it for what it is worth. Myra's tactics plainly are the erroneous ones of reminding her mate that she made him what he is today.

Tribune Reader Earns Money by Making Candy

Contributes Recipe to the Cooking Column.

The booklet, "Famous Yuletide Cakes and Cookies," is on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, for 3 cents. By mail, 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address mail requests to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune.

BY MARY MEADE.

Would you like to earn pin money—and are you fond of making candy? Then let's see how one TRIBUNE reader has dovetailed these two interests for the Christmas season. F. B. H. writes to us from Lincoln, Neb.:

"Enclosed is a recipe for hard candy which has proved most popular among my friends. At Christmas time I make up forty to fifty pounds and put them in small jars that have accumulated during the year. I've been able to realize quite a nice bit of spending money therefrom. The price of course depends upon the size of the jar. Also I have enameled different sized cans, filled them with this candy, and given them as Christmas gifts. I would like to pass on my recipe so that other TRIBUNE readers may profit from it as I have."

And here is friend F. B. H.'s candy:

Hard Christmas Candies.

2 cups granulated sugar
½ cup hot water
½ cup white corn sirup
½ teaspoon flavoring
Coloring

Stir the sugar, hot water, and sirup together thoroughly. Add whatever flavoring you wish and whatever coloring. Boil to 300 degrees F. or until the "hard crack" stage is reached (test by dropping a little of the sirup into cold water). Be exceedingly careful to watch the sirup during its last few minutes of cooking to avoid scorching. Pour it out at once into unbuttered pans and mark into squares.

F. B. H. adds that she uses eight flavors and eight colors, which create an attractive lot of candy and one which sells easily. Her colors are red, pink, dark green, light green, lemon, orange, natural, and brown (combined red and green) Her flavors are raspberry, peppermint, wintergreen, anise, lemon, orange, cinnamon, and clove.

A Lemon Chiffon pie made with milk instead of with the usual water is another contribution of the day. This comes from Mrs. F. S. and is different in several ways from our usual offering:

Lemon Chiffon Pie.

3 eggs, separated
2-3 cup sugar
4 tablespoons flour
1 1-3 cups milk
Juice of two lemons
Baked pastry shell

Beat the egg yolks in the top of a double boiler, then add the sugar, flour, and milk. Cook with frequent stirrings until the mixture starts to thicken. Then add the lemon juice and continue cooking, with constant stirring, until thick and smooth. Remove from the fire and fold in the stiff beaten egg whites. Pour the filling at once into a baked pastry shell and brown in a quick oven.

Now a little turn about for fair play. An unsigned request comes in for the recipe for Egg Foo Yong. It goes like this:

Egg Foo Yong.

(One Dozen.)

10 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup finely cut, roasted, or boiled cold meat, or shrimp, lobster, crab, or tuna fish
2 cups bean sprouts
1 cup shredded onions
Salt to taste

Combine the sprouts (which have been thoroughly drained), the onions, and the meat or fish. Add the slightly beaten eggs and salt. Pour out to form one large or several small pancakes, cooking them in a frying pan containing about one-half inch of hot fat. For large ones use three-quarters cup of the mixture for each cake. Brown until golden, turning to finish the second side. Serve Egg Foo Yong covered with a hot sauce made by thickening any good soup stock with corn starch and adding color and flavor with soy sauce from the bottle. Season the sauce well with salt and pepper.

Keep on Hand a List of Books Children Want

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

There are not many of us who can fare forth with a fat pocketbook at any time of the year and buy the books for our children, young or older, that we know they would love. But Christmas often proves a blessing in that particular, and it behooves us to be ready when the call comes. By which I mean that if you're asked that question we mentioned before, "What shall I give the baby, or Richard, or little Elizabeth?" keep books in mind. And try if possible to have a list for the bewildered gift giver to choose from.

Of course if you're going to continue yourself to stock your child's library by Christmas giving, there's nothing so satisfactory as to go to a good bookstore and handle and turn over and "size up" the books at first hand. But there's always the confusion that results from an embarrassment of riches.

In which dilemma, the good old little list comes in again. With this in one hand and a sweet smile in the other, so to say, you can approach one of the intelligent young saleswomen you always find in book departments and get her to dig out for you the books you like the sound of on your list.

© Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.

There are right books for certain ages—and new ones coming out all the time. If you need help we have carefully made lists of old and new favorites. In requesting these lists please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and state the age of the child you are buying for.

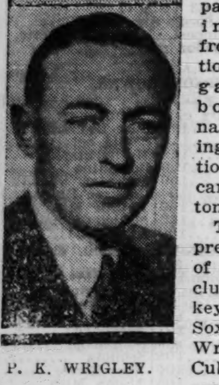
MAJOR LEAGUE OWNERS SPLIT ON DOG RACING

Braves Defend Plan at Meeting Today.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]



P. K. WRIGLEY.

New York, Dec. 10. — Baseball nabobs [slang for magnates of the great national pastime] came into this town from all directions today to engage in shadow boxing preliminary to the opening of the National and American leagues here tomorrow.

The owner presidents of both of the Chicago clubs, Lou Comiskey of the White Sox and Phil K. Wrigley of the Cubs, are on the ground. Mr. Comiskey arrived with his retinue, composed of Vice President Harry Grabiner and Secretary Joseph Barry. Lew Fonseca, deposed Sox manager and now something of a Cecil De Mille in the baseball movie field, came east with the Sox group. Mr. Wrigley, making his first trip out of Chicago on a baseball mission, came east alone.

The vast array of other club officials will come in on several coaches arriving at 9 o'clock in the morning. One whole floor has been reserved for Cub officials at a New York hotel.

Dog Racing Stirs Owners.

For once there are certain matters of policy in the offing which will vie with player swaps at the confab, according to today's forecast.

The biggest National league problem to be solved, it appears, is the matter of whether or not Braves field in Boston may be converted into a dog track evenings, as per the plans of President Emil Fuchs of the Braves.

The biggest American league problem, it is suspected, is to find a place in the league for the great Babe Ruth to light. The American league does not believe the great man should be shunted to the National league and his immediate future is to be taken up as a formal order of business at the American league meeting.

Fuchs Gets License.

The dog track situation in Boston stole the show among the first day gossipers. Judge Fuchs, principal owner of the Braves, has applied for a license to operate a dog track in his ball park under the new Massachusetts race law, which, unlike that in Illinois and most other states, does not frown on the pooches. Judge Fuchs was so convinced of the righteousness of his enterprise that he applied for the license under the name of the Boston National League Baseball club, whereas he might have honored some Harvard professor or Boston author by applying in the name of the Shannon Kennel club, or some mysterious handle like that.

It has since developed that there are many benign gents of influence in baseball, among them one K. M. Landis, long thought to be animal lovers, who now are revealed as haters of greyhounds.

Would Rent Red Sox Park.

At first it was thought that Judge Fuchs planned to have whippets yelping about his outfield in competition with squawking ball players. This was not altogether accurate. Judge Fuchs, who has a lease on Braves field running through 1946, would make Braves field exclusively a dog track, with a view of renting the new and beautiful home of the Boston Red Sox for National league baseball games at the Hub.

Today's development in the canine department was that leaders among the dog enemies in baseball have persuaded the Boston American league club not to make Fenway park available to the Braves if the Braves are chased out of their own home by dogs. Judge Fuchs has not been interviewed on this reported development but is said to be very grim about the whole matter and there is much wondering as to the outcome of the case.

Rumors Link Cubs, Ruth.

During the world series Babe Ruth announced he definitly was through with the Yankees and that he felt free to negotiate for another baseball connection, presumably as a manager. Since then rumorsmiths have placed him here and there. First it was with the White Sox, then Cleveland, and, until a few days ago, with the Boston Braves as successor to Bill McKechnie. Today the guessers came up with a new one: The Cubs have made Charley Grimm vice president as the first step in paving the way for Ruth to become field manager of the Cubs. There is no guess work, however, in the fact that Ruth's status is to be specifically decided upon in formal session of the American league bosses.

One trade was reported unofficially as already made. That would send Johnny Salveson, young Giant right hander, to Pittsburgh in exchange for Leon Chagnon, also a pitcher.

Melillo to Boston?

Boston is expected to send cash and young players to the St. Louis Browns for Oscar Melillo, second baseman, and possibly First Baseman Jack Burns. If that falls through they will try to deal with Washington for Buddy Myer and Joe Kuhel, who play the same positions. Rogers Hornsby is

PRO FOOTBALL LEAGUE OFFICIALS PASS NEW RULES

Design Changes to Help Fans Enjoy Game.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 10.—The National Professional Football league magnates, in annual winter meeting this afternoon, made sweeping changes in the code of rules governing the sport. Professional football, according to today's decrees, will depart further from the code of intercollegiate competition than ever before.

The changes were adopted by unanimous vote of the representatives of seven of the ten clubs in the league and were the rulers' contribution in return for the support of the public, which in 1934 surpassed any previous year in the history of professional football.

Here Are the Changes.

The changes voted today are:

1. All penalties will be inflicted from the point of the previous down, or in other words, where the ball was put into play. This is in direct contrast to the present rules which inflict penalties for holding, etc., from the point of the foul.

2. The defending team may recover and run with any fumbled ball from a scrimmage play. The defense may recover, but not run, after a fumbled punt, place kick, kick off, or lateral pass.

3. A fourth down forward pass which is incomplete in the end zone, or a second forward pass incomplete in the same territory in a series of downs, will not count as a touchback unless the ball was put into play within 20 yards of the goal line. Otherwise the ball will be brought back to the point at which it was put into play and given to the defense.

Lateral Pass Rule Changed.

4. Any lateral pass attempt, which inadvertently becomes a forward pass through misdirection, will belong to the passing team at the point of the "forward pass." This means that a forward pass beyond the line of scrimmage will not be brought back to the point where the ball was put into play and counted as a down. It also means that no 15 yard penalty will be inflicted on a team making an unintentional forward pass after having gained possession of the ball by the reception of a kick or the interception of a pass. A penalty is exacted for this offense under the intercollegiate rules.

5. The ball will be brought into the field 15 yards after all plays within 15 yards of the sidelines. This abrogates the present 10 yard sideline rule of the colleges and conforms to the rules of the National High School Athletic associations.

Veto Touchback Suggestion.

The National Professional league owners turned down the proposal to put the ball on the 30 yard line after touchbacks.

Most important as far as the owners were concerned was the new "waiver rule." After the sixth league game, the magnates ruled, no player may be released until his name has been submitted to all other owners. If any team desires the services of this player, the order of choice will start with the team having the lowest standing after the six game period.

Prevent Switching Players.

This is in accord with the desire to prevent switching of players in midseason between teams so that those having opportunities to win sectional titles may be strengthened. It is likely, so it was reported today, that the player limit will be changed at the next meeting. Under the present rules 25 players may be kept until the third league game, after which the limit is 22.

Five Teams Show Profit.

The owners were enthusiastic over the championship game yesterday.

WAKE MAIL BOX.

DEAR WAKE: While hailing Lindblom's city football champions and giving them full credit for their victory over the Catholic league titleholders, what about a word of praise for Evanston, Suburban league champions.

That Evanston team this year outfought, outplayed, and hopelessly outclassed Lindblom, 19-0. It trounced Michigan City, Indiana champions, 31-6. In its final game it triumphed over East Aurora, 34-0.

Coach Vance's boys won the Suburban league championship for the third successive year. In the last seven seasons Evanston teams have won 52 games and lost 4. R. H. L., Ev. '35.

The undefeated and untied Augustana eleven, one of nine such in the country and the only one in Illinois, holds the undisputed championship of the Little 19. Theoretically it could share titles in two other conferences. The Vikings defeated three Iowa teams, including St. Ambrose, which has a perfect conference record, and two teams in the Midwest conference, including Monmouth, which is tied with Coe for leadership.

This is Augustana's first Little 19 title, although undefeated in 1932. Monmouth that year spoiled a perfect record with a tie game. No title was claimed or recognized. How, then, does Millikin figure a co-championship? Millikin won 5 and tied 1. Augustana won 6 straight. In the last four seasons the Vikings have lost two conference games, the combined margin of defeat being 3 points. They are coached by Shorty Almquist, former Minnesota teammate of Bronko Nagurski. "Fiddle," Augie '26.

Kirksville Teachers' college eleven of Kirksville, Mo., has just completed an undefeated season and has set a record of 26 victories in the last 26 games played. In four years it has lost one game. Our school is small, but we had a squad of 65 candidates as the season closed. I don't think there are twenty elevens in the whole country which could defeat Kirksville. We are coached by Don Faurot, former Missouri player. G. H. Jamison.

Coast Conference Votes to Keep Football Broadcasts

ILLINOIS LOSES TO DE PAUL, BUT WHIPS BRADLEY

Chicago Quintet Scores 29-26 Victory.

Champaign, Ill., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Illinois tonight divided its opening basketball games, losing to De Paul university, 29 to 26, and beating Bradley Tech, 55 to 25.

De Paul, matched against one of the two teams into which the Illini squad was divided, led practically from the start, but was forced to stave off a spirited Illinois rally which came within one point of overtaking the Chicagoans. It was De Paul's eighteenth consecutive victory.

With seven minutes to play Illinois trailed 27 to 16, but Combs, Dehner, and Froschauer scored to make it 27 to 26. Linskey's basket then increased De Paul's lead.

Roy Guttschow led the Illini to their one sided victory over Bradley. He made six baskets and a free throw.

PURDUE WINS, 42-28

Lafayette, Ind., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Purdue opened its basketball campaign tonight with a 42 to 28 triumph over Western State.

Western State took an early lead of 6 to 3, but the Boilermakers passing game finally cracked the defense of Coach Buck Read's crew and Purdue earned a 22 to 17 lead at the half.

Purdue started the second half with four sophomores and Co-captain Norman Cottom, all-American forward. The new combination soon piled up a commanding lead, and Lambert made frequent substitutions for the remainder of the game.

Ed Shaver gave a brilliant defensive performance at back guard until he went out because of personal fouls. Cottom took the high point honors of the evening with four field goals and two free throws.

IOWA, 36; CARLETON, 23

Iowa City, Ia., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—The University of Iowa basketball team defeated Carleton college for its second straight victory of the season tonight, 36 to 23, Coach Rollie Williams using three teams.

Iowa held the Northfield, Minn., quintet to three field goals in the first half and coasted through the second without ever being in danger. With a revised lineup the Iowans ran up a ten to one count in the first ten minutes.

Carleton made its only serious bid early in the second period, when Parker sank three quick baskets which made the score 24 to 15 in Iowa's favor.

Al Bobby, an erstwhile guard who was shifted to a forward, and Ivan Blackmer center, kept the Hawkeyes out of danger with a brace of field goals and then the coach began substituting freely.

WISCONSIN, 33; WABASH, 20

Madison, Wis., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Wisconsin's basketball team showed its best form of the season tonight as

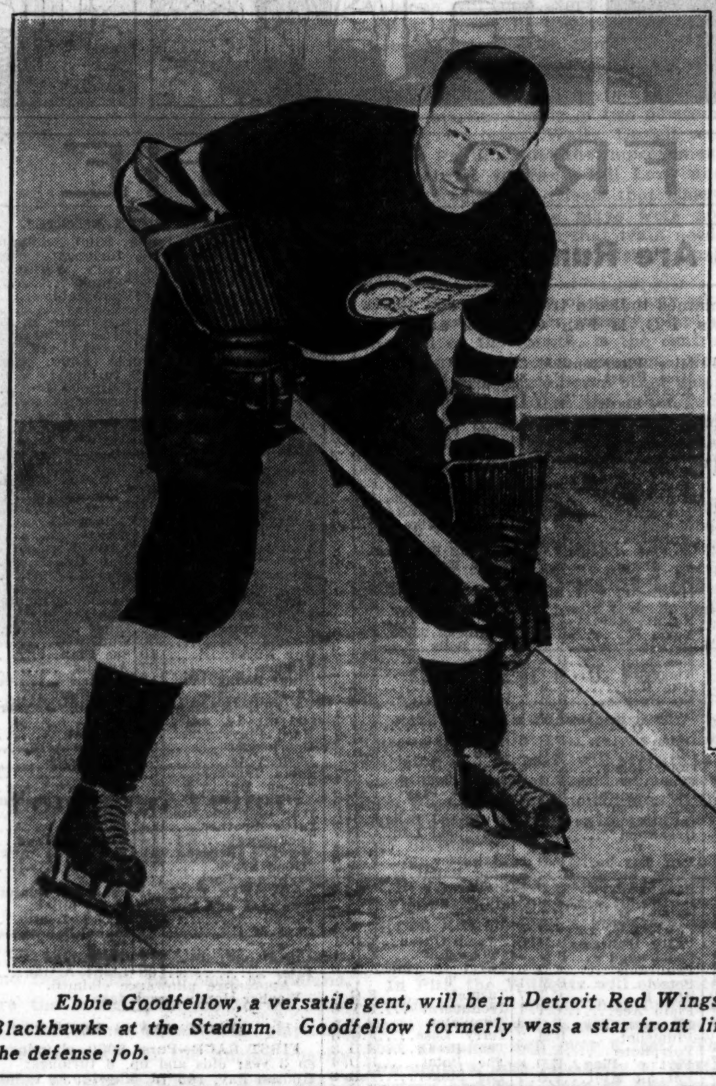
CAN HE STOP HAWKS?



Ebbie Goodfellow, a versatile gent, will be in Detroit Red Wings' lineup tonight when they meet the Blackhawks at the Stadium. Goodfellow formerly was a star front line player and now is just as good at the defense job.

REMEMBER THAT RED WING TEAM? BLACKHAWKS DO

Stanley Cup Finalists to Battle Again Tonight.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Remember the Detroit Red Wings, that spirited band of young men who were just one big peck of trouble to the whole National Hocky league last season? Well, it seems they are back in our midst for the first time this semester at the Chicago Stadium tonight, and as they prepare to meet the Blackhawks there is blood in their eyes and their battle hymn for the evening will be "Remember the 10th of April!"

The 10th of last April was indeed a fateful night in the youthful careers of the rambunctious Red Wings, and one well remembered by all hocky fans who were present at the Stadium that evening. The Wings had played hob with everybody about to win the league championship, and came up to the Stanley cup finals with only the Hawks between them and a world title. The Chicagoans got the jump on them on Detroit ice, and finally it came down to April 10, with the Hawks needing a victory to clinch the cup. After 90 minutes and 5 seconds of the year's most thrilling hocky, Doc Romnes passed to Mush March near the Detroit goal, and the Hawks' smallest man fired the puck past Wilf Cude for the decision.

Norris to See Game.

The memory of that defeat probably would be sufficient incentive for the Wings tonight, but there are other and more current matters surrounding the contest. One of them will be James Norris Sr., the wealthy Chicagoan who owns the Wings and is as rabid a fan as you will find in the top gallery of the Stadium.

Detroit boasts not only of one of the game's smartest heads in Manager Jack Adams, but has a team of which any one could well be proud. Leading the Wings will be Ebenezer Goodfellow, better known as Ebbie, whom Adams considers one of the best all around players in hocky history. Ebbie has done nothing to mar that boast. Born at Ottawa on April 9, 1907, Goodfellow has an ideal personal structure for hocky, standing 5 feet 11¼ inches and weighing 185 pounds. He made good first with the Montagnards of his home town, and soon got a test with the Detroit Olympics of the International league.

Good? Plenty Good!

The young man was so good there that he led the league in the 1928-'29 season, and promptly was taken over by the Wings. In 1930-'31 he was so hot that he led the American division with 48 points, only a point separating him from Howie Morenz for the league scoring title. It appeared he was a natural center and destined to remain so, but Adams had other ideas. Last year he stationed Ebbie at defense, and the big boy proved he was just as good there without losing any of his scoring ability. He collected 26 points in the regular season and 7 in the Stanley cup play.

Goodfellow has plenty of people up in front of him to pass to, and they have worked so well together thus far that Detroit has dominated the individual scoring in the American section. One of them, Johnny Sorrell, is leading the division, and Goodfellow and Ralph Weiland, the latter holder of the world's scoring record, are tied for second place. Larry Aurie, another Wing, and Eddie Wiseman, once of the Chicago Shamrocks, are also up there. Furthermore, the Wings are not crying over the loss of Wilf Cude, the goalie sensation of last season, who is doing none too well with the Canadiens. In his place is young Normie Smith, who is doing a neat job.

Abe Espinosa Leads Field in Miami Biltmore Golf

Miami Fla., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Abe Espinosa of Chicago today conquered a strong chilly wind to lead half of the field of 300 golfers at the thirty-six hole mark in the $12,500 Miami open golf tournament. Espinosa shot a 72 today and has a total of 146.

The remainder of the entries play their second eighteen hole round tomorrow, with the finals set for Thursday.

The pro from Chicago toured the first nine holes of today's round in par 35, taking a birdie 4 on the first hole and going 1 over par on the sixth. He came home with 37, 1 over par.

Farrell Shoots 147.

Espinosa is competing in the second division, composed largely of players who seldom or never participate in golf classics.

Trailing the Chicagoan by 1 stroke to tie for the lead in the first division came Johnny Farrell of Short Hills, N. J., and Orville White, also of Chicago, whose 147s were equaled by Mike Turnesa of Elmsford, a second division entry. The first division is made up of golfers who finished among the low 60s and ties in the last P. G. A. tournament, and the low 30s and ties in the national open.

White breezed around the first nine holes in 33, two under par, the lowest score of the tournament for that route so far, and came home with a perfect 36 for a 69. Farrell took a 37—36 for a 73 to go with a 74, while Turnesa collected a 36—38—74 to add to his previous 73.

Schmutte Drops Back.

A stroke farther back, tied at 148, were Leonard B. Schmutte of Findlay, O., whose 72 led the field Saturday, and Clarence Clark of Bloomfield, N. J. Schmutte slipped back to 76 today while Clark equalled his previous score of 74.

Finishing in the 149 class came Jake Frassezke of Jackson, Mich., and Maurrie O'Connor of Belleville, N. J. Frassezke scored a pair of 38s today to add to his previous 73 while O'Connor took a 73 to go with a 76.

Four first division campaigners — Tommy Armour of Medinah, Ill.; Phil Perkins of Willoughby, O.; Gene Kunes of Norristown, Pa., and Wiffy Cox of Brooklyn—wound up in next place at 150 tied with Sonny Rouse of Highland Park, Ill., and Jack Forrester of Ordell, N. J. Armour posted a 77—73; Perkins, 76—74; Cox, 75—75, and Kunes, 73—77, while Rouse took a pair of 75s and Forrester 76—74.

MacFarlane Scores 151.

Willie MacFarlane of Oak Ridge, N. J., the defending champion, tied at 151 with two other first entries, Ralph Stonehouse of Indianapolis and Al Houghton of Washington, and one second division player, Joe Lally of Hollywood, Fla.

Billy Burke of Cleveland, another first division player, collected 77—75 to tie at 152 with Bob Miller of Jacksonville, Fla.; Paul Strauch of Hastings, Neb., and Bob Randall of Cleveland, three golfers from the second group.

JEWEL ENS TO COACH PIRATES NEXT SEASON

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 10.—(AP)—The veteran Jewel Ens of St. Louis, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates from 1929 to 1931, today signed a contract to coach and act as a chief-of-staf to Manager Pie Traynor in the 1935 campaign.

Traynor was just the team's third baseman when Ens became manager of the Pirates in 1929. Two years later Ens made way for George Gibson, who in turn gave way before Traynor. Club officials, who obtained him from the Boston Braves, announced he has signed a one year contract.

Traynor and Ens left tonight for New York to attend the annual big leagues meeting. Traynor stated he's "in the market" for a player deal or two.

BARNEY KEEPS TITLE IN JUNIOR WELTER CLASS

11,500 See Christmas Charity Show.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Barney Ross of Chicago retained the junior welterweight boxing championship tonight when he won a 12 round decision over Bobby Pacho, California Mexican, before a crowd of 11,500. Receipts were $30,000, of which $10,000 will go into a fund to buy Christmas toys for Cleveland's needy children.

Ross, who is also lightweight titleholder, had trouble hitting Pacho in several of the early rounds, and the battle seemed likely to be a replica of their bout on the coast March 27, in which Barney won a disputed decision. One of Ross' best punches was a left to the chin in the third, which rocked Pacho and forced him to clinch.

Ross Finishes Fast.

The champion, while Pacho tied him up repeatedly, scored enough points to win every round. In the last three sessions, after the crowd had clamored for action and some of the fans walked out, Ross opened up with a two fisted attack to the head and body. Pacho attempted to score with sweeping hooks and roundhouse swings, but failed to bother the Chicagoan.

In the twelfth Pacho was reeling under the force of Ross' smashes to the heart and stomach, but managed to last it out until the bell.

Ross weighed 138 pounds and Pacho 138¾.

Pirrone Beats Halper.

Paul Pirrone, Cleveland middleweight, was awarded the decision over Lou Halper, Newark N. J., in the ten round semi-final. After holding the hard hitting Pirrone even through seven rounds, Halper suffered a deep cut on his lower lip in the eighth, and from then on his attack weakened.

It was Pirrone's sixteenth straight victory. Pirrone weighed 160, Halper 152.

Patsy Perroni, Boston heavyweight, was awarded his third decision over Johnny Risko, Cleveland, after ten rounds in which Perroni's ripping rights shook the baker boy several times. There were no knockdowns. Perroni weighed 181½, Risko 195.

Buddy Wins by K. O.

Buddy Baer, Los Angeles, 238 pound brother of the heavyweight champion, knocked out Mickey McGoorty, 215¼, Detroit, in 1 minute and 22 seconds of their scheduled four round bout. The victory was Buddy's eighth straight by the knockout route. Max Baer was at the ringside.

Carmen Barth, 162½, Cleveland, defeated George Baratko, 160, Cleveland, in the four round opener. Jimmy Vaughn, 137½, Cleveland, defeated Jackie Sharkey, Minneapolis, 132½, in six rounds.

DRINK LESS AT FOOTBALL GAMES, WILSON PLEADS

In the opinion of Kenneth L. [Tug] Wilson, director of athletics at Northwestern university, drinking at college football games and large scale gambling have done more harm to the sport than all other factors combined. He expressed these views yesterday at the weekly luncheon of the Evanston Chamber of Commerce at the North Shore hotel.

At the western conference meeting last week, Wilson said it was determined to appeal directly to the students, alumni, and fans to help stamp out these evils before they ruin college football. Many hundreds of thousands of dollars are wagered every Saturday in the fall through a nation-wide gambling syndicate, he stated, citing one instance when gamblers threatened a coach and his players after an upset.

Officials of the University of Nebraska were forced to confiscate liquor bottles at the Thanksgiving day game. Police arrested one hundred imbibing spectators, Wilson declared. After the game ten barrels of empty bottles were collected. Northwestern university's record was eight barrels after a Notre Dame game, he said.

GOPHER ELEVEN TO GET ROCKNE TROPHY DEC. 20

Champaign, Ill., Dec. 10.—(AP)—The Knute K. Rockne memorial trophy for the nation's outstanding college football team according to the Dickinson rating system will be presented to the University of Minnesota Dec. 20.

Prof. Frank G. Dickinson of the University of Illinois, originator of the system, will formally present the trophy, which is sponsored by the four horsemen of Notre Dame, Elmer Layden, Jim Crowley, Harry Stuhldreher and Don Miller, between halves of the Minnesota-Carleton college basketball game.

Londos Throws Shikat in New York Garden Bout

New York, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Jim Londos, heavyweight wrestling champion, tonight threw Dick Shikat at Madison Square Garden before a crowd of 10,000 after 1 hour 23 minutes and 21 seconds. Londos pinned Shikat with an airplane spin and body slam.

FITKIN WINS AT FAIR GROUNDS; SIXTH STRAIGHT

Sets Pace All the Way in Six Furlong Dash.

New Orleans, La., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—A. G. Tarn's Fitkin romped to his sixth consecutive victory when he scored by a length and a half in the featured Spanish Fort purse at the Fair Grounds today. J. P. Viau's Ellen D. ran second, with A. J. Halliwell's Mueller third.

The triumph was the third of the current meeting for the consistent 4 year old gelding. The three earlier victories in his string were gained at Sportsman's Park, Chicago.

Fitkin's triumph, a popular one since he was the 19 to 10 choice, came after he had led all the way in the 6 furlong dash. He started strongly and after racing Just High down in the first quarter drew out easily.

Fitkin Takes Long Lead.

By the time the field turned for home, Fitkin was 4 lengths ahead of Just High, with Mueller third and Ellen D. fourth. In he stretch Just High tired and Ellen D. closed with a great burst of speed, but the winner's lead was so large that he could score handily.

Just High reached the wire fourth in a field of nine. The winner covered the distance in 1:12 3-5 and paid $5.80.

Fitkin's victory occurred after three favorites had gone down to defeat. In the fourth race the 12 to 1 shot Specs came home first, leading Levi Cooke by a length with Simple Flower third.

Specs Is Well Ridden.

Specs, carrying the colors of E. K. Bryson, was ridden by Joe Leonard, a youngster making his debut in competition. He rode carefully and well, holding his mount off the early pace in the 6 furlong event and then bringing her up strongly through the stretch to overtake the leaders and win.

DEPOSITING ON THE GROUND THE OBJECTS HE HAD BEEN CARRYING, THE QUARRY GLANCES FIRST AT THE SKY, THEN AT HIS WATCH, AND....
LOOK TRACY! HE SHOVED THAT BUSH ASIDE AND THERE'S A DOOR IN THE SIDE OF THE HILL! MUST BE A CAVE THERE.
TRACY—HEAR THAT HUM?
YEAH—AN APPROACHING AIRPLANE. LOOK! OUR FRIEND IS GETTING READY TO SIGNAL IT WITH A FLASH LIGHT!

MAROON ALUMNI TO HONOR COACH, TEAM THURSDAY

Post-season social events for the University of Chicago football team will reach their climax Thursday night when 400 members of the Chicago alumni club pay their respects to Coach Clark Shaughnessy and the squad at the annual alumni dinner, which will be held at the University club.

Election of a captain for 1935, award of varsity letters and freshman numerals, and naming of three players for trophies awarded by the Order of the C. will take place at the dinner.

TURF OFFICIALS SEEK UNIFORM CODE OF RULES

Jersey City, N. J., Dec. 10.—(AP)—In an effort to standardize horse racing rules throughout the country, representatives of six states, designated by the National Association of State Racing Commissions, today started the task of preparing a unified code to be presented at the national meeting at Miami, Fla., in January.

At the instance of Walter Donovan, secretary of the Florida commission, the committee made mandatory the installation of totalisators but pointed out it would have to be passed by the national organization before becoming a part of the rule book. It also recommended that photographs be made of each finish, and that the daily double, in which the player seeks to pick the winners of two given races, be abolished.

RAMAGE TO FIGHT AT 185 POUNDS IN BOUT WITH LOUIS

That's Heavy Enough, Say Record Books.

Lee Ramage will weigh 185 pounds next Friday night when he fights Joe Louis in a ten round bout at the Chicago Stadium. This may seem a little light for a heavyweight, but a look at the records yesterday gave Ramage confidence.

When Jack Dempsey flattened Jess Willard in Toledo, Jack weighed 187 pounds. When Gene Tunney dethroned Dempsey in Philadelphia, Gene scaled 185¼ pounds. Max Schmeling at the peak of his career weighed 188 pounds. Young Stribling always was a light fellow. Jack Sharkey was around 189 pounds when in the best of shape.

For a heavyweight as agile and as clever as Ramage, added heft would probably slow him up so that he would be an easy target for the heavy fisted Detroit lad, who will come into the ring at 195 pounds.

Joe Picks His Spot.

Ramage probably will need all his speed to cope with the sharp shooting Louis, who waits for the spot to shoot over his heavy blasts. Joe has been trained and coached by one of the best counter fighters that ever drew on the padded mitts. He is Jack Blackburne, the old Philadelphia battler who has taught Louis how to slip a left lead and hook with his left hand at the same time.

Few, if any, of the modern fighters have mastered this trick, but the young Negro battler from Detroit seems to have the knack of picking up things easily. Joe displays rare ability of slipping punches and getting inside of his foe's leads. In his last encounter, against the more experienced Charley Massare, Joe showed that he knew how to take care of himself in close quarters.

Ramage, however, is not an infighter, for he stands off, boxing from a distance. For this reason he hopes to outpoint Louis.

Yarosz Drills Today.

Thaddeus Yarosz, better known as Teddy, holds the middleweight championship of the world, will take his first Chicago workout for his match with Kid Leonard this afternoon. Teddy and Leonard are booked for ten rounds Friday.

Yarosz hails from Pittsburgh, a town that has contributed more middleweight stars than any other in the United States. Such great ring men as Frank Klaus, George Chip and Harry Greb, all champions or near champions, came out of the smoky city.

Leonard is in training in his home in Moline, Ill., and will be here Thursday.

The weekly boxing shows conducted by the Catholic Youth Organization every Thursday night will be resumed this week at the C. Y. O. center, T. F. O'Connell, boxing director, announced yesterday. Tom Kenneally, C. Y. O. heavyweight champion; Joe Lopez, 112 pound champion, and Harry Sparrow, runner-up, are among the boxers who will compete.

Tonight a parish show will be sponsored by St. Casimir's parish at Sokol hall, 23d and Kedzie, while tomorrow night two shows will be held. One will be at Presentation parish hall, Springfield and Lexington, while the other will be held at Loyola university gym.

it defeated Wabash college, 33 to 20. The Badgers held the Little Giants to a pair of field goals and three free throws in the first half, at the end of which Wisconsin held a 20 to 7 lead.

The Badgers' best combination was Pete Preboski and Gordon Fuller, a sophomore, at forward; Bob Knake at center, and Rolf Poser and Gilly McDonald in the guard positions. They sent the Badgers into a 31 to 10 lead midway in the last half, after which several substitutes went into the game. The Badgers used 18 players, nine of whom are sophomores.

GERMAN-DUTCH BIKE TEAM WINS AT MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 10.—(AP)—The German-Dutch combination, Fielding, Vopel, and Van Kempen, with 2,424 points to 2,420 for the Canadian trio of Peden, Audy, and Lepage, won the Minneapolis six day bike race tonight.

The two teams and the All-American combination of Walthour, Crossley, and Buhlere were tied on mileage at the end of the race with 3,056.

The German-American trio, Winter, Muller, and Miethe, were in fourth place, and the International trio of Zach, Clignet, and Boogmans in fifth. Both teams finished one lap behind the leaders.

United States to Send Lacrosse Team to England

New York, Dec. 10.—[Special.]—An All-American Lacrosse team will invade England this summer, it was decided today at the fifty-second annual meeting of the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse association here today.

Three games have been arranged—with Oxford, with Cambridge, and with a north of England team. The guarantee already has been pledged with one-third of the expenses being supplied by the Americans.

Miller Moore of Penn was elected president, Harry J. Rockafell of Rutgers, first vice president; Royce N. Flippin of Navy, second vice president.

It was announced that every effort was being made to have lacrosse again placed on the Olympic program once more as a demonstration sport. England, Canada, Australia, and the United States plan sending teams if the game is included by the German organizing committee.

KAYE DON, RACER, ENDS JAIL TERM; BEARS NO GRUDGE

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Kaye Don, British speed driver, arrived here today after spending 10 weeks in jail at Douglas, Isle of Man, bearing no grudge against his jailors nor against the place that found him guilty of manslaughter after a racing accident. Don, who has set many automobile and speed boat records, announced he hoped to compete in several races in 1935 if his health and business permits.

It was officially stated that ill health was the reason for his early release from jail. With time off for good behavior, his term would have ended Jan. 6. He was badly injured himself in the accident last May on Isle of Man in which his mechanic Francis Tayler, was killed in a practice run with Don at the wheel.

With Mrs. Don he planned today to go to Florida after the holidays. Mrs. Don's relatives live there. Don was met after his release from prison by a group of friends. He was so eager to leave the little island that he did not wait for the channel steamer to lower its gangplank but leaped from pier to deck.

Loyola Opens with Arkansas State Tonight

Loyola university will pit its sophomore basketball team tonight against an all veteran Arkansas State five at the Loyola gym. The game opens Lennie Sachs' twelfth season as Loyola coach. The game will start at 8:15 o'clock.

Capt. Joseph Schuessler is the only Loyola regular from last year available for duty this season. Marvin Colen, Ed Murray, and Ed Calihan of the freshman team and Larry Furlong are expected to be in the Loyola lineup.

Arkansas plans to use five lettermen, including Capt. Leslie Speck and Wendell Davis, star forward and guard. Since their last visit here in 1932 when Loyola won a 38 to 28 game, the Arkansas State players have adopted a set and control system of play instead of the hit and miss variety they formerly employed. They lost the state college title last year by only one point.

The probable lineups:

ARKANSAS.		LOYOLA.
Leslie Speck	F.	Marvin Colen
Newton Morris	F.	Larry Furlong
Nolan Lamb	C.	Ed Murray
James Langley	G.	Ed Calihan
Wendell Davis	G.	Joseph Schuessler

SUPPORTING CARD FOR McMILLIN SHOW ANNOUNCED

The makeup of the supporting card for the Jim McMillen-Joe Savoldi wrestling card at the Coliseum next Monday night was announced by Promoter Doc Krone yesterday.

The semi-final will send Jack Smith of Chicago into action with Fred Grobmeier, Harlan, Ia. Olaf Olesoa of Milwaukee will tangle with Sol Slagel. Abie Coleman of New York will attempt to tame Tommy Marvin. These three matches are scheduled for 30 minute time limits with a one fall verdict.

The opener will mark the professional mat debut of Jerry [Fish] Gordon, a Jewish boy who scales 225 pounds. Gordon will meet Hans Bauer, veteran German heavyweight.

Ford and Veller Put on Eastern All-Star Team

Gerald Ford, center of Michigan, and Don Veller, half back of Indiana, are the latest additions to the East All-Star team which will play the West All-Stars in the Shrine charity game at San Francisco New Year's day.

Coach Dick Hanley of Northwestern university, who shares the coaching duties of the East team with Andy Kerr of Colgate has picked nine players from Big Ten schools to play on the team. Six of these were selected by their respective schools in THE TRIBUNE poll to determine the most valuable player in the Big Ten.

The full squad of 22 players will assemble at Northwestern university, Dec. 19 for their first workout.

NORTH CENTRAL HOLDS FOOTBALL DINNER THURSDAY

W. T. Harmon of Jacksonville, Ill., commissioner for the Little 19 conference, will speak Thursday at the annual football banquet of North Central college. Dr. Harry Oberhelman of Chicago will be toastmaster.

On this occasion the Moser trophy will be awarded to the team's most valuable player and the election of next year's co-captains will take place. The co-captains for last season were Gordy Smith, quarter back, and Kelly Erickson, tackle.

Expert Guesses Wrong

"This New 1935 Dodge Looks Like $1,000 Model," says Value Expert. "Was I Surprised to Find It Costs So Much Less!"

"I know value when I see it—and it's no wonder I figured wrong when it came to guessing the price of this new Dodge for 1935," says Karl F. Lueder, of New York, purchasing agent and value expert.

"It has value! It looks like a $1,000 car, and I can't see how they can sell it for so much less. My hat is off to an organization that can offer such thorough quality at a popular price."

Watch for the new-value Dodge! Dozens of surprises are in store for you—and the biggest surprise will be the low price!

MAROONS FACE NORTH CENTRAL

Seek to Smooth Timing of Plays Tomorrow.

Removing the crudeness of floor play which marred its fine exhibition of shooting against Wheaton is the object of the University of Chicago basketball team at the moment. The Maroons will meet North Central college at Naperville tomorrow night in their second practice game.

Timing Needs Polishing.

Coach Nels Norgren was cheered by the marksmanship of two newcomers to the team, Wally Duvall and George Pritikin, and the improvement of a pair of veterans, Bill Lang and Bob Eldred, but he feels that Chicago's fast breaking plays were not being timed well and that team needs much work to achieve precision in ball handling.

Bill Haarlow, star of last year who will be available for varsity play at the end of the month, is the central figure in the practice sessions. Norgren is alternating a dozen other members of the squad at the other four positions. Norgren's effort is to adjust the style of play to the fact that his material is fast but light and short.

Maroons Scoring Average .292.

Against Wheaton the Maroons shot for an average of .292, making good on 18 out of 61 attempts. The average percentage in college play is about .230. Pritikin, during the ten minutes he was in the play, made four baskets in four attempts.

PITT NEXT N. U. FOE

Northwestern's basketball team, victorious in its first two games against Carleton and Wabash, will prepare this week for a sterner brand of competition when Pittsburgh, champion of the east, invades Patten gymnasium Friday night.

The Panthers defeated the Purple, 27 to 23, last year. This year's team is composed of the same players that carried Pitt through a successful season of 18 victories against four defeats.

In Pitt, the Wildcats will encounter a team that will match them in height. Both teams boast a starting lineup that averages well over 6 feet. The two centers, Jess McAnally of Northwestern and Pete Noon of Pitt are 6 feet 6 inches tall.

Undecided on Lineup.

The first two games have left Coach Dutch Lonborg undecided about a first string lineup. In both games the Wildcat coach did considerable experimenting by shifting players into different positions. In the second half of the Wabash game the Purple presented a smooth working combination consisting of Fisher and Rosenfeld, forwards; McAnally, center, and Vance and Mercer, guards. The last three are sophomores.

Fisher's accurate shooting has constituted a major portion of the Wildcats' offense to date. The lanky senior scored 21 of the Wildcats' 43 points against Carleton and contributed 17 out of the 35 points scored against Wabash.

Hart Wrestles Smith in White City Windup Tonight

Frankie Hart will meet Clarence Smith in the 60 minute windup match of the wrestling show at the White City arena tonight. Silent Rattan will face Kaiser Hoffman in a 30 minute semi-windup. Buck O'Neil is paired with Enrico Marchi and Ernie Peterson will oppose George Schwab.

Pro Football League Makes Rule Changes

With five of the ten teams showing a profit for the year, and the Philadelphia Eagles so close to black figures that they hope to pull out with the exhibition game Saturday against the Chicago Bears, there was reason for gratification.

"Philadelphia hasn't made a profit so far," Bert Bell said this afternoon, "but we reduced our losses 65 per cent this year. I believe that within five years professional football will be on its feet as far as all the teams are concerned."

The owners did not discuss the proposal of George Marshall of Boston that the league be reduced to eight teams, with home and home games compulsory.

Congratulate Giants' Coach.

There were many yesterday to congratulate Coach Steven Owen of the Giants on the rubber soled shoes with which he equipped his team in the championship game in the second half. Without dispute, the press considered that this had much to do with the four touchdown spurt which gave the Giants a 30 to 13 victory.

Only two members of the team declined to wear the gymnasium shoes, it was revealed. These men were Gibson, guard, and Hein, center. Danowski started without the rubber soled shoes, but changed his mind after he slipped and fell early in the third period.

The Bears were philosophic about their defeat, although regretting the collapse of their 33 game record and in particular bemoaning the loss of the extra $200 for the winning players. Only 14 Giant players competed in the championship and the Bears' total of substitutions was also abbreviated. The Chicago men, however, are looking forward to next year, when they will seek revenge for yesterday's licking.

Ed Krause to Play Pro Basketball with Florals

Ed Krause, former Notre Dame star, has signed a contract to play professional basketball in Chicago with the Duffy Florals, John J. Duffy, president and owner of the club, announced yesterday.

ST. RITA LIGHTS WIN, 13-11, IN 2 EXTRA PERIODS

O'Connell Scores Basket to Beat Calumet.

Prep Basketball

[Heavyweight.]

Calumet, 30; St. Rita, 13.

[Lightweight.]

Lane Tech, 30; Kelvyn Park, 23.
Tuley, 34; Harvard, 11.
Lindblom, 31; Parker, 18.
St. Rita, 13; Calumet, 11. [Two overtimes.]

A basket by Jack O'Connell, forward on the St. Rita High school lightweight quintet, in the second overtime period enabled the Catholic league team to defeat Calumet, 13 to 11, in a preseason game at St. Rita's gymnasium yesterday.

The score was tied, 9 to 9, at the end of the regulation game. Then in the first overtime session Bill Jameson of Calumet made good on two free throws. A few minutes later O'Connell sank a field goal to tie the score, 11 to 11. With about one minute to play in the second overtime O'Connell made a long shot for the winning points.

Lane Tech, Tuley, and Lindblom were victors in other lightweight contests. Lane Tech defeated Kelvyn Park, 30 to 23; Tuley triumphed over Harvard, 34 to 11, and Lindblom won from Parker, 31 to 18. In heavyweight games Calumet routed St. Rita, 30 to 13, and Harvard handed Tuley a 31 to 26 setback. The St. Rita-Calumet lightweight lineup:

Five out of town teams have accepted invitations to compete in the first annual pre-season basketball tournament under the auspices of St. George High school of Evanston which will be held Dec. 19 to 23. They include St. Patrick of Kankakee, Ill.; Corpus Christi of Galesburg, Trinity of Bloomington, Pio Nono of Milwaukee and St. Mary's of Huntington, Ind.

Chicago teams which will seek the title include St. Mel, De Paul, De La Salle, St. Rita, St. Michael, Weber, Holy Trinity, St. George, Leo, and St. Patrick. Other out of town quintets extended invitations to participate in the meet are Creighton academy, Omaha, Neb., and Marquette academy, Milwaukee.

Open Major League Meet This Morning

ready to trade any of the Browns if he can get young players for the future.

The Braves may send Hal Lee, a right hand hitting outfielder, to Pittsburgh for Babe Herman, but would prefer to include Lee, Pitcher Fred Frankhouse, and Catcher Al Spohrer in a deal involving Lloyd Waner and others. The Pirates turned down these three for Waner and Freddy Lindstrom, who went to the Cubs.

Cardinal Deal Off.

Lobby gossip said Lou Wentz, Oklahoma millionaire, devnitly would not buy the St. Louis Cardinals, priced at $1,000,000. The Cardinals are interested in making a deal involving Pitcher Pat Malone. They might even trade Pepper Martin, third baseman, who injured his right elbow last season. St. Louis physicians diagnosed a chipped bone, put on a cast to let the inflamation die down, and told him to return in three weeks. He hasn't returned yet, which hasn't endeared him to the front office.

Mickey Cochrane wants an outfielder and an infielder, but says he may have to stand pat on the Detroit American league champions. Cleveland has no chance of getting Charlie Gehringer away from Detroit and so wants Buddy Myer from Washington to play second base.

The National leaguers will take time off in the dog battle to induct Ford Frick into the office of president of the National league. This ceremony will be held tomorrow, whereupon Frick, who is 39, will be hailed as the youngest man who ever headed the older major league. However, this distinction can only apply to general major league precedent. The late Ban Johnson was 36 when he became first president of the American league.

Coming up for discussion, too, is the plan for this year's all-star game. When the feature was originated and sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE in the 1933 season the proceeds went to the Old Players Fund, and the same charity was the beneficiary last season. It is said a new charity is to be selected in connection with arrangements for the 1935 spectacle. The game probably will be played in Cleveland.

DAVIS FOR CUBS?

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Jimmy Wilson, Phillies manager, said today he is willing to talk trades on anything that "sounds like a good deal for the Phillies."

Reported bids by the Chicago Cubs for Pitcher Curt Davis, and by the Pittsburgh Pirates for Catcher Al Todd might be accepted if the offers would strengthen the team, he said.

Asked if he would make any trades, Wilson replied "sure" and added:

"How would you like to see Babe Herman in right field? Of course, I am not saying we will get him. Pittsburgh has something to say on that matter."

At Pittsburgh—Danny Kassett beat Sammy [illegible], [10].

At Washington—Eddie Burl beat Pete De Grasse, [10].

Woods and Waters By Bob Becker

The Illinois quail season is over for 1934. The boys who have pointers and setters to find the coveys of Bob Whites always look upon Dec. 11 as a rather depressing day, because it is the date on which they must forego the pleasure of seeing their dogs romp through the fields and snap into points when they find a covey of birds. From now on it's another long haul through winter, spring, summer, and fall until another Illinois quail season gets under way.

Down state, where one can still get some pretty good quail hunting, the pointer and setter are kings of the fields. Although the quail hunting isn't what it used to be, the fact that we have 30 days for hunting the Bob Whites in this state is incentive enough for the presence of good dogs in many a sportsmen's home. It's pretty hard to keep dogs eleven months to hunt them just one month. But to the true hunter this expense and trouble is more than offset when the opening day of the quail season comes around.

From now on through the winter the rabbit hunter, the waterfowl hunter, the raccoon and opossum hunters are the ones who will have a chance to keep busy, unless the northern quail shooter can start south to enjoy the hunting below the Mason and Dixon line. The duck and goose hunters haven't much longer for their sport—just a matter of a few weeks. On Jan. 13 the 1934-35 season will end.

Judging from the weather and the way the birds have reacted to the low temperatures and snow, the curtain on some of the Illinois duck hunting already has started down. Yesterday thousands of birds took to the air and headed south, apparently disgusted by the low temperatures and the many acres of ice that have spread over the lowlands.

Of course, the hunters who frequent the upper Illinois are the ones who usually feel this change in hunting conditions first of all. The birds don't stay in the upper river like they do in the lower part of the valley. When it freezes up thousands of mallards move on. Some drop in to join mallards in the Bath, Snicarte, Crane lake country, but many keep right on going.

From now on the question of feed is going to play an important part in concentration of birds. Hunters who are figuring on a lower Illinois river mallard shoot ought to find plenty of birds still hanging around those places which have an ample supply of feed still available.

Cold Weather to Send Temple South on Dec. 20

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Freezing weather will chase Temple university's football team into the southland a week ahead of schedule for the Sugar Bowl game with Tulane, Coach Pop Warner indicated today as the Owls began limbering up for the New Year's day contest.

Finding it too cold for scrimmaging, Warner said he wants to leave Dec. 20 so as to get in plenty of stiff practice. Until the squad gets to New Orleans rough work will be ruled out entirely due to the frozen ground.

Warner's announcement came as a surprise, for it had been decided earlier that the team should not leave for Louisiana until after Christmas. The departure date is not yet official, he explained, but will be if his wishes are met, and there is little doubt they will be.

Today's practice, the first since the regular season closed, was restricted to a light warm up of an hour's duration. Some of the players wore gloves and hoods. The temperature was 25 degrees above zero.

TEMPLE INVITED EARLY.

New Orleans, La., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Temple's football squad, which will meet Tulane in the Sugar bowl game here on New Year's, has been invited to come south some time before the clash to become accustomed to the climate. Citizens of Bay St. Louis, Miss., about 100 miles away on the gulf coast, and St. Stanislaus college there have invited Coach Pop Warner and the eleven to make that city their pre-game headquarters.

Louisiana State university at Baton Rouge, La., not quite as far from New Orleans, has also offered the use of its facilities.

Tulane's squad, meanwhile, is resting after a hard season until next Monday when it will start practice.

LA GUARDIA LAYS CORNER STONE OF DEMPSEY TAVERN

New York, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey today joined the list of heavyweight champions headed by John L. Sullivan who turned to the dispensing of good cheer as an occupation when their fighting days were over.

Mayor La Guardia wielded the trowel when the cornerstone of Jack's new tavern opposite Madison Square Garden was laid today. Mrs. Dempsey, the former Hannah Williams, broke a bottle of champagne over the stone while celebrities of the sporting world cheered.

Mayor La Guardia blew on his fingers to warm them up, picked up the official trowel and said:

"Jack, you have always been ready and willing to appear in public and take part in any charitable undertaking, and I take great pleasure in appearing to lay the cornerstone of your new restaurant."

Dempsey thanked the mayor and placed the boxing gloves which he wore against Willard at Toledo fifteen years ago under the stone.

"I hope they bring me the same luck in there that they did in the ring," he said.

Bowed Tendon Forces High Quest to Retire

Columbia, S. C., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—High Quest, owned by Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane, winner of the Wood Memorial and Preakness stakes this year, will be retired because of an injured tendon, it was announced today. High Quest, which bowed a tendon in the Withers stakes, will be shipped to Mrs. Sloane's Upperville, Va., farm this week.

Logan-Avondale League Lists Games for Saturday

The Logan-Avondale Church Athletic association has listed five basketball games for Saturday night at the Olivet institute gym, 1441 Cleveland avenue. The schedule:

Avondale M. E. vs. St. Luke's Lutheran; Immanuel Congregational vs. Grace Evangelical; Emanuel Lutheran vs. St. Stephen's Episcopal; Avondale Presbyterian vs. Fourth Congregational; Advent Episcopal vs. Saron Lutheran.

Long Nears Checker Title in Match with Banks

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Asa A. Long of Toledo neared his goal—the world's checker championship—tonight when he won one game and drew in three others in his contest with Newell W. Banks, match champion of the United States since 1910. The score now stands 6 to 3 for Long, with 23 draws.

Kansas State Schedules Duquesne Football Game

Manhattan, Kas., Dec. 10.—(AP)—A football game has been scheduled between Kansas State college and Duquesne university to be played at Pittsburgh, Sept. 27, 1935, M. F. Ahearn, director of athletics at Kansas State, announced tonight.

GOPHERS GLOOMY OVER BIG TEN BAN

Bierman Charges Action a "Sock" at Minnesota.

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 10.—(AP)—A cloud today overhung the football future of three Minnesota football players who had marched under the Gopher banner of triumph this fall, and neither Stan Kostka, Bill Bevan, nor George Svendsen could see through it.

Downcast and dreary, the three penalized members of Minnesota's champions commiserated with one another while Coach Bernie Bierman permitted himself to get as close to ill temper as he ever does.

Repercussions of the "freshman rule" interpretation by conference faculty representatives which cost Minnesota the brawn of Kostka, Svendsen, and Bevan next year today set up a clamor from critics and Gopher sympathizers.

Seek Army Appointment.

Meantime, a movement to send Kostka, burly full back who became a Big Ten terror, to West Point was initiated informally, but still Kostka and Svendsen and Bevan looked on life forlornly.

Like three tragedians, the trio stalked into Coach Bierman's office, learned the why and wherefore, and departed as gloomy as they had come. A collapse of dreams of new gridiron adventures amounted apparently to as hard a shock as any blow they helped strike at Pittsburgh, Michigan, and the rest of the foes of the late season.

Bierman Hits at Action.

"I am convinced," he said, "that the interpretation of the rule was wrong, and I am convinced that the action was a deliberate 'socking' of us."

He added he felt the faculty representatives' action was taken with Kostka, Bevan, and Svendsen as the issue rather than interpretation of the rule itself.

"A good story," he said, "would be to contact all the other schools and find out how many men they will lose through the interpretation."

May Play Pro Football.

But this, plus indignation elsewhere, failed to sooth the bitter feelings of Kostka, Bevan, and Svendsen.

After basketball practice, in which he's regular Gopher guard, the drawling Svendsen spoke for himself and his two pals.

"I don't know about Stan," he said. "Bill and I were thinking we might play professional football next fall. We'd finish school first. I think we can both get through by next June. I certainly wouldn't want to be around here when the fellows are playing next fall."

HEAVY SNOWFALL POSTPONES TWO BOXING SHOWS

The heavy snowfall yesterday forced the postponement of the professional boxing shows scheduled at the Midway arena, 6115 Cottage Grove avenue and the Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street. Promoters announced that the shows will be held tonight.

The postponement gave the boxers another day of training. Jimmy Christy will meet Dave Barry, Springfield, Ill., featherweight in the Midway arena ten round windup. The feature bout at the Marigold Gardens will bring together Corn Griffin, Columbus, Ga., heavyweight, and Tony Cancela of Florida.

Optometrists Play So. Side Junior College Five Today

Northern Illinois College of Optometry will play its second basketball game of the season when it meets the South Side Junior college at the latter's gymnasium this afternoon. The optometrists boast a team composed of many of Chicago's graduate high school stars, including Gordon Taylor, Irving Berris, and Charles Chmielinsky.

New York, Dec. 10.—The listed bond market moved irregularly lower today in quiet trading. Italian issues were the weakest of the foreign group as the aftermath of the move Saturday by the Italian government to halt the flow of gold from Italy by requisitioning foreign credits of its nationals.

Thus far the Italian government has merely asked that Italian holders of foreign securities, including Italian external bonds, register their holdings with the government.

Break Widespread.

Italian Government 7s broke 3⅞ points to 92⅛; Italian Public Credit 7s, due 1952, dropped 2 points to 84; Public Credit 7s, due 1937, series A, lost a point to 98½; City of Milan 6½s, eased 3½ points to 80, and City of Rome 6½s, due 1952, slumped 4½ points to 81½. Other foreign loans closed generally lower in quiet dealings.

United States government long term issues were down 11-32ds to up 3-32ds point on a turnover of $3,094,500. Total dealings in the listed bond market were $11,639,000.

Low Grade Issues Lose.

In the domestic corporation list lower grade issues were the principal losers, maximum loses amounting to a point or two. A number of issues touched new high ground for the year on small gains. New York Rapid Transit issues were unchanged to down 1½ points on the day.

Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee R. R.

Investors' Guide: Please give me information on Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad bonds.—P. F.

Answer: Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad is in receivership. It operates an electric railroad that extends from Chicago to Milwaukee. Almost all of the mileage is double tracked and is equivalent to 265 miles of single track.

In 1933 fare reductions on the interurban line increased number of passengers carried, but increased trafic was not sufficient to effect a corresponding increase in gross. Operating revenues in 1933 totaled $3,693,000, against $3,854,000 in 1932, $5,181,000 in 1931 and $6,673,000 in 1930. In 1933 the company lost $60,000 before fixed charges, against a similar loss of $424,000 in 1932. Fixed charges currently run about one and a quarter million dollars a year.

In 1931 the company earned 46 per cent of charges, while in 1930 charges were earned 1.38 times.

Current assets on Dec. 31, 1933, were $764,000, and current liabilities were $998,000. Profit and loss deficit was $3,091,000. Funded debt was $20,577,000, while collateral loans, including one of $1,150,000 to the RFC now in default, were $2,296,000.

The $4,000,000 unsecured 6s, due 1955, and 7s, due 1935, are junior to about $14,000,000 secured bonds and $1,745,000 equipment trust notes.

The bonds, all series, are quite speculative.

Otis Steel.

Investors' Guide: I understand that Otis Steel company is paying the Sept. 1, 1934, coupons on the first mortgage bonds. Those of Sept. 1, 1933, and March 1, 1934, are also in default. Are they paying those coupons also?—W. H. A.

Answer: On Sept. 1, 1934, Otis Steel company deposited funds for payment of the Sept. 1, 1933, interest coupons on the first mortgage 6 per cent sinking fund bonds, series A. March 1, 1933, interest coupons were paid on June 18, 1934.

No mention has as yet been made of payment of Sept. 1, 1934, coupons or payment of March 1, 1934, coupons.

Called Bonds.

Investors' Guide: Standard Oil of New Jersey 5s have been called at 102, I believe. Is there any way in which one could be reasonably certain of getting a high grade bond which would not be subject to call for a few years, as a considerable loss is involved when bonds are selling at present high prices and the purchase has been recent?—Mrs. G. E. H.

Answer: You can protect yourself against a loss from having a bond called either by purchasing a noncallable bond or purchasing a callable bond at less than the call price.

MUNICIPAL BOND NOTES

An issue of $325,000 city of San Antonio, Tex., 4½ per cent funding bonds is being offered by a group consisting of Halsey, Stuart & Co., E. H. Rollins & Sons, and the Equitable Securities Corporation of Nashville. The bonds, which mature serially July 1, 1935-'62, are offered at prices to yield from .75 per cent to 4.35 per cent.

A high bid of 100.30 for $445,000 of Jacksonville, Fla., refunding bonds as 3.70's was made yesterday by F. S. Moseley & Co., and Phelps, Fenn & Co. The bid was a split one, calling for $145,000 as 3½'s and $300,000 as 3¾'s. The Harris Trust and Savings bank submitted the second high bid with an offer of 100.58 for 3.90's.

The state of Rhode Island has announced for award on Dec. 21 an issue of $2,000,000, consisting of $1,000,000 public works and a like amount of unemployment relief bonds. The public works issue will be dated Sept. 1, 1934, and will mature from 1941 to 1951. The relief bonds will be dated Jan. 1, 1935 and will mature from 1936 to 1941.

R. B. Upham, controler of the city of Chicago, announced that $3,297,000 of refunding bonds of 1934 have been drawn by lot for redemption on Jan. 1, 1935. Payment will be made at par and interest.

An issue of $12,096,000 Metropolitan Water district, California, bonds offered late last week has been taken by the Reconstruction Finance corporation. The price paid was par for the bonds as 5s.

Ewing & Co. are offering a new issue of $259,000 township of Teaneck, N. J., 5 per cent general funding bonds, dated Aug. 1, 1934 and due from 1935 to 1954. The issue is priced to yield 5 to 5.35 per cent. The assessed valuation is reported as $26,126,584, with the total bonded debt, as of Oct. 1, 1934, amounting to $5,206,000 and the unfunded debt to $390,500.

The city of Eureka, Cal., will seek bids today on a new issue of $959,000 of water construction 4 per cent bonds, dated Nov. 1, 1934, and maturing serially from 1935 to 1964.

Two banking syndicates including most important distributors of municipal bonds in the east, will bid on the $42,900,000 bonds to be offered for sale by the city of New York early next week. One will be headed by the National City bank and the other by the Chase National bank.

The question of the average cost that the city will be asked to pay for credit is one that is more than ordinarily complicated because a threat of war in Europe is hanging oer the market. The situation is extremely difficult for the prospective distributors of the issue to see a clear course very far ahead. On July 18 the city sold $58,000,000 of bonds on a cost basis of 3.81 per cent.

SEC MAY ASK FIRMS TO TELL OFFICIALS' PAY

Partial Salary List Is Made Known.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Demands for more complete information on corporation salaries were made today following publication of figures showing a gain in million dollar incomes but a loss in taxable incomes of $5,000 or less.

SETON PORTER.
[Acme Photo.]

At the same time the securities and exchange commission disclosed some corporation salaries were moving higher, citing one case of a 200 per cent increase. Others remained stationary or advanced less markedly.

The commissions' figures cover only salaries of high officials in concerns registering stock during the year. Suggestions immediately arose that salaries of all top officials should be reported.

No New Legislation Required.

New legislation to bring this about would not be needed. Registration of old securities—those which have been on the market for some time—is only temporary. Forms for permanent registration of these securities probably will be issued within two weeks. The new forms probably will require salary data from all corporations whose securities are listed on stock markets.

Commission members, it is said, do not believe any but salaries of two or three highest paid officers need be reported separately. Publication of minor salaries, they feel, would serve to create dissension among lesser employés and are not of particular public interest.

Bonuses and other gains must be reported. Options given officers to buy stock must also be listed, for sometimes such options offer opportunities for large profits not available to ordinary stockholders. In other cases official compensation may depend on options, bonuses or other methods of payment.

Sees Test of Ability.

Should the commission decide to require annual reporting of all salaries it will be based on the theory that such salaries indicate managerial ability between companies in the same industry.

Among salaries revealed by the commission yesterday, of firms seeking to register new securities, were:

Seton Porter, president of National Distillers Products corporation, $75,620 this year and $51,660 last year; Otto H. Watkins, vice president of the same concern, $43,593 and $21,256; Daniel K. Weiskopf, vice president, $47,286 and $15,640; Arthur Loasby, vice president, $32,740 and $11,073.

Highest salaries were reported by officers of the Republic Steel corporation. T. M. Girdler, president, got $117,420 in 1933 and $129,372 this year. B. F. Fairless and R. J. Wysor, vice presidents, were paid $58,713 last year and $64,692 this year.

Alkali Head Gets $86,740.

E. M. Allen, president of Mathieson Alkali works, got $86,740 in both 1933 and 1934. H. Hobart Porter, president of American Water Works and Electric company, received a $50 raise—from $68,050 in 1933 to $68,100 in 1934.

D. S. Barret Jr. and C. L. Bradley, administrative officers of Chesapeake corporation, both received $32,936 this year, representing small increases over 1933.

Officials of the Edison Electric Illuminating company, Boston, enjoyed no increases. Walter C. Bayliss, president, got $32,400 in both years. Thomas K. Cummings, treasurer, and Sidney Hosmer, general manager, were paid $20,700, and Leavitt L. Edgar, vice president, $18,000.

Power Chief Paid $17,100.

T. D. Crocker, vice president of Northern States Power, Minnesota, got $17,100 in 1934, against $17,060; J. J. Molyneaux, treasurer, $16,250, against $16,210; H. E. Young, vice president, $12,000, against $11,960. Robert F. Pack, president, apparently received only directors' fees of $100 in both years.

Ralph Rawlings, president of the Monarch Fire Insurance company, Cleveland, O., was paid $18,000 in both years, while F. J. Greer, vice president, advanced from $5,000 to $8,500.

Donald L. Brown, president of United Aircraft corporation, was paid $45,000 in 1934. Eugene Wilson, vice president, got $32,400, while George S. Wheat, vice president, and Joseph F. McCarthy, secretary, both received $22,500.

Italy Freezes Exchange by Credit Action

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Mussolini's action in taking over the investments of Italian people in foreign countries virtually "freezes" Italian exchange and puts Italy in the class of nations whose currency means one thing at home and something entirely different abroad.

Germany, Poland, Russia, and other central and eastern European nations have already gone on such a basis. Most of these nations still pretend to be on the gold standard, but, in reality, are not because being on the gold standard implies the free movement of gold into and out of the nation and the ready redemption of its currency in gold upon demand.

This presents a strange state of affairs in international finance. The United States and Great Britain, leading nations which have gone off the gold standard, are in reality closer to being on the gold standard than these central European countries which pretend to be on it but are not. Both Great Britain and the United States permit free and unrestricted exportation of gold in settlement of trade balances, whereas Italy, Germany, and other central European nations have clamped the lid on such movements of gold.

Italy and Germany cling to the fiction that they are still on the gold standard because they have not officially debased their currencies, whereas Great Britain, the United States, and all those nations belonging to the so called "sterling" bloc have officially devalued their currencies.

In this world of international currency chaos the lone survivors of what once was an almost universal gold standard are a little group of four nations in western Europe whose people remember the disastrous effects of currency tinkering in post-war Europe and who are desperately striving to keep their money stable.

France, with more than three billion dollars' worth of gold, the second largest of any nation in the world, is the Gibraltar of this little "gold bloc." The others are Switzerland, Holland, and Belgium.

If they should manage to weather the present storm these nations may form the nucleus around which some sort of stability in the international curency situation can be built. If, on the other hand, the mad scramble for gold drives the members of this bloc into the ranks of "managed currency" nations the world-wide money muddle will doubtless be more of a maelstrom than ever.

Belgium is the weakest link. Her stock of gold has declined from 2,600 million belgas to about 1,400 million belgas since last July and it is still disappearing. The belga is worth about 23 1-3 cents in American money at present rates of exchange.

The United States, France, Great Britain, and Holland are all understood to have been lending a hand to little Belgium during the last few weeks in an attempt to help her remain on the gold standard. But the job apparently is not completed. Belgium may need more aid.

Mussolini's move in freezing exchange in Italy hasn't helped Belgium and the other gold bloc nations, because it has contributed another scare to an already frightened world and will probably intensify the mad scramble for gold, at least temporarily.

The thing that worries governments and financial interests throughout the world is not so much the shortage of gold in certain countries as the panic which is causing capital to flee from one nation to another and is causing people to convert their holdings into gold for hoarding.

Belgium still has nearly twice as much gold as she had four years ago; Italy has more than 11 per cent more; Holland has twice as much; France, 56 per cent more.

Should the runs on gold supplies continue, however, it would not take long to run some of the remaining four gold bloc nations out of gold. About 168 million dollars' worth of the metal has been shipped to the United States during the last few weeks from European nations.

Two and three years ago capital was fleeing to France, Holland, Switzerland, and Belgium because these nations were on the gold standard, whereas Great Britain, the United States, and other nations were either off gold or about to go off. Now this volatile capital is moving out of the gold bloc nations and back to the comparative safety of countries like Great Britain and the United States.

This shifting about of capital together with the restrictions clamped on international money movements by such nations as Italy and Germany has stirred up so much uncertainty throughout the world that international trade is becoming increasingly difficult and extensions of credit between nations have almost ceased.

No business man wants to order goods or commodities in a foreign nation if he doesn't know what the rate of exchange will be when the purchase is to be shipped and no investor is willing to invest money in a foreign nation if there's a possibility that when the loan matures it will be paid back in a debased currency or tied up by the government as in the case of Germany and Italy.

WHITNEY URGES U. S. ECONOMIC SYSTEM BE KEPT

Points to Its Success Since Revolution.

RICHARD WHITNEY

In an address before 860 persons at the annual dinner of the Chicago Association of Stock Exchange Firms at the Palmer house Whitney declared the system has justified itself. His speech was regarded as the opening gun on the midwestern front in the campaign to educate public sentiment to a friendlier attitude toward the securities dealers.

Shunning what he called the "badly used" terms of "capitalism" and the "profit system," Whitney defined the American economic system as one which "stresses freedom of the individual to exercise his unfettered judgment in taking initiative, assuming risks, and adapting himself to changing circumstances."

Speaker Cites Dangers.

"Stop that freedom, whether through fatal restraints upon the rights of labor, management, or capital, and you invite stagnation and with it retrogression. In place of the greatest good to the greatest number, you will most certainly promote a deterioration of living standards."

The New Yorker warned against rash, unthinking acceptance of dangerous remedies, lest grave social injury be incurred, and declared capital must be free to move the same as labor must be free to sell its services to the highest bidder, if progress is to be made. Capital being the mark of a society which has advanced beyond the subsistence stage, Mr. Whitney, asserted that the securities market is indispensable if the full benefit of the system is to be realized through a market place where capital can change its form with the most freedom and lowest cost.

"When management and capital are shackled," he asserted, "the bondage is just as detrimental to the general good as fetters on the limbs of slaves. We place a ball and chain upon progress.

Points to Nation's Progress.

"Our own revolution was as much a protest against alien interference with domestic economic processes as it was a demand for political freedom. Since that notable emancipation, the human race has made more material progress than in all the years of its previous existence. There is grave danger today that we may forget the lesson of this historic experience—that labor, management, and capital must coöperate, and can flourish in combination only in an atmosphere of freedom.

"Capital may be regarded as the passive ally of the working man, enabling him to increase his production. Its origin is in self denial. To create capital the worker must produce more than he currently consumes. The surplus sustains him while he labors upon instruments which will soften his toil and increase his output."

May Bar Future Accretions.

"Since this margin is the source of capital," he warned, "the theory of suppressed production and stimulated consumption may amount to a prohibition against future capital accretions. The fairest and most effective test of capitalism and the security exchanges which are a vital part of it is to be found in the rising living levels of the men who work under them.

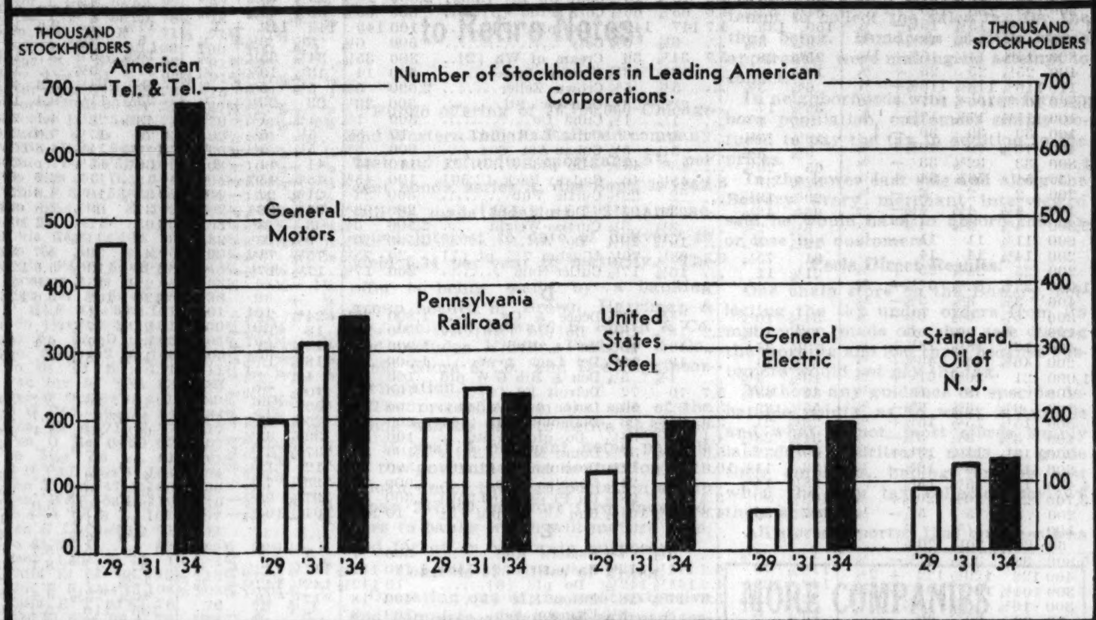
Whitney quoted from a study of the system over a century's time, and pointed out how the worker's standard of living has risen.

Critics who propose to scrap the system under which it has been achieved, and the security exchanges which are a part of that system, are afflicted with faulty vision or wilfully refuse to consider the candid record of history."

"Our progress can be attributed neither to severity and long hours of labor nor to the wealth which nature showered upon the land, but to the development of that wealth through the freedom of capital."

Stock exchanges protect investors through affording absolute freedom of an investor in changing his commitment, Whitney asserted, adding that this open mart is a powerful factor in attracting investment in the first place.

Ownership of Leading Corporations Is Divided Among Many More People Than in 1929



Midway Bank Sued by RFC for $73,451

Suit against stockholders of the old Midway State bank, 6236 Cottage Grove avenue, was filed yesterday in Circuit court by the Reconstruction Finance corporation to collect $73,451 due in principal and interest on loans made in 1932.

The original loans, made in May and June of 1932, amounted to $89,775 for the purpose of paying off depositors and other creditors in full. General banking business was discontinued on May 14 and liquidation begun. The bank has not been closed by the state auditor nor has a receiver been appointed. The course to be followed by the state auditor now was not determined last night, but appointment of William L. O'Connell as receiver is expected.

113 Stockholders Named.

Capital stock totals $300,000 and 113 stockholders are named in the bill filed yesterday by James M. Best, attorney for the RFC.

The case was assigned to Circuit Judge George Fred Rush, who granted an injunction at Best's request which restrains other creditors from taking action against the bank.

Practically all claims against the bank were paid from the RFC loans in 1932, but it was said that some of the small creditors failed to file claims or call for their money.

Attorney Best declined to discuss the amount or quality of the bank's remaining assets which are held by the RFC. The stockholders' liability, he said, is a direct and primary obligation entirely apart from the question of collateral.

The Midway bank was organized on April 26, 1926. The first RFC loan was $88,075 on May 14, 1932. A supplemental advance of $1,700 was made on June 16, 1932. Remaining principal and interest on the former is $71,558 and on the latter is $1,893.

Some of Directors.

Directors of the bank shortly before it closed included Augustus E. Olson, Charles F. Axelson, Dr. R. K. Packard, Percy E. Wagner, Jacob Siegel, and A. S. Irvine.

The Wagner family holds 950 of the 3,000 shares of $100 par value—550 by Emma L. Wagner and 177 by Percy E. Wagner, head of the bank. Other large stockholders include William Kremer, 305 shares, and Edward Jackson, 100 shares.

The suit is similar to that filed recently against stockholders of the Central Republic Trust company. The defense to be made in the latter case by larger stockholders has not been revealed, but many of the smaller holders are enlisting with the defense committee. R. N. Ballou, secretary, reported that more than 100 persons with holdings of 1 to 25 shares have indicated that they will join the committee.

Treasury Bills Are Sold at 0.20 Pct. Discount Rate

Subscriptions totaling $302,273,000 were received for the treasury's latest offering of 182 day bills, dated Dec. 12. Bids amounting to $75,079,000 were accepted. Prices averaged 99.9 per cent, equal to a rate of 0.20 per cent annually on a bank discount basis.

MONEY CIRCULATION HIGHEST IN YEAR, DUE TO BUSINESS UPTURN

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Reflecting the increased demand for money in the business revival, currency circulation at the end of November was $5,548,797,000, a new high level since the end of December, 1933, and a gain of $95,000,000 in November. Circulation a year before, however, had been $5,742,492,000.

The decline in months subsequent to Nov. 30, 1933, was traceable to a return of money from hoarding. Confidence in the banking structure was renewed about that time.

It is believed that the November circulation gain and some additional increases expected until the last shopping day before Christmas reflect an actual demand for money for legitimate purposes. Circulation at the present pace should pass the $5,700,000,000 mark before Christmas.

The per capita circulation of money Nov. 30 was $43.78 compared with $43.05 Oct. 31 and $45.58 Nov. 30, 1933. The latest figure was based on an estimated population of 126,730,000.

Money stocks of the country at the end of November reached an all time high, $14,105,345,000, this resulting from gold imports, purchases of other gold and printing of paper money. This compared with $13,919,395,000 on Oct. 31, and $10,090,318,000 Nov. 30, 1933. The treasury's circulation statement gave $133,110,000 in gold certificates still outstanding.

NOVEMBER AUTO OUTPUT IS 60 PCT. ABOVE YEAR AGO

New York, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Automobile production in the United States and Canada for November showed some decrease from the previous month, but was 60 per cent larger than in November, 1933, according to figures announced today by the Automobile Manufacturers' association.

The total output was 76,798 cars and trucks, against 94,003 in October and 47,418 in November last year.

For the eleven months ended Nov. 30 production came to 1,926,441 units, against 1,451,729 in the same period last year.

November sales of new passenger automobiles were estimated by R. L. Polk & Co. to have totaled 105,000 units, compared with 140,880 in October and 94,145 in November, 1933.

Steel's Trade Shows Contra Seasonal Gain

Contra-seasonal improvement in November business was reported yesterday by the United States Steel corporation. At the same time the American Iron and Steel institute anonunced a rise in this week's operations for the entire industry, marking the eighth consecutive weekly upturn.

Shipments of United States Steel for November were 22,157 tons larger than in October, when a loss of 26,334 tons from the preceding month was recorded. Total business aggregated 366,119 tons, against 343,261 in November last year.

Regarded as Favorable.

The gain was viewed with particular cheer in business circles, as November usually witnesses some falling off from October. The month also contained one less working day exclusive of Thanksgiving day. The abnormal advance brought shipments the closest to 1933 volume since June.

For the first eleven months of the year the corporation's shipments amounted to 5,507,243 tons, against 5,160,313 tons in the corresponding period of 1933.

Plant Operation Figures.

Operating ratio is placed at 32.7 per cent of capacity, against 28.8 per cent last week, 27.3 a month ago, and 31.5 a year ago. The gain over last week is 3.9 points, or 13.5 per cent.

For the last two months production trends have been steadily upward. The lowest level of activity this year was 18.4 per cent, during the first week in September.

Insurance Firm Expects Record Premium Income

Premium income of the American Motorists Insurance company this year will exceed that of any other year in the company's history, James S. Kemper, president, predicted yesterday. He reported that premium income for the first nine months of the year at $3,580,396 was larger than for all of 1933, and was 25 per cent above the corresponding period of last year. He also announced the declaration of the 2 per cent quarterly dividend on the capital stock, payable Jan. 1 to stock of record Dec. 24.

Few Changes Proposed in Banking Laws

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—(AP)—A "minimum" of banking legislation, Secretary Morgenthau reported today, will be suggested to the new congress.

His statement, made at a press conference, was generally interpreted as promising another step toward the business-banking-government coöperation proposed by President Roosevelt in his speech to the American Bankers association. It also was in line with results of a recent questionnaire conducted by Chairman Fletcher of the senate banking committee in which bankers reported that new legislation of drastic character was undesirable.

Banking Bill Planned.

"So far as I am concerned, the less the better," was the way Morgenthau put it.

He added there will be a banking bill, and that any legislation dealing with a uniform examination system will be included in that measure.

Many problems and plans are being studied in administration circles, among them the idea of merging bank examining activities of the controler of the currency and the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation.

Although no specific piece of legislation has been finally agreed upon, there have been definite indications that attempts will be made to make permanent the present $5,000 limit on insurance of bank deposits.

90 Per Cent of Depositors Covered.

Leo T. Crowley, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, has pointed out that the $5,000 covers more than 90 per cent of the depositors although concededly less than 90 per cent of the amount on deposit.

He also has said it would be helpful if the FDIC could help banks which were in difficulties, before they failed; if "adequate" capital structure were a requisite to FDIC membership; if the FDIC had more flexible powers; and if banks which belonged to the FDIC could reckon on having to pay annual fixed premiums for the memberships.

Morgenthau said that a report of Dr. Jacob Viner, a special expert who studied credit extensions by banks in the Chicago federal reserve district, and others subjects on banking and taxation, had been delivered and was being digested by treasury experts.

NOVEMBER GOLD IMPORTS BIGGEST SINCE MARCH

Wasington, D. C., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—November imports of gold jumped to $121,199,000, the largest total for any month since March. It compared with $13,018,000 in October and $1,894,000 in November of last year.

The month's export's of gold declined to $310,000, the smallest since July. This compared with $2,173,000 in October and $2,957,000 in November a year ago. In the first eleven months thte United States gained $1,040,000 of gold.

Receipts of silver at the treasury under the executive order providing for the purchase of the newly mined product amounted to 19,315,000 fine ounces through Dec. 7, Secretary Morgenthau announced. For the week ended Dec. 7 receipts were 487,693 fine ounces.

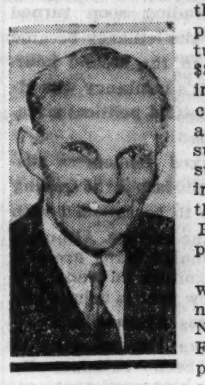
Under the nationalization proclamation of Aug. 9 the treasury has received 109,862,532 fine ounces of silver, while for the week ended Dec. 7 receipts of this character were 292,358 ounces, of which 211,088 ounces were received at New York.

Treasury receipts of gold for the week ended Dec. 7 were $30,170,460 from import, $1,375,845 in scrap or secondary gold, and $2,232,041 newly mined domestic. Of the imports, $29,900,000 came through New York.

FORD TO SPEND 8 MILLION MORE ON NEW PLANTS

Boosts Expansion to Twenty Millions.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Henry Ford today boosted his ante in the belief that prosperity will return in 1935 by $8,000,000 in plant investments, according to an announcement issued today. That sum will be spent in expansion of the thousand acre River Rouge plant.



HENRY FORD.

Coincidental with Ford's announcement on Nov. 1 that the Ford Motor company would turn out "a million cars or better" in 1935, he said that substantial investments in steel mills and power units would be made. Contracts totaling nearly $12,000,000 covering that program have already been let and trainloads of material are coming into the plant daily.

Will Spend 20 Millions.

This means that a total of approximately $20,000,000 will have been spent within a period of 10 months. It is believed that contracts covering the entire expenditure, including new equipment for the present steel rolling mills and other machinery, will be let within the next 90 days.

The announcement said that suppliers having plants throughout the eastern half of the United States are providing the materials and described the building program as "a drive to create employment by reviving industry."

The new units under construction are the steel finishing plants, which will cost $3,460,000; the hot steel strip mill, $6,111,923; the stripper building for handling ingots, $230,000; new steam and electrical units for the power house, $4,599,888; new blast furnaces and foundry equipments, $2,120,460, and additional equipment made necessary by the shift from 24 hours to 16 hours' daily production involving expenditure of $3,144,250.

Over 11 Millions Awarded.

The total cost will be $19,666,521, of which contracts calling for $11,742,609 have been let.

In addition to the $20,000,000 plant investments, the company will spend $415,000,000 among 6,008 suppliers for automobile parts and materials, if Ford's million car production figure for 1935 eventuates.

The company, according to the balance sheet filed with the Massachusetts commissioner of corporations, showed a profit and loss surplus of $576,517,079 on Dec. 31, 1933.

Court Names 3 Trustees for Studebaker Corp.

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Appointment of Paul G. Hoffman, Harold S. Vance, and A. G. Bean as trustees in charge of the properties of the Studebaker Corporation of America until the final plan of reorganization is in operation, was approved today by Federal Judge Thomas W. Slick at a hearing to permit creditors to raise objections to the appointment. None were raised.

STOCKS MOSTLY LOWER; MOVE IN NARROW RANGE

Better Showing Is Made by Utilities.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 10.—The stock market moved in a narrow range today and with the exception of the utilities and a few other strong spots the trend of prices was moderately lower. The market gave promise of accomplishing something during the day when a number of issues changed hands in fairly large volume at the opening with prices irregular. The trading soon turned dull, however, and the lethargy became more pronounced in the second hour. Some of the market's hesitancy was attributed to the unsettled political situation in the Balkans.

Despite the mixed tendencies displayed by most of the issues the trading fraternity appears to be satisfied with the undertone of the market. Although not much time remains many are still hoping that a vigorous advance will occur before the new year is ushered in.

Trade Figures Favorable.

Statistics showing improvement in business have been satisfactorily digested by traders and sentiment continues to be bullish, although a tendency is apparent to wait and see if business is really going ahead as fast as prices seem to indicate.

A feature of today's market was American Can, which at one time during the session attained its best level since 1931 on a rumor that an extra dividend will soon be announced. Another issue that also reacted smartly to gossip of an extra dividend was United States Smelting, which chalked up a gain of 3⅛ points.

The better feeling toward the utilities which gave a good performance throughout the session was attributed to the belief in many quarters that tonight's speech by the head of the federal power commission will be in their favor. These shares were in moderate demand and at the finish American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, Public Service of New Jersey, and several others showed fractional gains. The industrials were inclined to find lower levels.

Hahn Preferred Climbs.

One of the strong spots in the list was Hahn Department Store preferred which crossed its previous high ground of the year with a gain of more than three points, and lifted its advance of the last week to more than fourteen points. Another strong merchandising issue was R. H. Macy which boosted its price almost a point despite the start of the New York City sales tax.

The rails, motors, foods, and chemicals were the victims of mixed and narrow movements, while fractionally lower prices were the rule for the oils and tobaccos.

The alcohol shares, invigorated by the cold weather, were in good demand, with United States Industrial Alcohol, National Distillers, and American Commercial Alcohol advancing fractionally.

NEW REGISTERED SECURITIES RISE TO 557 MILLIONS

New York, Dec. 10.—[Special.]—New securities with total gross proceeds of $29,466,475, representing sixteen issues registered by thirteen companies, became effective during October under the securities act of 1933, bringing the grand total since Jan. 1, 1934, to $557,960,999. These represented 350 issues registered through 288 statements.

In addition, there were nine reorganization and exchange registrations of which five called for $5,669,100 of securities, and four offered $4,538,089 of securities in exchange for temporary certificates.

After deduction of $34,275,640 to be received from issuance of securities in the future, $4,705,148 registered "for the account of others," $62,019,107 issued for other than cash considerations, and $42,816,332 selling and distributing expenses, the net cash proceeds to the issuers, according to estimates, were $414,144,772.

During October utilities accounted for 68.2 per cent of total gross proceeds, represented entirely by the Edison Electric Illuminating company of Boston notes to the amount of $20,100,000.

PRICES OF COTTON FUTURES HOLD WITHIN NARROW RANGE

Cotton prices held within narrow limits yesterday and while there was fairly liberal selling at times it was absorbed by the trade and by commission houses. The finish was unchanged to 4 points higher in Chicago and 2 points lower to 5 points higher in other markets.

According to a report from New Orleans it was understood an agreement had been reached with large spot houses holding 250,000 bales of pool certificates under which they will turn in their certificates to the pool and receive actual cotton as needed. Other holders are expected to be asked to enter into a similar agreement.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to 5 points higher with New York and New Orleans, 12.75 cents and Galveston and Houston 12.70 cents per pound. Prices follow:

EGG PRICES DIP ⅛ CENT; BUTTER STEADY TO LOWER

Egg futures weakened early on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday, but rallied later closing ⅛ cent per dozen lower. Butter was unchanged to ⅛ cent per pound lower.

Eggs sold off at the start under the influence of continued bearish news. The movement of storage eggs last week totaled 135,000 cases less than last year in ten cities. The daily four market movement was off 12,000 cases. However, Chicago showed a fairly heavy movement and the prospects of continued cold weather induced new buying and covering in the last half hour.

Butter was quiet. Withdrawals continued bullish, ten cities last week moving out 5,000,000 pounds more than last year. The daily movement was 200,000 pounds greater than last year. Lack of leadership is apparent in the butter market at this time.

Sales: Butter, 82 cars; eggs, 165 cars. Deliveries: Eggs, 4 cars. Prices follow:

KUHN-LOEB SUED OVER REPUBLIC BOND ISSUE FEE

Take Action to Prevent "Stock Manipulation."

New York, Dec. 10.—[Special.]—An injunction suit to restrain the Republic Steel corporation from paying to Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and Field, Glore & Co. 50,000 shares of common stock of the company for floating a $24,000,000 bond issue of a proposed steel merger was filed today in Supreme court by Norman C. Norman, owner of 200 shares of common stock.

The plaintif contends that 50,000 shares are a fee out of proportion to the value of the services rendered by the bankers in the proposed merger of the Republic corporation with the Corrigan-McKinney Steel company and the Truscon Steel company into a new corporation to be shown as the Republic Steel corporation. The new company is to have a capital of 3,977,242 shares valued at $95,720,335.

Fears Stock Manipulation.

Norman states that he is "apprehensive that the bankers and their associates will use the said 50,000 shares of stock as a nucleus for the purpose of manipulating the price of the stock, buying it back with the proceeds and boosting the price for unloading on the public." He alleges that by the payment of 50,000 shares of stock to the bankers as a fee the manipulation of the market price is simplified and does not come under the practice of manipulation and pooling agreements of the recently enacted federal laws."

The injunction petition states that on Aug. 27 last, when the banking firms had been engaged to assist in the merger, 50,000 shares of Republic stock were valued at $750,000. It asserts that the balance sheet of the Republic Steel corporation indicates "a value of approximately $2,500,000."

Bankers Criticized Again.

Kuhn, Loeb also came under fire for its conduct of the financial affairs of the Missouri Pacific railroad.

The fire was directed by a committee of independent bondholders headed by Prof. Charles A. Beard, political economist and historian, and including in its membership Matthew Josephson, economist and author of "Robber Barons," and James B. Murray, vice president of the Amalgamated bank.

An investigation of the affairs of the Missouri Pacific by the interstate commerce commission is essential, the committee told bondholders in a letter.

It stated also that after investigation legal action should be taken to force restitution of millions of dollars.

The proposed suits are similar to those authorized last week by Federal Judge Coxe against the bankers and board of directors of the Paramount-Publix corporation. Kuhn, Loeb are the bankers for that corporation also.

GOODRICH ASKS REVIEW OF LABOR BOARD'S ORDER

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 10.—(AP)—The B. F. Goodrich company of Akron today asked the sixth district U. S. Circuit court of Appeals here to review an amended order of the national labor relations board involving an election of Goodrich employés to determine their representatives in negotiations with their employers.

The company, and the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, previously had asked the court to review and set aside an order of the board setting an election for Dec. 7. Amending its order Dec. 6 as the result of the attacks, the national labor relations board requested the companies to furnish Ralph Lind, regional director at Cleveland, with copies of their pay rolls and to hold such an election. The amended order continued that if the companies refused to comply, an election was to be held seven days after the court here passed upon the first order.

Similar petitions for review were filed later by W. P. Belden in behalf of the Firestone Tire and Rubber company; Robert Guinther, for the Goodrich employé coöperative plan; and by Joseph Thomas, in behalf of the employers' conference plan of the Firestone company.

SLOAN TO SPEAK BEFORE ILLINOIS MANUFACTURERS

Problems of business recovery and of the relationship of employer and employé will be discussed by Alfred P. Sloan Jr., president of General Motors corporation, at the annual dinner of the Illinois Manufacturers' association in the Stevens hotel tonight. More than 1,500 civic, industrial, commercial and financial leaders from all parts of the country will attend.

The closed shop, collective bargaining, the 30 hour week, the increasing tax burden, and other industrial questions will be among the subjects Mr. Sloan will discuss. Prof. Walter B. Pitkin of New York, educator and author, will speak on "The Chance of a Lifetime."

State officials of Illinois and other states, heads of other state manufacturers' association, and other leaders in the field of trade and public service have made reservations.

Schneider to Manage Bank's Personal Loan Department

Appointment of Bernard J. Schneider as manager of its personal loan department is announced by the District National bank. The department is designed to assist employed persons. Mr. Schneider has had many years' experience in personal loan work. The District National claims the distinction of leading all Cook county banks in the number of loans made to home owners under provisions of the National Housing act.

Chicago & W. Indiana Line to Retire Notes.

Public offering of $6,100,000 Chicago and Western Indiana Railroad company first and refunding mortgage 5½ per cent bonds, series A, due Sept. 1, 1962, will be made today at 102½ and accrued interest to date of delivery to yield 5.34 per cent to maturity. The offer is being made by a banking group headed by Brown, Harriman & Co., Inc. and Edward B. Smith & Co. and includes Kidder, Peabody & Co., Field, Glore & Co., and Lee Higginson corporation.

The proceeds from the sale of the bonds will be used to retire $5,824,000 of 15 year 6 per cent notes payable to the government in connection with a loan under the transportation act to repay 237,000 of short term indebtedness to banks which will mature soon, and for other corporate purposes.

Controls 596 Miles of Track.

Operating one of the most extensive and complete systems of railroad terminals in the country, including passenger and freight termials, the road controls 596 miles of track. Of this it operates 179 miles itself and leases 366 miles to the Belt Railway Company of Chicago.

All the capital stock of the C. & W. I. is owned jointly by five railroads—the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, Chicago and Erie, Monon, Grand Trunk Western, and Wabash, which use the terminal properties for freight and passenger business in the Chicago district.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe uses a portion of the C. & W. I.'s tracks and the station for its Chicago passenger business under a long term annual rental of $70,000, plus a proportionate share of expenses, taxes, and improvements on the property, and it pays an additional rental of $15,000 a year for certain improvements on the Dearborn station.

50 Year Lease to Belt Line.

The Belt line operates under a 50 year lease to the C. & W. I. which expires Sept. 1, 1962. It is owned by 13 roads which in addition to the five foregoing are: Santa Fe, Chesapeake and Ohio, Burlington, Rock Island, Illinois Central, Soo, Pennsylvania, and Pere Marquette.

It is stated that the first and refunding mortgage, under which the bonds are issued, is a first lien to the extent of $10,700,000 on two of the most important sections of the property.

Net income of the C. & W. I. for the 10 months ended Oct. 31 amounted to $289,744, after a special charge off of $102,536, as compared with $341,819 in the corresponding period of 1933.

OIL MEN PROPOSE TRADE REVISION IN NINE STATES

Recommendations that the marketing branch of the oil industries be restored to a normal basis in nine midwestern states were made yesterday at the concluding session of the oil marketers stabilization committee, meeting at the Blackstone hotel.

H. T. Ashton, chairman of the marketers committee, said it had been found that stabilization moves were possible at many individual points, but widespread or blanket stabilization would not be feasible.

Taking problems of each state individually, the commission suggested certain revisions for Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, and North and South Dakota.

It was recommended that markets be restored to a normal basis so far as kerosene, tractor distillate, and fuel oil are concerned in Iowa, Indiana, and Illinois; and on tractor distillate, and fuel oil only in Missouri and Kansas; on kerosene in Minnesota and South Dakota, and on tractor distillate and fuel oil except for three points in Minnesota and one in South Dakota.

Restoration of retail gasoline markets to normal, Ashton said, had been found possible at 302 points in Iowa, 371 in Illinois [Chicago excluded], 74 in Missouri, 64 in Kansas, and 97 in Minnesota.

POUND STRONG AGAINST DOLLAR; FRANC STEADY

New York, Dec. 10.—[Special.]—The pound sterling was slightly stronger against the dollar in foreign exchange markets today while the franc was unchanged.

The franc closed at 6.59 cents. Other gold bloc currencies weakened, all of them standing well below the gold shipping point.

At the closing quotation on the franc the dollar was worth 59.44 cents, based on the old par of the franc, while calculated on the new par of the franc the dollar was valued at $1.0064.

Belgas were unchanged at 23.36 [cents], Swiss francs were down 5 points at 23.36, and guilders remained at 67.61.

The price of bar gold in London declined 3½ pence to 140 shillings 4½ pence an ounce, equivalent to $34.75. Gold bars amounting to $1,123,934 were taken for unrevealed destinations.

Comparatively small shipments of gold continued to arrive in New York. Receipts of about $1,260,000 in gold bars, and additional amounts in dust being reported today.

First Day of New York Sales Tax Rouses Customers' Ire

New York, Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Taxation began dogging the footsteps of the man in the street today. New York City's 2 per cent sales relief tax went into effect on everything from cigars to yachts, excepting only food and prescribed medicines.

There was so much confusion that several big chain stores made no attempt to collect the sales tax for the time being. Hundreds of little stores apparently were making no attempt to collect.

In neighborhoods with a large foreign born population, customers simply refused to pay the tax in addition to the prices.

In the lower east side and along the Bowery every merchant interviewed said he would have to absorb the tax or lose his customers.

Feels Direct Results.

One chain store on the Bowery, collecting the tax under orders from its main office, made one shoe sale during the morning and lost three because customers would not pay the tax.

Without any guidance on specific debatable points, as to what is taxable and what is not, most stores simply laid down arbitrary rules to guide their employés, hoping for the best when the city tax collector reviews their actions.

All stores reported that business was being seriously delayed by the physical problem of stamping or writing the amount of the tax on sales checks, and by questions asked by customers.

One of the larger department stores in Manhattan reported that only about 10 per cent of its customers seemed to know about the tax and were prepared to pay it. The well informed customers paid without hesitation, but with some grumbling. The other 90 per cent demanded a full explanation from the clerks before paying.

At one five and ten cent store the manager admitted customers who bought a number of 10 cent articles were dodging the tax by purchasing them one at a time, the individual articles being within the 12 cent tax exempt limit.

Must Pay Anyway.

"What can we do about it?" he asked. "We can't follow customers around to see that they don't buy more than one article."

"Well, we can't either," said City Collector William Reid when he was told of the manager's complaint.

"But those stores will have to pay 2 per cent on their total sales, unless they can show complete records of their tax collections. Even if they do keep records, they will have to make up any deficit in the 2 per cent tax."

MORE COMPANIES TAKE FAVORABLE DIVIDEND ACTION

Favorable dividend actions were taken yesterday by several more corporations. A payment of $1.50 a share on accumulations was made by the General Tire and Rubber company on the 6 per cent preferred stock. The regular quarterly payment was also voted on the issue, both payable Dec. 31 to stock of record Dec. 20.

The Ferro Enamel corporation declared an extra of 5 cents a share in addition to the regular quarterly payment of 10 cents on the common stock. These are payable Dec. 22, to stock of record Dec. 14. Three months ago the company paid an extra of 10 cents a share.

Irving Air Chute company resumed payments on the common stock with the declaration of 10 cents a share, payable Dec. 31 to stock of record Dec. 15. The last previous payment was the regular quarterly disbursement of 10 cents a share on July 1, 1933.

The Singer Manufacturing company declared the usual $2.50 extra payment on the capital stock in addition to the regular quarterly disbursement of $1.50.

Briggs & Stratton corporation increased the dividend rate on the capital stock by declaring a quarterly payment of 50 cents, payable Dec. 31 to stock of record Dec. 20.

The Florsheim Shoe company declared two dividends of 25 cents a share on the class A common stock and two of 12½ cents on the class B stock, payable on Jan. 2 and April 1 to stockholders of record of Dec. 20 and April 20, respectively. This is a resumption of dividends on both issues.

A special cash dividend of $1.25 a share was voted by the Ainsworth Manufacturing company, payable on Dec. 27 to holders of record on Dec. 21. The last previous payment was a special dividend of 50 cents.

FORESEES JOINT PRICE FIXING BY TRADE AND LABOR

A joint oligarchy of business and labor is possible in the future, with the prospect that the public will be saddled with exorbitant fixed prices agreed on by the twin powers, Dean W. H. Spencer of the school of business at the University of Chicago said last night. Dean Spencer, who is chairman of the regional labor board, addressed the Chicago chapter of the American Statistical association at the Auditorium hotel.

"It is my opinion," he said, "that if we continue in the direction of large collectivistic business groups, the logic of self-organization of workers and collective bargaining is impossible. Business men, in discussing Section 7A, tremble with fear when they think of the oligarchy of labor which the government is sponsoring.

"I, too, tremble at such a prospect. I also tremble at the prospect of an oligarchy of business under the codes without Section 7A."

Rock Island Equipment Trust Committee Formed

New York, Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Formation of a committee for Chicago Rock Island, and Pacific railroad equipment trust certificates was announced today. The company recently announced that it would not meet certain equipment trust maturities. The group plans to communicate with Rock Island equipment trust holders soon. It will not ask for deposits at this time, but will ask authority to represent certificate holders.

Elect Former Budget Head to Am. Cyanamid Board

New York, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Lewis W. Douglas, who recently retired as director of the United States budget, has been elected a vice president and director of the American Cyanamid company, it was announced today. Douglas will take the place left vacant by the death of W. R. Cole.

SEEK LOWER RAIL RATE ON COAL TO PROTECT MINE

Coal mine operators in the Danville, Ill., district and dealers in Champaign and Urbana yesterday combined to support a proposal by Illinois railroads for the restoration of a rate of 60 cents a ton on coal transported between the two communities. Testifying before Examiner R. N. Trezise of the interstate commerce commission in a hearing at the Hotel Sherman, they warned that unless this rate is restored truck competition will destroy a good part of the business of the Danville mines.

Opposing the Illinois groups were coal operators from the district around Brazil, Ind. They insisted that maintenance of the present rate of 72 cents a ton is necessary to retention of their business in the Champaign-Urbana district. The 72 cents a ton rate was reduced to 60 cents for the thirty-six mile haul on Feb. 9, 1934, and was restored on Nov. 12.

In another hearing the Western Trunk Lines committee is seeking to retain the rate of 16 cents per 100 pounds on steel shipped between Chicago and lake ports in Wisconsin to compete with water carriers. They also asked steel freight rates based on mileage for intermediate points in Wisconsin where there is no water competition.

COURT DECIDES REALTY STATUS IN BANKRUPTCY

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday upheld a recent decision of Federal Judge John P. Barnes that the federal court assumes complete jurisdiction of all property belonging to persons filing bankruptcy under section 74 of the amended bankruptcy law regardless of whether a state court previously has assumed jurisdiction. The ruling was written by Judge Evan A. Evans and concurred in by Justices Samuel Alschuler and George T. Page.

It was rendered in connection with the bankruptcy suit of Miss Tillie Monsen, Miss Nellie Larson and Miss Tillie Pearson. They are owners of an apartment building at Elmwood avenue and Greenwood boulevard, Evanston.

A bankruptcy petition was filed in the federal court two months ago and Judge Barnes directed the receiver, Frank J. Munighan, to turn over the property to federal jurisdiction. The receiver refused and appealed Judge Barnes' order.

INSTRUMENT COMPANIES ARE CONSOLIDATED

Consolidation of the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company with the Brown Instrument company of Philadelphia was announced yesterday by H. W. Sweatt, vice president of the Minneapolis-Honeywell company. Stockholders of the Brown company will receive approximately 9,827 shares of the Minneapolis-Honeywell 6 per cent preferred stock and approximately 9,827 shares of common stock, he said.

The Brown Instrument company will continue as a separate company with the existing organization and Richard P. Brown as president. The Brown company manufactures controling and measuring instruments for high temperatures in the industrial field.

MEMBER BANKS EXPAND LENDING AND INVESTMENT

Combined Figures Grow 95 Millions.

Federal reserve member banks increased loans and investments sharply in the week ended Dec. 5 but reported a slight contraction in commercial credit. Total loans and investments gained $95,000,000 for the week, New York contributing a rise of $122,000,000, Chicago one of $11,000,000, and the other 89 cities covered by the report showing a drop of $38,000,000.

Security loans comprised the bulk of the upturn with a gain of $78,000,000, of which $73,000,000 was in New York. Chicago's account was unchanged, while interior banks had an increase of $5,000,000. Brokers' loans by New York banks rose $63,000,000, Chicago contributed a rise of $2,000,000, and other cities a gain of $2,000,000.

Other Collateral Loans Advance.

Other collateralized advances improved $11,000,000 on an upturn of $10,000,000 in New York, $2,000,000 in the interior, and a drop of $1,000,000 here.

Commercial acceptances gained $3,000,000 in Chicago but dropped $5,000,000 each in New York and the 89 cities, a net loss of $7,000,000. Real estate loans increased $1,000,000 each in New York and the interior but were unchanged here. Chicago banks expanded business credit $3,000,000, but this was offset by losses of $1,000,000 in the eastern city and $15,000,000 elsewhere.

The banks' holdings of direct government obligations rose $50,000,000 in New York and $2,000,000 here, although a loss of $32,000,000 in interior cities reduced the net upturn to $20,000,000. Fully guaranteed obligations gained $1,000,000 in New York and $9000,000 in the interior.

Gross Deposits Rise.

Gross deposits rose $76,000,000, government deposits increased $21,000,000, interbank deposits moved up $118,000,000, and individual deposits dropped $63,000,000.

New York had rises of $21,000,000 in gross, $5,000,000 in war loan account, $63,000,000 in interbank deposits and a loss of $47,000,000 in individual deposits. Respective changes for Chicago and the 89 cities were: Plus $7,000,000, unchanged, plus $12,000,000 and minus $5,000,000; and plus $48,000,000, plus $16,000,000, plus $43,000,000 and minus $11,000,000.

AM. TELEPHONE NET OPERATING INCOME LOWER

The American Telephone and Telegraph company yesterday reported that although gross operating income for October was larger than a year ago, net operating income for the month was lower.

Gross totaled $7,549,839, compared with $7,387,838 in October, 1933, while net amounted to $1,141,025, against $1,466,587. Ten months' gross was $74,659,423 and net $11,761,863, compared with $71,977,623 and $10,519,886 respectively.

The figures do not include non-operating income such as interest and rents.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK.—In the Matter of PARAMOUNT PUBLIX CORPORATION, Debtor. In Consolidated Proceedings for Reorganization of a Corporation. No. 56763. ORDER FOR HEARING ON FAIRNESS OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF STOCK DEPOSIT AGREEMENT

Upon reading and filing the petition, duly verified December 3, 1934, of Duncan A. Holmes, Barney Balaban, John P. Bickell, Gerald Brooks and Maurice Newton, as the Committee (hereinafter called the Committee) constituted under the Deposit Agreement dated as of January 27, 1933, and representing holders of shares of Common Stock of Paramount Publix Corporation, the Debtor hereinabove named, and the Court being fully advised in the premises, and good cause appearing therefor, it is

ORDERED as follows:

FIRST: That a hearing be held upon the fairness of the terms and conditions of said Deposit Agreement for the issuance of Certificates of Deposit thereunder and exchange thereof for certificates of Common Stock of the Debtor, at which all holders of certificates of Common Stock of the Debtor or of certificates of deposit therefor shall have the right to appear, in Room 235 of the United States Court Rooms and Post Office Building, corner of Broadway and Park Row, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on December 27, 1934, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard, said hearing to be held in conjunction with the hearing directed to be had at said time and place pursuant to the order entered herein, dated December 3, 1934, for, among other things, the proposal by the Debtor and consideration of the Plan of Reorganization mentioned therein.

SECOND: The Committee shall publish a copy of this order at least twice prior to the date of the hearing hereinabove directed in The New York Times, The New York Herald-Tribune, The New York Daily News-Record, The Chicago Tribune, The Los Angeles Times and The Montreal Star; and such publication shall be good and sufficient notice to all holders of certificates of Common Stock of the Debtor and of certificates of deposit therefor of said petition, of this order and of the hearing hereinabove directed.

THIRD: The Debtor shall, on or before December 10, 1934, mail or cause to be mailed a copy of this order, postage prepaid, to all holders of certificates of Common Stock of the Debtor and of certificates of deposit therefor, in so far as shall be made known to the Debtor, at the respective addresses of such holders as the same shall appear on the books of the Debtor or on such list as may be furnished to the Debtor by the Depositary under said Deposit Agreement, avoiding duplication of notice wherever feasible.

FOURTH: The hearing hereinabove ordered may be adjourned from time to time without further notice other than by announcement thereat or at any adjournment thereof.

FIFTH: The Committee shall maintain with The Commercial National Bank and Trust Company of New York, 56 Wall Street, New York, N. Y., the Depositary under said Deposit Agreement, a supply of copies of said Deposit Agreement and make the same available, upon application, to any of said holders of stock certificates or certificates of deposit.

Dated, December 3, 1934.

GRAIN PRICES MOVE NARROWLY IN DULL TRADE

Market Ignores Strength in Wheat Abroad.

Grains were listless on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. Price movements were confined to a narrow range and closing values were irregular, although generally tending downward. Much of the session saw prices below the previous close, while volume of trading fell sharply from last week's activity.

News developments contained practically nothing to influence a trend. Early relative strength in foreign wheat prices was ignored in the domestic market. Pressure was not particularly heavy, but buying power was insufficient to absorb what modest selling appeared. Weekly visible supply figures, announced shortly after noon, provided the day's only stimulant. The wheat total fell 1,750,000 bushels, while a decline of more than 3,000,000 bushels was shown in corn, an unusually heavy disappearance for this season. At this time last year a gain was recorded.

Corn Leads Late Rally.

Corn led the ensuing rally, with wheat and other cereals trailing behind. Closing prices on May futures of leading grains were:

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Week ago.
Wheat	$1.02¾	$1.03⅛	$ .99½
Corn	.90⅝	.90⅛	.90⅝
Oats	.53½	.53¾	.53½
Rye	.79¼	.79¼	.76⅞

Winnipeg eased ½ to ¾ cent, Liverpool sagged ⅝ to ⅞ cent, Rotterdam closed ⅝ cent higher to ⅞ cent lower, and Buenos Aires moved down fractionally.

Rumors that 50,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat may be exported to this country again were revived, but these had little effect marketwise in Winnipeg or Chicago. Neither did continued unsettlement in the Danube basin receive more than passing attention, although grain markets normally are supersensitive to war scares.

More Snow in Grain Belt.

Further light snows were reported from scattered points throughout the grain belt, but no heavy falls occurred. Temperatures were low, with near zero readings prevailing in many parts of the belt. No immediate change in the weather is forecast and heavy feeding requirements brought on by the cold are likely to remain.

Cash corn prices were easier with reference to futures, resulting from a very draggy demand. Industries, feeders and elevators are showing little interest at current high levels, except at reduced premiums.

The outlook for the growing wheat crop in the southwest is still serious, with irreparable damage already recorded. The Kansas Grain Dealers' association in a report yesterday covering 21 counties, which furnish a fourth of the state's total crop, said subsoil moisture is so lacking that a large part of the acreage seeded has either failed to come up, has already died or is still barely alive.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 10.—Prompt delivery has been requested on most of the recent purchases of wool in the Boston market. This has indicated to members of the trade that current business is very healthy, in that it is based upon requirements for immediate consumption.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was quiet today and in absence of business prices were unchanged with spots quoted from 2.97½c per lb up to 3.08½c. January was quoted at 2.60c. Refiners were believed ready to pay the 2.60c basis for Cubas for January melt, but none was offered below 2.65c, although a small quantity of Philippines for January use was available at 2.63c. There was little feature to futures and trading was small. Prices held with comparatively narrow limits, closing 3 points higher for the spot month and unchanged to 1 point higher on later deliveries. Sales, 3,750 tons.

Prices in cents per pound:

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 10.—(AP)—FLOUR—Prices were unchanged today. Carload lots of family patents were quoted at $7.55@7.75 a barrel in 98 pound cotton sacks. Shipments were 17,007 brls. Pure bran was quoted at $30.00@30.50 per ton and standard middling at $31.00@31.50.

HOG PRICES SAG; SUPPLY LARGEST IN SIX MONTHS

The largest hog receipts in six months broke prices only slightly yesterday. Arrivals here totaled 45,000, the biggest since June 4 and comparing with 30,009 for the previous Monday and an average of 30,700 for the last six Mondays. Today's run is stimated at 42,000.

Medium and weighty hogs were extremely scarce and held steady compared with Saturday, while lighter hogs, which made up the bulk of the supply, sold off mostly 10 cents.

Cattle receipts yesterday were the largest in four weeks and too heavy for the trade, which closed weak to unevenly lower after a few scattered sales had been made at a steady level. Calves dropped 25 to 50 cents under last week's final quotations.

Lambs of good quality held steady yesterday on the biggest Monday receipts since Oct. 29. All large interests paid $7.65 and city butchers paid up to $7.75 at the close.

LARD FUTURES CLOSE LOWER AS PROFIT TAKING DEVELOPS

Profit taking developed in provisions yesterday after an early bulge and in some quarters there was a belief that part of the selling of lard futures represented closing of spreads with corn. The action of the latter grain was followed quickly by lard, with the close on the latter at net losses of 2½ to 7½ points. Commission house buying on resting orders around the 12 cent level for May lard checked the decline. Domestic cash demand was reported as only fair and foreign inquiry slow.

Bellies finished unchanged to 2½ points lower with only a light trade. Cash lard was quoted at 11.60 cents; loose, 10:95 cents; leaf, 11 cents, and bellies, 14½ cents per pound. Prices follow:

Note—Above prices include processing tax of 2.47c per pound on lard and 2.62c per pound on bellies taxed on produce made since March. Tax is rebated on produce exported, but varies according to the amount, due to the fact that tax was gradually advanced to present level.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Cold weather has failed to have any effect on the egg market so far, and prices were unchanged to ¾c per dozen lower yesterday. Receipts, 1,794 cases. The butter market was somewhat unsettled, but prices were little changed. Receipts, 7,108 tubs. Potatoes were steady. Receipts, 44 cars, with 91 cars on team track. Live hens were steady to ½c lower and leghorn springs 1c per lb. lower. Receipts, 1 car and 30 trucks.

Every DeLEE GRADUATE Is EMPLOYED

Every day shop owners are offering good paying positions to DeLEE graduates. During the past few weeks we have had almost 6 times as many calls for operators as we have graduates.

Think what that means to YOU. It means that if you receive your beauty culture and hairdressing training at DeLEE under Mme. Louise you will qualify for one of these good paying, pleasant positions. It won't take long, either, because the DeLEE individual, personalized method of instruction makes learning easy. Come in today.

FAWTHAW, CHRISTMAS WILL BE HERE SOON, AND MOTHAW AND I HAVE DECIDED THAT WE'VE GOT TO KEEP OUR GIFT BUDGET DOWN THIS YEAR!
BY GOSH, THERE'S A RAFT OF STUFF UP IN TH' ATTIC WE NEVER USED! WHY NOT USE THEM FOR GIFTS?
I WENT OVER ALL TH' STUFF WE HAVE IN TH' ATTIC, AN' I THOUGHT THIS VASE WE GOT LAST YEAR WE COULD GIVE TO AUNT ANNIE!!
NO-SHE GAVE THAT TO US!!
NO FAWTHAW, THAT WON'T DO, EITHER!

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE DISTRICT OF MARYLAND—In the Matter of The Glenn L. Martin Company, a Maryland Corporation, Debtor. In Proceedings for the Reorganization of a Corporation. No. 8011.

To the Holders of Five-Year 6% Convertible Gold Notes of the Glenn L. Martin Company:

After hearing held in the District Court of the United States for the District of Maryland a decree was entered by said Court on December 7, 1934, approving the Plan of Reorganization filed in said Court by the undersigned Company, the said plan having been assented to by the holders of the above notes aggregating $2,622,000 in amount of a total principal amount outstanding of $2,803,500, and the said Plan of Reorganization and the Readjustment Plan dated as of October 20, 1934, referred to and incorporated therein have been declared operative by the company in pursuance of the provisions of said plan, and the aforesaid decree.

Holders of notes due November 1, 1934, are advised that the Court has extended the time for the filing of claims and the deposit of notes with Baltimore National Bank, depositary, until December 31, 1934, after which date no such claims, unless so filed, may participate or entitle the holders thereof to participate in the Plan of Reorganization except on order for cause shown.

All note holders, whether assenting to said plan or not are bound thereby and must, unless they have previously done so, file their claims and deposit their notes as directed in this and the previous notice of the company dated November 16, 1934, otherwise they will not receive the new notes as provided by said plan.

Noteholders who have already deposited their notes with the depositary may disregard this notice as to the filing of their claims and the depositing of their notes, this notice only applying to those noteholders who have not already so deposited.

As soon as the necessary details incident to the consummation of the plan are completed noteholders will be advised as to the forwarding of their deposit receipts to the depositary and the delivery of their new notes due November 1 1939, in exchange therefor, also as to the manner of securing the cash representing the November 1, 1934, coupons on the old notes.

Copies of said plan, transmittal letters and other documents may be obtained upon application to the undersigned.

THE GLENN L. MARTIN COMPANY, Debtor.
By GLENN L. MARTIN, President.
